

Turkey Clamps Down On Press In Stormy Meet

ANKARA, Turkey (AP)—Turkey's Parliament Thursday adopted a tough new press law providing prison sentences for newsmen and suspension for newspapers publishing "false news."

Approval of the measure came after a stormy all-night session interrupted by fist fights and a revolver skittering across the chamber floor.

The measure, which has two sections, was adopted on two votes, one 297-51 and the other 274-48.

The legislation, which is effective immediately, was proposed by Premier Adnan Menderes. He threatened in a series of speeches two months ago to adopt such a law because of mounting press criticism of his administration. Most of the criticism has centered on Turkey's difficult economic situation.

One clause provides prison sentences of one to three years on conviction of "publication of false news which could curtail the supply of consumer goods, or boost prices, or cause loss of respect and confidence toward authorities."

That clause also applies to public speeches.

Another clause provides prison terms for foreign correspondents who report "baseball or exaggerated news likely to shatter the prestige or influence of the government."

AFL-CIO Heads Plan Crackdown On Teamsters

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two key union groups faced a possible crackdown from AFL-CIO leaders today on charges of flouting rules of the merged labor federation.

One alleged rules violator is the Teamsters Union, biggest single AFL-CIO affiliate with about 1½ million members. The others is the 15-union big iron trades group, with more than three million members.

The complaint against the teamsters involves that union's continued alliance with the International Longshoremen's Assn., ousted from the former AFL on charges of criminal influences. Under AFL-CIO rules, member unions are barred from dealings with expelled unions.

At the urging of AFL-CIO President George Meany, the teamsters severa months ago dropped plans to extend the ILA a $400,000 loan, but teamsters union chief Dave Beck says his union and the ILA will continue to remain friendly and work out common problems.

Lower Columbia Dikes Holding

PORTLAND (AP)—Lower Columbia River dikes weathered the Thursday morning high tide and a choppy wind. The engineer in charge said "we will make it now."

The river, dropping a tenth of a foot a day in a long fall from its crest 12 feet above flood stage, was inspected Wednesday by Col. Jackson Graham, Portland district Army Engineer, and Gov. Elmo Smith of Oregon, by helicopter. Col. Graham said there still is potential danger of further flooding along the lower Columbia from Portland to the sea, but he added that "we will make it now."

The situation remained tense in British Columbia, where the flood crest of the Kootenay River was expected Thursday at Creston, B. C. The river could stay at or near the peak level from two to five days, keeping heavy pressure on sodden dikes—the principal hazard in the lower river, too.

The Kootenay River in Idaho continued to drop at Bonners Ferry, where thousands of acres were flooded earlier. The Army was to pull out the remainder of its heavy equipment Thursday and officials said the situation was in hand.

Sharon Frey Choice For Festival Queen

PORTLAND (AP)—A tall, dark haired beauty, Sharon Frey of Grant High School, was named Wednesday night to rule over Portland's 1956 Rose Festival.

The queen was selected and crowned as 15,149 watched the annual ceremonies at Multnomah Stadium. The weather was cool and dry as cloudy skies threatened but dropped no rain.

Queen Sharon, 17, was selected from among the eight princesses from the city's public high schools. She's the tallest of the court at 5 feet 7½ inches, and has gray-green eyes and fair skin.

The 48th annual festival gained momentum Thursday as visitors began arriving for the celebration. Queens from other states, including Carol Dudley, Sacramento's Camelia Queen, and Dorothy Steiner, Miss Florida Citrus of 1956, were among the festival guests. Seattle's Seafair queen, Beverly Kaye Smith, is due Friday.

Harry Cain Takes His Criticisms To Eisenhower

WASHINGTON (AP)—Harry P. Cain, a member of the Subversive Activities Control Board (SACB), takes his criticism of the administration's loyalty-security program directly to President Eisenhower Thursday.

Cain, former Republican senator from Washington, also has a date to testify before a Senate group next week.

The White House announced Wednesday that the Thursday afternoon appointment with Eisenhower was made at Cain's request. It comes in the wake of statements by Cain that he believed men around the President were keeping Eisenhower in the dark about the way the security program functions.

At his news conference two weeks ago Eisenhower was told Cain had declared he was stymied in trying to get his views to the President. Asked then whether he was willing to see Cain, Eisenhower said, "yes."

