Old Father
Time Is Here
BY JACK WEST
The old gentleman with the flowing beard and the large scythe in his hand has been used as a symbol for Time for more years than most of us can remember. Then there's a modern version. It shows London's Big Ben clock that booms out the hours for birthstayers to hear and heed.

Actually, however, "Old Father Time" is really the modern watch which is a gold or silver encased piece of complicated mechanism that most of us carry on our wrists.

So when I say that Old Father Time is here, I mean that we are local headquarters for time-pieces that combine both beauty and utility. It may surprise you to know that we carry in stock at all times a great and varied selection of watches. Some of these come from the finest American watch manufacturers and include both men's and women's models that will please the most fastidious person. We carry some very fine imported watches too. Indeed some of our costliest watches come to us from abroad.

If you are in need of a good, dependable watch, whether you wish to spend as little as $19.95 or up to $500.00—I wish you would come in and see our large display. I call your attention to the fact that you can purchase any one of them on the easiest of credit terms plus our reputation for giving the best of values.

MR. AND MRS. RAY WILLES, above, cut the first piece of their wedding cake at the reception following their marriage Dec. 16 at the First Nazarene Church. The Rev. Robert Hempel performed the impressive ceremony at 3 p.m. in the presence of 145 guests. The bride, Merle L. Suiter, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Suiter of Roseburg and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Blanche Willes, Portland. (Picture by Chris of Photo Lab).

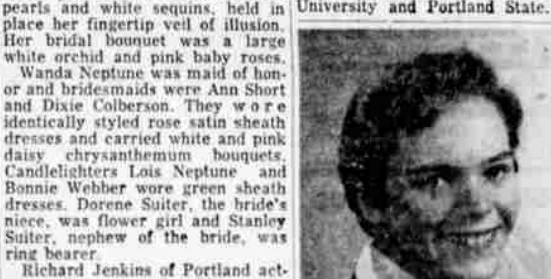

One of the loveliest of early winter brides was Miss Merle Suiter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Suiter, Roseburg, when she was united in marriage to Ray Willes, son of Mrs. Blanche Willes, Portland. The beautiful 2 p.m. double ring ceremony was performed Sunday, Dec. 16, by the Rev. Robert Hempel at the Roseburg Church of the Nazarene. One hundred forty-five friends and relatives were in attendance.

The ceremony took place beneath an arch entwined with holly and centered by a large white wedding bell. The altar was flanked by candelabra and large baskets of pink and white chrysanthemums. The traditional wedding marches were played by Mrs. Sullivan at the piano. She also accompanied Lewis Suiter and Mrs. Elmer E. Suiter, brother and sister of the bride, who sang a duet, "True Love." Mary Weaver sang "The Prayer Song."

Joseph Suiter gave his daughter in marriage. She was beautiful in her wedding gown of white tulle and net. The full ballerina-length skirt was trimmed with pale pink satin ribbon arranged in stripes. A large velvet bow adorned the front of the bodice and she wore a white bolero and matching mitts. A small Chantilly lace pill box cap, embroidered with seed pearls and white sequins, held in place her fingertip veil of illusion. Her bridal bouquet was a large white orchid and pink baby roses.

Wanda Neptune was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Ann Short and Dixie Colburn. They wore identically styled rose satin sheath dresses and carried white and pink daisy chrysanthemum bouquets. Candelights Lois Neptune and Bonnie Webber wore green sheath dresses. Dorene Suiter, the bride's niece, was flower girl and Stanley Suiter, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer.

Richard Jenkins of Portland acted as best man for his cousin.

ENGAGED — Mr. and Mrs. Richard Riggs of Sutherlin announce the engagement of their daughter, Leone Elizabeth, to James C. House, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Plummer, also of Sutherlin. Miss Riggs is a senior at Sutherlin High School and Mr. House was graduated from Sutherlin High School. The wedding will take place Dec. 27 at the home of the bride-elect's grandparents. NEWS-REVIEW PARTY
EVENT OF SATURDAY
A gay evening was enjoyed Saturday evening by employees of The News-Review and their husbands and wives at their annual Christmas party and dinner at the Eagles Hall. A special guest was Frank Jenkins, president of the Southern Oregon Publishing Co.

