3 Americans At Bottom Of World Find Out They May Have To Move Camp

By DON GUY
MCMURDO SOUND, Antarctica (AP) — Eight Americans camped at the bottom of the world found Wednesday they would have to move. The snow vehicle they hoped would make travel easy broke down while their own breath grew short in the thin polar air and 25-below-zero cold. The party of Navy Seabees, landed by ski planes Tuesday to build a U.S. base at the South Pole, reported by radio that their survival tents were pitched eight miles away from the Pole. If they cannot repair their caterpillar-track wessel, they must trudge the distance through powdery, knee-deep snow. The men are the first ever to go to the two-mile high polar plateau to live for any period. Their mission is to build a base for U.S. scientists who will make observations during the sunless antarctic winter.

Four navigators — taking observations from the air — pinpointed the geographic Pole at the place where the Seabees disembarked from two C47 transports. But from the ground Navy Lt. Richard A. Bowers of Harrisburg, Pa., took sun sights with a theodolite at six-hour intervals to locate the Pole more accurately. Bowers, leader of the expedition, reported back to this base on the antarctic coast: "Still at original camp. Weasel down for batteries and cracked transmission cage and gear lube. Can go via dog team to Pole, located 8 miles from base but only with limited supplies for survival only. "Require wessel parts . . . will wait here. "Men affected by altitude, and snow bothersome. No wheeled aircraft could use area."

A big Globemaster transport plane took off immediately on the eight-hour trip to the Pole with parts for the wessel. They were to be dropped by parachute. Tree Near Reedsport Falls, Cutting Service PORTLAND (AP) — It took several hours late Tuesday to completely restore power service in several coastal areas after a falling tree near the Reedsport substation knocked down a 12,000-volt feeder line. Bonneville Administration officials said the power disruption at 1:30 p. m. extended as far as Winchester Bay. Service was restored at about 3 p. m. to the Reedsport-Gardiner area, served by the Lincoln County PUD. It was about an hour after that that electricity was flowing again to the Umpqua-Smith river sector, served by the Douglas County Electric Co-op.

Ashland Pair Injured In Wreck Near Riddle An Ashland couple was taken to Forest Glen Hospital, Canyonville, at 9 a. m. today following an accident on U. S. Highway 99 according to Mrs. Erma Best, Riddle, correspondent for the News-Review. Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Davis were en route to visit their son, an Oregon State College music instructor at Corvallis, when their car hit an icy spot on the highway and left the pavement, Mrs. Best said. The Davises had to be removed by stretcher and carried across a creek to the ambulance.

The mighty blast of 560,000 pounds of explosives was touched off on the western shore of the Great Salt Lake yesterday to provide rock for a Southern Pacific railroad causeway across the lake.

Every Bit Of Oregon Farm Land Said Necessary PORTLAND (AP) — Every bit of Oregon farm land will be needed eventually to feed the increasing population in the state, agriculture director said Tuesday. James E. Short, speaking at a Kiwanis Club farm program, said the current farm surpluses are only temporary and the situation will be reversed in the future. He said Oregon's farms create 400 million dollars annually in new wealth, and credited crop diversity and good yields for keeping the state farm economy in a healthy condition.

Syria Asks Action To Halt Threat

Claim Made Troops Mass Along Border

By MAX HARRELSON
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Syria called for urgent U. N. action Wednesday to halt what it described as a threat of aggression from Israeli, British and French forces reportedly massing along the borders of Syria and Jordan. Interrupting a debate on the Hungarian situation, Syrian delegate Farid Zinneidine read a message to the 79-nation General Assembly from his government reporting the troop concentrations and calling for immediate U. N. action. Zinneidine did not elaborate on his remarks about the presence of British and French forces in Israel. A British spokesman immediately called newsmen together and denied that any British forces were in Israel. Zinneidine also charged that British, French and Israeli planes had been flying over Syrian territory for some days and that, in some cases, they had encountered with Syrian aircraft. The Syrian delegate spoke shortly after Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold had handed a report to the Assembly asking for broad powers to arrange with Egypt the details on the deployment of the Middle East police force. The secretary general said he (Continued on Page 2 Col. 4)

