Carnival Results Told In Canyonville

Canyonville school's annual Carnival netted the student body fund $372.22 from traditional festivities Friday night in the school gym, according to O. J. Monger, school superintendent.

A gross total of $712.32 was received, of which $422.13 was derived from the queen's contest alone, Monger said. Expenses totaled $340.10. Last year's net receipts were $225, less than half of the net receipts of this year.

Queen Gloria I. Gloria Johnson a junior, was crowned by commissioner-elect Huron Clough and escorted by Jerry Carson who was also her business manager. Princesses included Winona Withrow, senior; Mary Pankey, sophomore, and June Brainard, freshman.

Credit for the efficiency with which the carnival was managed and its financial success goes, according to Monger, to the class business managers who covered the area in an effort to make their candidate queen and to John Hakanson and Paul Halsor of the faculty, assisted by Roy Simmons, who organized and set up the booths.
