

Kansas Village Conducts Contest For Whistlers

RICHLAND, Kan. (U) — This eastern Kansas village may have the whistlingest small fry in the country, thanks to Mrs. Georgia Neese Clark Gray, former treasurer of the United States.

Mrs. Gray, treasurer in the Truman administration, is Richland's first lady, only banker and announced opponent of gloom and long faces.

She likes the cheery sound of whistling. A while back she decided there wasn't enough of it, especially among the younger set.

So now every Saturday afternoon, when farm folks come to town for shopping and chit-chat, you can see a flock of youngsters strutting importantly up and down main street whistling their heads off.

A judge is posted along the route, and the two best whistlers get a silver dollar each from Mrs. Gray. The triumph also entitles them to compete for the grand championship at the Richland fair in August.

A different judge is named secretly each week.

"If the kids knew who he was," Mrs. Gray explained, "they'd whistle him dead."

Once a grizzled old-timer in his 70s, warbling like a meadowlark, hopped in on the kids. Reluctantly, Mrs. Gray ruled him out.

Practicing goes on sporadically all week.

"I just love to hear the sound of whistling," Mrs. Gray said. "Why be gloomy when you can be cheerful?"

County Sanitarian Baker At Chicago Conference

T. Claude Baker, head Douglas County sanitarian, was in attendance at the 20th national Educational Conference and Sanitation Products Exposition in Chicago last week.

The conference and exposition, sponsored by the National Assn. of Sanitarians, was held at the Morrison Hotel.

Baker joined several hundred sanitarians in federal, state and local health agencies and in private industry at the conference. He reported that the conference gave sanitarians an opportunity to learn new inspection techniques, new methods of education of food handlers and others serving the public, and permits sanitarians to gain helpful ideas for the community based on the actual experience of other sanitarians from other parts of the country.

Gold Bullion Seized In Raid Confiscated

PORTLAND (U) — Some $5,000 worth of gold bullion, seized here by Secret Service agents two years ago, Friday was ordered forfeited to the government by Federal Judge William G. East.

The gold was found in a hotel room when agents arrested Stephen G. Crippen, and Woodrow Wilson Atwood, both of Medford, Atwood, charged with possession in violation of the gold reserve act, pleaded guilty and was placed on probation for three years.

Crippen was acquitted as was Wilbur M. Walls, Southern Oregon hotel operator, who was accused of owning the bullion.

WINS JET RACE

NEW ORLEANS (U) — Maj. David F. McCallister, Wilmington, Del., apparently won the Sabre Jet race from Hamilton Air Force Base, Calif., to New Orleans Saturday in three hours, 30 minutes and eight seconds. Third, in the 1,922 mile flight was Maj. Leland Cranmer, Newark, N. J., three hours, 32 minutes 50 seconds.

Flame-Kissed Flavor Broiling... is broiling at its healthful, appetizing best! New Spring Showing gas ranges feature glide-out, swing-out, lever-adjust designs that eliminate stooping and peeking — help you get wanted results. Flexible, controllable gas flame lets you use all your cooking skill — produce steaks seared top-and-bottom, rare inside, or done evenly throughout. And with GAS you broil with the door closed; flame consumes smoke and food vapors without use of bothersome filters. This means cleaner, cooler, broiling.

AUTOMATION comes to cooking in many of the new GAS ranges, too.

You can cook in any pan with no scorching — no boil-over. Just set the gas burner at the right temperature. You cook by temperature chart, just as in the automatic oven. "Magic" controls keep food at the right temperature. Only GAS has the speed and flexibility to give necessary instant, automatic response... you're freed forever from pot-watching.

You'll be enchanted, too, when you inspect the new GAS ranges. See them now.