Molotov Returned To High Position On Kremlin Staff

LONDON (AP) — Soviet Deputy Prime Minister V. M. Molotov was appointed minister of state control Wednesday night in what appeared to be a victory for the Stalinists in the Kremlin power struggle. Moscow Radio indicated Molotov, an oldtime Stalinist, retained his office as a first deputy premier. He is a former foreign minister. His new post gave him extensive control over a wide range of Soviet activities. The dead dictator Joseph Stalin was minister of state control for three years before he took over as supreme boss of the Soviet Union in 1922. Moscow Radio said Molotov was relieved V. G. Zhavoronkov in the control ministry. In recent years the holder of the post has held relatively little prestige in the Kremlin hierarchy and Zhavoronkov is almost unknown to the outside world. But the fact that the post has such wide paper powers and was given to a man presumably retaining the title of first deputy premier was viewed here as indicating a big step up for the pro-Stalinist former foreign minister. Molotov left the Foreign Ministry this year just before the Moscow visit of Yugoslav President Tito, the first of the rebels against Stalin-line communism. "Tito only last week publicly disclosed a rift between Stalinists in the Kremlin and the 'soft' faction led by Nikita Khrushchev, Party. Tuesday a report reached British diplomats indicating far-reaching changes were imminent in the Kremlin hierarchy. Molotov's new post was the first clear indication that the Stalinist faction was gaining in strength. The majority view among diplomats here was that Molotov was back in a position of real power. The revolt in Hungary, developments in Poland and restlessness in other areas of the Soviet sphere had led to speculation that the Stalinists would move back into the spotlight.

Federal Action Planned To Halt Waterfront Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — The government planned to go into federal court here Wednesday in an effort to eliminate one major issue in the 20-million-dollar-a-day Atlantic and Gulf Coast dock strike. Officials said in Washington the National Labor Relations Board will seek a temporary restraining order to bar the strikers from insisting on a coast-wide or multiple port contract. However, the strikers could obey such an injunction and still continue the walkout on economic issues. The crippling tieup threatened to spread to the Pacific Coast. West Coast longshoremen were working but there were indications they had voted overwhelmingly to strike in support of the six-day-old East and Gulf coast strike being waged by the International Longshoremen's Assn. (ILA). The West Coast strike vote was by Harry Bridges' International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union (ILWU), which has 48,000 members on the coast. Of (Continued on Page 2 Col. 2)

Army Camp Set To Welcome 62 Hungarians

CAMP KILMER, N.J. (AP) — This sprawling Army camp is ready to extend a warm welcome to this eve of Thanksgiving to 62 Hungarian refugees from Soviet terror. Posted over its gates is a huge sign in Hungarian reading "God has brought you." The refugees were expected to arrive at McGuire Air Force Base today aboard a four-engine DC4 chartered from the Flying Tiger Airlines by the Intergovernmental Committee for European Migration. They are the first of 5,000 to come under orders of President Eisenhower. Four other planeloads are expected Thanksgiving Day and Friday. Rep. Francis Walter (D-Pa.), co-author of the McCarran-Walter Immigration Act, said in an interview in Vienna Tuesday that America should admit 17,000 Hungarians, not just 5,000. "I don't know where that 5,000 figure came from," he said. "My information is that as many as 17,000 could legally be admitted as 'escapees' — and they should be." In Austria, meanwhile, the flight of refugees across the border from Hungary continued at the rate of more than 3,500 a day — three or four times as fast as they can be resettled. Thirteen nations have offered to resettle 27,500 and Canada has said it will take as many as want to come. But more than 40,000 Hungarians were already in Austria last night, most of them living in uncomfortable transit camps.

Chilly But Fair Weather Slated Thanksgiving Day

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Snow piled up Wednesday in the upper Great Lakes region and cold covered most of the nation. For Thanksgiving Day cold weather was forecast for the North, and cool weather for the South. A storm over the Great Lakes touched off widespread snow from the eastern section of the Dakotas to upper Michigan. Park Falls, Wis., reported 10 inches of snow on the ground. Cold air enveloped all but the easternmost one fourth of the nation — except for the southwestern corner. Eagle, Colo., had a temperature of 20 below zero. Other readings included: Denver 11, Bismarck, N.D., Albuquerque, N.M., and Salt Lake City 15, Omaha 16, Duluth 18, Amarillo, Tex., 19, Casper, Wyo., 20, Spokane, Wash., and Kansas City, Mo., 26, Portland, Ore., 29. The 7 above reading at Winslow, Ariz., was the coldest ever recorded there this early in the season. Wet weather Wednesday preceded the eastward movement of the cold front. Rain and sleet were reported in areas east of the snow belt. Rain and showers fell eastward through Lower Michigan, through New York and to the Atlantic coast, southward through the Ohio Valley, and tapering off to a narrow band of showers in the South through Arkansas and Louisiana. The leading edge of the cold air extended southward through Lake Michigan, eastern Iowa and through northwestern Louisiana.

Menon Leads Drive To Get Observers In

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — India's V. K. Krishna Menon led a concerted drive to get Hungary to throw open its borders to U.N. observers. Menon appealed directly to Hungarian authorities to invite Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold to Budapest and discuss with him the question of admitting on-the-spot investigators. He called on all nations, "without a dissenting vote," to support a resolution insisting on immediate entry of an observer team. A high Russian source indicated Tuesday the resolution was unacceptable. Representatives of Ceylon and Indonesia also voiced the same demand. They were part of a rising tide of indignation over deportation of Hungarian patriots. The 79-nation General Assembly was scheduled to wind up debate on two major resolutions and a number of amendments. Heavy majorities were expected for anti-Soviet resolutions. The United Spanish War Veterans, Camp No. 19, and Auxiliary, No. 18, Dept. of Oregon, will meet at the Veterans Memorial Hall in Roseburg Saturday, Dec. 1. The meeting will follow a turkey dinner which will be served at 12:30. The past dept. auxiliary president of Oregon, Clara T. Starmer, will install new officers. All members are requested to attend and all persons eligible for membership in the camp or auxiliary are invited. For more information call OR 3-5431, Zanna Keller, auxiliary president.

