Duke, Duchess Arrive In London For Visit

LONDON — The Duke and Duchess of Windsor arrived today for their first visit to Britain together since 1933. There were expectations the British royal family's 20-year boycott on the divorcee duchess was about to end.

A double row of police held back about 100 women as the former King Edward VIII and the American-born woman for whom he abdicated arrived at Victoria Station from their home in France.

Shouts of "God bless the duchess" and "Don't go away again" greeted the couple.

Although the duke has said the trip is purely private, there have been persistent reports that the duchess would be received by Queen Elizabeth II, opening the door for the couple to live at least part of the time in Britain.

U. N. Observers Move Into Suez Canal Zone

may eventually total 10,000 men, had been expected to enter Egypt Tuesday to take up their duties of enforcing Middle East peace and watching over withdrawal of British, French and Israeli forces.

Hammarskjöld's announcement Monday that the Egyptians had agreed to admit the U.N. police was followed up Monday night by Egypt's Middle East news agency with a report of five conditions to which it said the secretary had agreed.

There was no immediate official comment from Britain on these conditions, but the British press labeled them "impossible."

Some of the British papers said the "Egyptian dictator" was acting as if he had won the two-day battle in which British and French forces seized the northern third of the Suez Canal.

Meanwhile Hammarskjöld arranged to fly to Cairo Tuesday and visit the Capodichino staging area, apparently to iron out any snags in the agreement.

The five conditions listed by the Egyptian news agency were that the international police would have no duties in the Canal Zone area after the withdrawal of British and French troops; that their work would then be confined to the 1949 armistice line between Israel and Egypt; that Egypt would determine what nationals serve on the force, where it will be stationed and how long it may stay.

French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau said the French-British forces would "remain in the Suez Canal area until they have been relieved by an international force in essential places." It appeared to be Pineau's answer to Egypt's conditions.

Democrats Asked To Bar Powell

WASHINGTON — Rep. Wayne L. Hays (D-Ore.) said today he will ask a pre-session Democratic House caucus to bar Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (D-N.Y.) from committee assignments as a Democrat.

Powell bolted the Stevenson-Kaufman presidential ticket and campaigned in behalf of President Eisenhower because, he said, he preferred Eisenhower's stand on racial integration. He said at the time he was still a Democrat.

The caucus, expected to meet Jan. 2, has the final say on organizational matters among Democratic House members, including committee assignments. Such assignments normally are made on the basis of seniority.

Powell now is a member of the Education-Labor and Interior-Insular Affairs committees. Should the Democrats deny him committee assignments, he could ask the Republicans to assign him.

Carl Hill of Douglas County is retiring president of the OGC and Ralph Petersen of Lane is in line to succeed him if normal advancement procedures are followed.

Fern Trull Speaks To Local BPW Club

The Roseburg Business and Professional Women's Club, at its 7 p.m. dinner meeting Monday night at the Roseburg Woman's Club, presented Miss Fern Trull, who spoke on the "Middle East Crisis."

The evening's program began with the Flag Salute, led by three members of Cub Scout Pack No. 53, followed by the invocation by the Rev. Newell Morgan. Diners were entertained by Gene Smith's accordion band.

President Ada Jane Dick introduced special guests, representative of various civic organizations and club officers. Frances Lintott, music chairman, introduced Mrs. Clifford Dumas, who sang "Sweet Song of Long Ago" and "Count Your Blessings," to a piano accompaniment by Mrs. Lintott.

V. Vivian Logsdon then introduced Miss Trull, an accepted authority on the subject of international relations, who is at present teaching U. S. history and drama at Grants Pass High School. A past state president of BPW, Miss Trull holds a BA degree from Whitman College, Walla Walla, Wash., an MA degree from the University of Oregon. She has also attended the University of Hawaii and American University, Washington, D. C. She is widely traveled in Europe and China, as well as the U.S., and is a member of several educational organizations.

Miss Trull spoke for an hour and a half, giving the background of the Arab nations and Israel, following each of the political developments of both and bringing her audience step by step to the present crisis. Miss Trull's concluding thought was that she deemed it significant that only the smaller nations are participating in the present police action, taking their rightful place in world affairs in deciding the larger issues, and are, in effect, making it a world UN instead of a Big Five UN.
