Defendants Win Civil Suit Here

A civil action initiated in circuit court, Roseburg, by plaintiffs James E. and W. Patricia Decker has found the jury ruling for defendant Joseph Brant. All are Roseburg residents.

The Deckers had charged Brant sold them a log truck and trailer Sept. 24, 1954, allegedly free of obligations except for $203. They claimed the defendant did not tell them of a $1,283.03 mortgage held by Earl D. and Buelah Sader.

Defendant Brant had denied knowledge of the chattel mortgage and denied promise of free title or fraudulent intent.

The plaintiffs said they had paid the Saders $1,283.03 plus interest due on the mortgage on Nov. 10, 1955. They sought that sum as a first cause of action and $1,361.03 in the second cause. Had they recovered in the first cause, they sought a "double damage" action of $2,722.06.
