Medford, Corvallis Dated In Junior Legion Openers

The Roseburg American Junior Legion baseball team will perform twice before the home town crowd this weekend with two games booked for Friday and Saturday.

They open league play Friday night when they host the potent Medford crew in a game set for 8 p.m., and take on the Corvallis legion entry at the same time Saturday in an exhibition tussle.

Coach Bill Harper will have a veteran at every position, with practically the same lineup that advanced to the state Legion finals

Bobo Undergoes Medical Check

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Former middleweight champion Bobo Olson says he has no intentions of quitting the ring but the final decision awaits further medical tests.

Bobo was considered quite a rugged fellow until he succumbed to quick knockouts in title fights with light heavyweight titlist Archie Moore and middleweight Ray Robinson twice.

Olsen and his manager, Sid Flaherty, said tests this week indicated no damage to the 27-year-old fighter physically or neurologically. His brain is undamaged and no evidence of a so-called "glass jaw" was found.

Flaherty said, however, "there are going to be further exhaustive tests and even after that if favorable, I'll still decide only after seeing his reactions in gym workouts."

Bobo's last bout was May 18 in Los Angeles when he was kayoed in the fourth round while trying to win back his title from Robinson.

He scoffed at reports he planned to retire, saying:

"Since I've already been knocked out by the best, I think I'll stick around and give the worst of them a chance."

Seriously, he added:

"Actually there never was any thought about my hanging up the gloves for keeps unless complete physical examinations showed that quitting would be best for me. Sid Flaherty will be the final judge."

One of the worst drubbings of the year in softball circles was doled out last week, when the VA Employees pounded out 25 hits, along with 14 added errors, to smother the Vets All-Stars 33-4 in a Twilight softball encounter.

DURING the Thursday night mixed doubles at the Roseburg Bowling Alley, the diminutive Anita Nichols found the range for another of her numerous 600 series.

This time, it was a solid 604 as she found the range in her first outing, racking the maples for a sizzling 222, coming back in the second for a close to average 182 and busting loose again in the final, spilling the pins for another 200 on the nose, giving her a 604 total.

For a person who knows little about the game, a 600 series for a woman is comparison to a .400 hitter in baseball or an under-par shooter in golf.

But, when you take into consideration that Anita weighs but 90 pounds, while throwing a ball that weighs close to 20 pounds, then can you appreciate her numerous pin achievements.

Now Los Angeles knows how its victims feel—the Pacific Coast League leaders had the big inning turned on them by Sacramento and went down 8-2 Thursday night.

The powerful Angel batting which put them in first place and has kept them there fell short against the third-place Sacs, who broke a 2-2 tie with six runs in the fifth inning.

With two down, Felix Mantilla Jack Tobin's fly to center, George Risley doubled, Jake Crawford knocked a homer, and Nippy Jones put another right behind it.

Ferris Fain walked and came in with the sixth run on singles by Harry Bright and Jerry Streeter. Steve Bilko, the Angels' biggest gun, got a solo homer—his 24th—in the fourth.

Padres Stop Bevos
Portland fell short in a late rally and lost to San Diego 8-7, ending a victory run at eight. Tight seven-inning pitching by Seattle's Bud Podbielan gave the Rainiers a 3-1 win over San Francisco. Hollywood poured over Vancouver 9-12 and 6-2, the first on Lino Donoso's three-hitter and the second on a five-hitter by Curt Raydon.

At San Diego, Dick Sisler homered with two on in the third to give the Pads a 4-2 lead. Beaver starter Rene Valdes, an eight-game winner, went down in the fourth as Ebba St. Claire doubled, Harry Elliott got a homer, and in another, Reliefer Dick Fiedler walked in the Pads' eighth run in the fifth.

Mickelson Homers
The Beavers got one in the seventh. Mickelson's homer and Bill Werle's double.

For Valdes, Portland's starting pitcher, it was only the second loss of the season.

Portland trailed 8-2 going into the seventh. Bob Borkowski singled in one run in that inning, and in the eighth Mickelson hit a homer and Jim Baxes, Dick Young and Sam Calderone singled to cut the count to 8-3.

Werle came in as a pinch-hitter and cracked a double that left Portland only one run behind at 8-7.

Saves Game
Right fielder Bob Usher finally saved the game for San Diego. Bob Borkowski, Portland outfielder, slammed a drive to right-center that appeared headed for extra bases. Usher raced over and speared it with a leaping catch, then threw to double the runner off second base.

Portland moves to Hollywood for a game Friday night. San Francisco starter Jerry Casale went out in the fourth with a sore arm after giving Seattle its three runs on a string of singles in the second and third.