The Senate subcommittee on constitutional rights announced Thursday that Cain will testify next Tuesday on "administration of the security program." Hearings are expected to continue several days.

Klamath Woman Said Missing

A Klamath Falls woman has been reported missing, and her husband told Roseburg police officers Wednesday that she was last heard of in the Roseburg area.

Henry F. Davis said his son had received a letter from Mrs. Davis Tuesday postmarked Roseburg. In it Mrs. Davis said she planned to visit a local physician before continuing on to Portland. Mrs. Davis had left Klamath Falls several days earlier.

According to her husband, Mrs. Grace Davis is 50, stands 5 feet 10 inches and weighs 150 pounds. She has auburn hair and brown eyes.

Any person knowing of Mrs. Davis' whereabouts have been requested to notify the Roseburg police office.

Monster Sea Turtle Reported In Atlantic

CHATHAM, Mass. (AP)—There's a new "sea monster" loose in the North Atlantic.

The Liberian freighter Rhapsody last night reported the presence of a 45-foot, white-spotted sea turtle in the ocean south of Nova Scotia.

The Coast Guard warned all navigation to be on the alert for the giant reptile which, said the Coast Guard, has 15-foot long flippers and can rise eight feet above the surface of the sea.

Georgia-Pacific May Purchase Coos Bay Lumber

PORTLAND (AP)—The huge Georgia-Pacific Corp. is negotiating to purchase another large block of timber property in Oregon. The Oregonian reported Thursday.

The newspaper said Georgia-Pacific and the investment banking firm of Blyth and Co. are conducting talks in New York for purchase of the Coos Bay Lumber Co. in a 70 million dollar transaction. The Coos Bay firm controls more than three billion board feet of timber on the Oregon coast.

Purchase of this timber would bring the Georgia-Pacific holdings to more than 10 billion board feet in Oregon and California, the newspaper reported. The firm operates plywood plants in the Pacific Northwest and the South.

Blyth and Co. recently took an option to purchase lumber and shipping interests of Dant and Russell, Inc., including the Coos Bay Lumber Co.

Last week Portland newspapers reported that three steamship lines owned by Dant and Russell would be sold by Blyth and Co. to Jack R. Dant, who has headed shipping interests of Dant and Russell. The lines are States Steamship, Pacific Transport Lines, Inc., and Pacific-Atlantic Steamship Co.

Adlai And Estes Resting Today After Primary

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Adlai Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver rested today after their long Democratic presidential primary grind which ended Tuesday in Stevenson's smashing victory over Kefauver in California.

Stevenson, in front once more as a contender for his party's presidential nomination, planned to lead a bit at his Illinois home.

Kefauver—who has vowed to keep up his nomination fight—headed for two days of sunning at a southern California desert resort. His location was kept a secret.

The latest available ballot count from California's presidential primary—the last this year—gave Stevenson 1,041,393 votes to 625,030 for Kefauver. This was in 21,746 of the big state's 24,160 precincts.

President Eisenhower, unopposed on the Republican ballot in California, had 1,165,535 votes in California's primary.

Kefauver said he plans to "carry on a vigorous campaign in the various convention states," but many political observers regarded his nomination chances as slight in the wake of five straight primary defeats by Stevenson—in Alaska, the District of Columbia, Oregon, Florida and California.

Grand Jurors Hear Recordings

PORTLAND (AP)—The grand jury looking into charges of vice and efforts to control law enforcement here, apparently had some 70 hours of tape recordings to listen to as it pursued its inquiry Thursday.

The listening may have started Wednesday, for state police searched for hidden microphones and news reporters had some adjoining rooms.

Some of the recordings were turned over to authorities by The Oregonian after the newspaper published a series of articles telling of attempts by Seattle gamblers to control racketeers and influence law enforcement officials here. Others were seized in a raid.

Atty. Gen. Robert Y. Thornton is directing the inquiry under orders from Gov. Elmo Smith.

The Oregonian has said it obtained the recordings and other information from James B. Elkins, who testified before the grand jury Tuesday and Wednesday.

Other witnesses have included Raymond F. Clark, an employe of Elkins, and newspaper reporters William Lambert and Wallace Turner, who wrote the original vice articles.

Eisenhower Intervenes In Foreign Aid Debate that the mutual security program "will be seriously impaired" by the committee's cut of more than a billion dollars.