Committee Seeks Financing Data On Green Dist.

At the last regular board meeting of the Green Sanitary District, some of the terms in the proposed contract with the city of Roseburg and the matter of financing the whole project were discussed. It was decided to set up a committee for the purpose of getting more information regarding financing the project. An election will be held Dec. 3 in the Green Elementary School to vote on the question of increasing the board from three to five members, and electing one or three members, as the case may be. The 7th Infantry Division said in his first letter home in eight months. Wilson was captured Nov. 28, 1950, near the Changjin Reservoir. He refused repatriation after the war ended. He gave no reason for coming home. Previous letters indicated he was homesick. Court Issues Order To Open Ballot Boxes The Douglas County Court has issued an order, permitting the opening of several ballot boxes used in the recent election. The boxes will be opened so that poll books and payroll sheets that were left inside the boxes may be recovered from seven precinct boxes. They are the Lane, Fairhaven, Hucrest, North Brown, Yoncalla West, Fair Oaks and Elkton precincts.

Another Turncoat Ready To Come Back To America

URANIA, La. (AP) — Aaron Wilson, who decided not to come home after his capture in Korea nearly six years ago, now hopes to be back by Christmas. Mrs. Henry Wilson said here her 24-year-old son had written that he had applied for permission to come back and was being aided by the Chinese Red Cross. "I will be with you all for Christmas," the onetime corporal with the 7th Infantry Division said in his first letter home in eight months. ## Attempt Will Be Made To Ease Tension

British, French Make No Move To Withdraw; Atrocities Discounted

PORT SAID, Egypt (AP) — United Nations troops were greeted at Port Said's railway station Wednesday by a cheering crowd of Egyptians shouting, "Nasser, Nasser." The Norwegian infantry company of 190 men, equipped with guns and antitank weapons, entered the Suez Canal port after a slow ride over shaky railroad tracks from the cease-fire line below El Cap. A defiant crowd of about 300 broke through the ranks of Port Said police at the station and were forced back by British troops. A handful of agitators urged the crowd forward, but it was slowly pushed from the station and across the street. The troops then marched to their camp of British army tents pitched on the beach. "The six-car train, decked with blue and white U.N. banners, was greeted at the cease-fire line 30 miles from the port by cheering British soldiers. They rushed from their front line positions and shook the hands of the Norwegians leaning out of the windows. "Glad you're here, Bud. Glad you're here," a British soldier shouted. Others took up the cry and one predicted that "it can't be long now" until the British and French forces withdrew from Egypt. "But this observation met no encouragement in official quarters. Lt. Gen. Sir Hugh Stockwell, British commander said any British-French withdrawal "if it's done in four weeks won't be dignified." Port Said has been a center of tension since a cease-fire halted the fighting in the canal area. Egypt has charged the occupying forces with atrocities against Egyptian civilians. British and French authorities have complained of cease-fire violations and have charged a calculated campaign is being conducted to prevent the city's civilian population from cooperating with their occupation. ## Partly Cloudy Weather Seen For Thanksgiving

Cloudy, but warmer, weather is forecast in the Roseburg area for Thanksgiving. The U.S. Weather Bureau here said it would be partly cloudy, though with more night and morning fog. Warmer temperatures are in the offing after two freezing nights. The low temperature this morning was 27 degrees, 3 degrees better than Tuesday morning. The five-day weather outlook by the Weather Bureau calls for temperatures averaging above normal by Friday or Saturday. The warmer weather will be accompanied by some rain, but less than normal for this time of year.

Porter Stops In Roseburg On Post-Election Swing

By BUD BODINE
Staff Writer - News Review
Rep.-elect Charles O. Porter stopped in Roseburg Tuesday on his post-election good will swing through the district. Meeting with friends and supporters, Porter sought voter opinions and problems and commented on several issues that will face Congress in 1957. "My office is open to serve all the people of the fourth district," he said, "whenever they need their congressman's aid."

The timber slump and social security were two questions that the people throughout the district have discussed with him, Porter said. The present slump in the lumber industry is not temporary if present conditions continue, he said, and it has been reflected in Oregon's smaller share in the nation's increasing income. To counteract this, Porter stated, he will work for more public housing — 225,000 units in the coming year — and for more liberal terms for financing private housing. The congressman-elect said that he thought the latter was closely tied