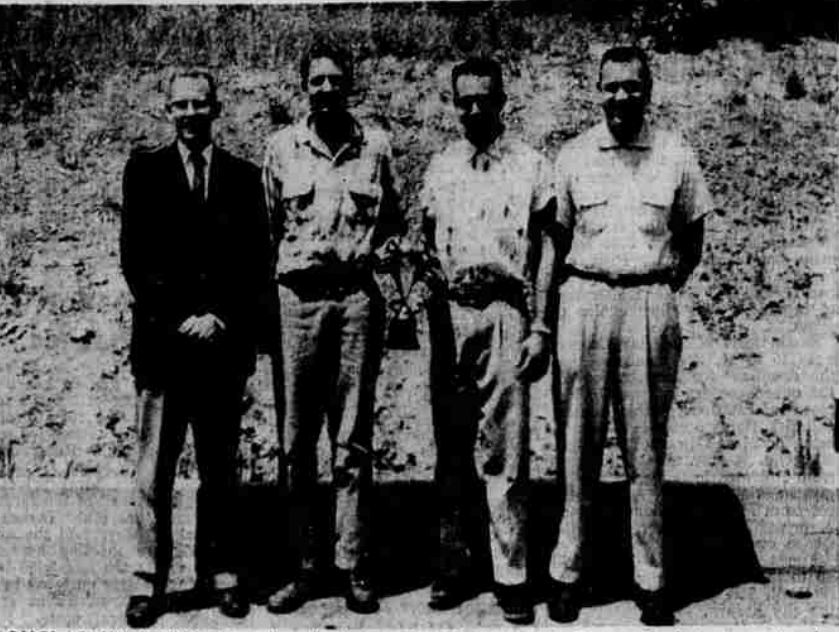

Hollywood's Gair Allie and Dick Smith banged homers to help Donoso in the opening game. Both pitchers were aided by Bill Mazeroski, who got four hits in seven times and Smith, who got four for five. The double loss left Vancouver 10 games behind the seventh-place Stars and 22 1/2 out of first.

Patterson, Jackson Set For Elimination Tussle

NEW YORK (AP)—Floyd Patterson, a graceful, precision puncher ticketed for fistic greatness, and Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson, an eccentric, unorthodox mauler, clash tonight in a 12-round elimination bout that will move the winner one step from the vacant heavyweight throne.

The 21-year old Patterson, grown into a 181-pound, six-footer, is a 2-1 favorite to whip the strong, tireless 6-2 1/2, 193-pound Jackson and go on to a title fight against light heavyweight champion Archie Moore in September.

California Chancellor Sees PCC Problem

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Pacific Coast Conference has periods of serious trouble because "it is difficult to develop a code that is fair to all schools when the schools differ too markedly in a number of respects."

Dr. Raymond B. Allen, chancellor at the University of California at Los Angeles, delineated this problem Friday in addressing the Commonwealth Club.

The differences, he said, involve variations in size, admission requirements and other factors resulting in "severe stresses and pressures."

Without referring directly to recent charges of subsidizing athletics at various conference schools, Allen conceded that the "stresses and pressures" threaten the integrity of the conference itself.

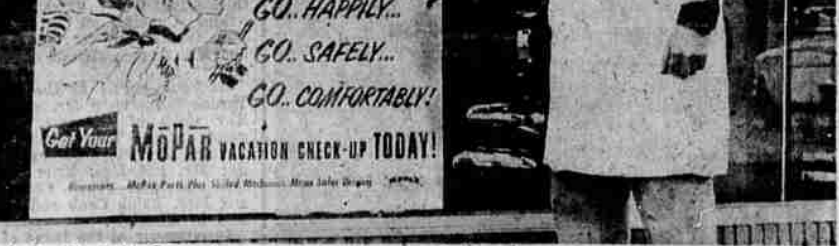

Professionalization of college athletics, he said, is not the issue. "We should recognize that the basic problem is this: How can an athlete meet his cost of living through a realistic work program? I think, for example, it is unrealistic to expect that during the competitive season athletes can keep up in their studies and their practice, play their games, and at the same time work a sufficient number of hours at jobs on or off campus to earn their way."

Any code, said Allen, which does not take into account the legitimate interests of alumni and booster organizations and "which does not make it possible for the institutions to work constructively with these groups, accepting full institutional responsibility for their activities," is not likely to be successful.

He said various alumni and booster organizations approached the conference a few years ago seeking a solution for the problem, but "unfortunately the approach was not successful. . . ." He did not elaborate.

The chancellor declared he is confident solutions can be found.