In the debate, Rep. Brook Hays (D-Ark) argued to fellow Democrats that they would be false to campaign pledges of "responsible government" if they failed to support the President on the issue.

Hays was handling the floor leadership for the attempt to add 600 million to the bill.

Eisenhower requested $4,900,000,000 and the House committee cut the request by $1,109,000,000.

'Mr. Universe' Sports Shiner From Wrestler

WASHINGTON (AP)—"Mr. Universe", sporting a shiner and limping, filed assault charges Thursday against a fellow muscle man who knocked him out Wednesday night in Mae West's dressing room.

Mickey Hargitay, Budapest-born weight lifter who came to the United States eight years ago, filed the charges against Chuck Krauser. Both are members of the Mae West troupe which is making a night club appearance in Washington.

Krauser pleaded self-defense. His lawyers said they would file a trial by jury when the case comes up June 28.

Miss West, garbed in a pink duster over full black slacks, sat in demure silence throughout a hearing before the charges were filed. She kept silent even when another muscle man in the act, George Eiferman, suggested Krauser "planted a tremendous haymaker on Mickey's head" because he is in love with Miss West and was defending her against abusive language by Hargitay.

Hargitay, 26, is a weight-lifter with a build that won him the "Mr. Universe" label in a competition at London last year. He recently has been seen often with Jayne Mansfield, New York stage actress with quite a physique of her own.

Miss Mansfield has said she's "that way" about muscular Mickey "because he's a sincere, sweet lovable guy and not because he has such an outstanding physique."

Hargitay is married, but his wife, Mary Hargitay, filed suit for divorce Monday in Indianapolis. Miss Mansfield also is seeking a divorce from her husband, Paul Mansfield, in California.

Krauser, 33, is a former wrestler who holds no title except what might be unofficially bestowed for being out "Mr. Universe" in, as witnesses described the fracas, three fast punches.

Both he and Hargitay call Hollywood home.

Eiferman, a 30-year-old Philadelphian was described as "Mr. America" of 1948.

Pelton Dam Held Not To Violate Laws Of Oregon

MADRAS (AP)—Pelton Dam construction is not a violation of Oregon law, the Jefferson County grand jury said in its report made public Thursday.

The grand jury said that "the district attorney of Jefferson County has presented for our consideration the matter of alleged violation of Oregon law by Portland General Electric Co. by reason of the construction of Pelton Dam project, and our opinion is that such construction by Portland General Electric is not a violation of Oregon law and we have not returned indictments."

Atty. Gen. Robert Y. Thornton issued an opinion some time ago in which he said PGE's failure to obtain a permit from the Oregon Hydroelectric Commission constituted a law violation and he asked Warren A. Albright, district attorney for Jefferson County, to look into it.

Colorado Representative Trades Vote For Canyon

Meanwhile, Rep. Pfost (D-Idaho), author of the House Hells Canyon measure, suggested that the federal Hells Canyon Dam and Aswan Dam in Egypt might be tied together in legislation.

Mrs. Pfost, in a House speech, chided the Eisenhower administration for favoring Aswan and opposing the proposed federal Hells Canyon Dam. She's a sponsor of a bill to authorize Hells Canyon's construction.

"Aswan dam is probably a good project," Mrs. Pfost said. "Aswan Dam, like Hells Canyon, provides for full potential development of water and power resources, however, Aswan Dam will cost about four times as much as the high Hells Canyon dam. . . and the two dams will produce about the same number of kilowatts of electric energy."

"The American taxpayer would be making an outright gift of a good part of the Aswan Dam costs—while on the other hand funds for the high Hells Canyon Dam are in the form of a loan that would be repaid to the federal treasury with interest. Yet we are told we can't afford the high Hells Canyon Dam."

"I believe in first things first. I think Hells Canyon Dam should come ahead of Aswan Dam."

"I think it is time for this administration to stop doubletalking and get the high Hells Canyon Dam under construction. In fact, if they really want the 'daily double' they can make authorization of Aswan title II of the Hells Canyon bill already written and reported by two subcommittees in this Congress."

"Any of you who share such sentiments and believe that what's good enough for the Nile River and Egypt is not too good for the Snake River and the United States are invited to join with me in furthering this enterprise."
