

Van Doren Ups Winnings On TV

NEW YORK — Charles Van Doren, a 44,400-year English instructor at Columbia University, Monday night boosted his winnings to $122,000 on NBC television program "Twenty-One."

He entered Monday night's competition against two opponents as the biggest money-winner on TV quiz programs by virtue of finishing last week's contest with $104,500. Five persons had shared the old record with winnings of $100,000 on the "Big Surprise."

Van Doren, a 30-year-old bachelor, has until Feb. 11 to decide whether he'll try to increase his winnings. There is no limit. A special show will replace "Twenty-One" next week, giving Van Doren an extra week to think it over.

Van Doren, the son of Mark Van Doren, Pulitzer Prize winning poet, had little difficulty in picking up an additional $17,500 as he disposed of his two challengers. They were Nicholas Tashenko, a translator for the United Nations, and Anthony Whittier, a Boston writer and descendant of poet John Greenleaf Whittier.

Taxes will prevent Van Doren from keeping the bulk of his winnings. Experts said the lion's share of his present winnings, between $80,000 and $85,000, will be lost in taxes.

Van Doren has the option of stopping with his present winnings or try for more. The most he can lose is $10,500, on the basis of $500 for each of a possible 21 points that he might miss in competition.

Army Introduces Brain For Radar Location Of Foe

WASHINGTON — The Army has added an electronic brain to a radar device to help locate faster the source of enemy mortar fire.

It announced the device Monday, saying it was an improvement over the radar mortar locator used in the latter stages of the Korean War.

The electronic computer-radar locator machine was developed by the Army's Signal Corps laboratories at Ft. Monmouth, N.J., and the Military Electronic Department of the General Electric Co. at Syracuse, N.Y.

With the earlier equipment, the radar locator required time to calculate the source from which mortar shells were being lobbed. With the new equipment, the operator notes the "blip" registered on the screen by a shell, then centers hairlines on the blips, presses a button and the electronic computer gives an instant reading.

Congress May Shun Visit Of Yugoslavia's Tito

WASHINGTON — If Communist President Tito of Yugoslavia visits the United States, despite mounting protests, Congress may arrange to be out of session to avoid inviting him to address it.

Customarily, when heads of foreign states visit Washington, Congress issues such speaking invitations to them.

But some leaders suggested today Congress might lengthen its customary Easter recess so it would be out of town while Tito is here.

Although there has been no official announcement, there have been indications from diplomatic quarters that Tito will visit the United States — as a guest of President Eisenhower—some time in April.

Peace Crusaders Labeled As Communist Front

WASHINGTON — The American Peace Crusade, which has sponsored several "peace marches" on Washington, was described formally today as a Communist front.

In a report filed with the Subversive Activities Control Board, former SACB Chairman Thomas Herbert recommended that the board issue an order directing the organization to register with the Justice Department under the 1950 internal security law.

Herbert conducted hearings in the case before he resigned Dec. 31 to become a judge of the Ohio Supreme Court. His report said the testimony showed the American Peace Crusade, with headquarters in New York, was founded by the Communist party in 1951.

He said one of its functions was to follow the Communist party line during the war in Korea.

First Half Year Nears End In NCO Air Reserve Class

The newly activated Flight D of the 9415th Air Reserve Squadron is scheduled to complete its first half year of the non-commissioned officers leadership course Wednesday.

Subject of the evening will be the review of principles of leadership.

With the activation of the flight last September, the Air Force brought to Roseburg for the first time, paid training for Air Force reservists.

The NCO leadership course is only one of several paid courses available to Air Force reservists, but because of special requirements and limitations in this area, only the NCO course is presently available here.

It is anticipated that during the month of February, a paid course for reserve officers in education and training will be launched.

Enrollment in the NCO flight is limited to reserve airmen of the top four grades, airman first class to master sergeant. Prior service from any of the armed forces may be eligible for enrollment, provided they are mentally and physically qualified.

Reservists of other armed services may be eligible if their own services do not object. Grade determinations submitted on prior service personnel have been approved for grades equal and even higher than those held at time of separation.

Any one interested in joining may contact the Roseburg Air Reserve Center at 1614 W. Harvard Ave. or telephone OR 3-7584.

Legislation Against Billboards Is Urged

PORTLAND — Legislation to keep the state's new highways free of billboards was urged here by the Oregon Roadside Council.

"When you buy property for highways, why don't you also buy the right to control signs along the route?" E. B. MacNaughton of the council asked the state Highway Commission.

The commission would need legislation to gain that authority, said Commission Chairman Ben Chandler.

MacNaughton then urged the commission to seek it.

The commission awarded nine projects to the lower bidders in Wednesday's session.