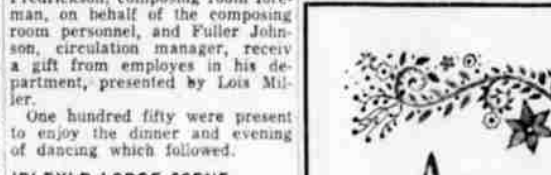

Following a social hour, a lovely dinner, smorgasbord style, was served to the group. During the dinner hour, Frederick J. Porter acted as master of ceremonies and introduced George Castillo, assistant editor, who presented group gifts to Charles V. Stanton, editor and manager; and to Mrs. S. V. Wright, business manager. John Shirley presented a gift to Walter Fredrickson, composing room foreman, on behalf of the composing room personnel, and Fuller Johnson, circulation manager, received a gift from employees in his department, presented by Lois Miller.

One hundred fifty were present to enjoy the dinner and evening of dancing which followed.

County Superintendent William Campbell and Mrs. Campbell of Roseburg.

MR. AND MRS. RONALD CHARLES RASMUSSEN pose for their wedding portrait following their marriage Dec. 14 at Olivet Presbyterian Church in Glendale. The bride, Elizabeth Ann Kenneda, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Kenneda, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Rasmussen, all of Astoria. The Rev. Wayne Wattman performed the impressive double ring ceremony. (Fox Photo).

Miss Shirley Andrea Rasmussen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Rasmussen of Astoria, became the bride of John Moore of Days Creek Nov. 3. The wedding took place in Washington.

The bride lived in Astoria for nearly eight years and was graduated from Glendale High School in 1955.

The couple resides in Days Creek where Moore is a logger. The bride was attended by Miss Denise Miller, maid of honor. The best man was James E. Wheeler, brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

The church was decorated with white candelabra and huge white baskets of white, salmon and yellow roses. White streamers were tied along each side of the center aisle of the church.

Miss Lynn Hays played the piano as the candelights, Melody Wheeler, a niece of the bridegroom, and Robbie Hays, lighted the candles. The bride's nephew, Tommy Bowden, carried the rings on a satin pillow, and the bridegroom's niece, Teresa Wheeler.

SWACK'S
TOTS TO TEENS

MR. AND MRS. CARL WOODWARD, above, were married Nov. 24, in San Diego. The bride, the former Fayette Dow, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Kenyon of Melrose. She is a senior in Roseburg High School and is completing her studies there. The bridegroom is the son of Ellis Woodward of Roseburg and is stationed on the USS Monhadden, which is based at San Diego. (Picture by Austin Studio).

flower girl, scattered white rose petals from a white basket. The bride entered on the arm of her father, E. H. Kenneda.

After their wedding vows and rings had been exchanged, the couple knelt during the playing of a beautifully recorded choir and solo rendition of the "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride wore a princess-design wedding gown of white satin and a fingertip veil. She wore white pearls at her throat and carried a beautiful bridal bouquet of white carnations, tied with white streamer ribbons.

Her attendant, Miss Miller, wore a pink ballerina-length gown textured with silver. Her corsage was of white carnations tied with pink and white ribbon. The flower girl wore a yellow taffeta dress set off by a white carnation corsage.

One of the candelights, Melody Wheeler, wore a yellow taffeta dress identical to that of the flower girl. The other, Robbie Hays, wore a lavender nylon organdy dress and a flower tiara in her hair. Both wore white carnation corsages.

The mother of the bride wore a navy blue crepe set off by a white carnation corsage, and the bridegroom's mother wore a rich brown-toned dress and a similar corsage.

Following the wedding a reception was held in the church parlors. The couple cut a four-tiered white wedding cake which was topped with traditional bride and groom figurines.

Cake and punch were served by Mrs. Dorothy Hayes and Mrs. Maxine Bowden, a sister of the bride.

The bride has lived in Glendale or Astoria for the past nine years and has attended the Glendale Grade and High Schools.

Mr. Rasmussen lived in Astoria for the past seven years. He was graduated from the Glendale High School in 1954 and served a term in the U.S. Navy, discharged in March of this year. He is employed by the Box Factory at the Robert Dollar Company plant. The couple will be at home on Gilbertson Ave., in Glendale.

NANCY McFARLAND, above, was one of eight sophomore women at Oregon State College chosen as charter members for the Daughters of Minerva organization, a sister group of Sigma Alpha Epsilon. Scholarship and personality qualifications were considered for the appointments. The charter members were formally initiated in a ceremony at the SAE house Monday night. Housemother for SAE will be the advisor for the new honorary. Miss McFarland is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles DeGuire of Roseburg. She was chosen from the Pi Beta Phi sorority.
