

Local Eagles To Observe Anniversary

Sunday marks the beginning of a week of observance of the 30th anniversary of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, and the Roseburg Area has made plans to take part with two special events.

Area President Elton Roberts reports the local chapter of the order will stage a March of Dimes dance and an open house. The dance is scheduled for Eagles and guests Feb. 9. The open house is on the agenda for Feb. 10. Ceremonies will start at 1 a. m., and guest speakers will be present.

The Sunday function will be preceded at 11 a. m., by initiation of new Eagles. Roseburg will join more than 1,600 areas in the United States, Canada, Alaska, Hawaii and the Philippines in a salute to their parent organization. It mushroomed from the initial meeting of six theatrical men in Seattle, Wash., Feb. 6, 1908, into one of America's leading fraternities, with a combined membership in areas and auxiliaries of more than a million.

"Eagle anniversary week will be observed, not only to acquaint our fellow citizens with the work and achievements of the Eagles, but to advance the many humanitarian programs of the order," President Roberts says. "It will inspire us as Eagles to continue to maintain the record of the fraternity in its service to others," he concluded.

Among achievements of the Eagles are sponsorships of the first old-age state pension act, first mothers' pension law and first guidance projects.

U. S. Educational Advantages Told At YMCA Dinner

William Jones, assistant to the president of the University of Oregon, pointed out advantages of the American educational system Thursday night when he spoke at the annual meeting of the Roseburg YMCA.

Jones recently spent three months in the Orient aiding in the establishment of new universities in Japan and South Asia. He said only about 10 per cent of the Asians hold the educational opportunities which are found in the United States, which he said are a heritage.

Most opportunities found here "come from others," he said, and America has a responsibility to pioneer education elsewhere. William Green, outgoing president of the YMCA, handed over his gavel of office near the end of the meeting to Lloyd Crenshaw, the new president.

A number of persons gave reports on the various activities of the YMCA youth, sports and recreation programs. Two certificates for outstanding service to the "Y" were presented. They went to Mrs. Alta Simonson, who has spent four years as Tri-Hi-Y advisor, and to Leonard Tyler for his service in the Church Recreation Council.

A high school quartet, the Four Flats, sang old Barbershop ballads. About 100 persons attended the meeting.

Three Dances Slated For Teen-Agers Here

Three dances are on tap for Roseburg teen-agers this weekend. At the high school, the "Barnyard Stampede" heads the list. The high school C-12 will sponsor the dance in the auditorium after the Roseburg - Cottage Grove game.

Girls of the club will sell tickets and serve refreshments. Parents of the girls will chaperone. Music will be supplied by Dick Copeland and his band. Money from the dance will go to the club treasury.

Two dances are on tap at the Roseburg Youth Center on South Rose Street. Friday night is from 8 to 11, a dance slated for junior high pupils only. Senior high pupils will not be admitted.

First BLM Timber Sales Scheduled For Today

completed in this district during 1956, several access road contracts were let during the year and negotiations are now under way for purchase of several private tracts where heavy ownership of lumber in the area necessitates the removal of lumber over such a road system, according to Winn.

With money budgeted for several road projects during 1957, it is hoped that several more contracts will be let this year, Winn says.

At present, work is proceeding on a contract for four miles of clearing and construction in Canton Creek and on a contract for a bridge on the Cow Creek access road. Both should be completed by 1958.

Prospects of an increase of allowable cut may lie with the completion of the reinventory of BLM timber holdings which is 60 per cent complete and is expected to be finished by summer of 1958.

Death, Destruction Mount In Eastern Flood Situation

The toll of death and destruction mounted today as new heavy rains fed one of the worst floods in the history of the Appalachian Mountain region and the threat deepened in the South.

Thirteen were dead in Kentucky, West Virginia and Virginia — first to be struck when floodwaters rolled out of the mountains four days ago.

President Eisenhower declared portions of Kentucky and West Virginia a disaster area as damages ran into millions of dollars. Virginia Gov. Thomas B. Stanley also requested disaster designation for six southwest counties where 2,000 were homeless and 18,000 knocked out of their jobs.

Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, president of the American Red Cross, said it was allocating half a million dollars for flood relief in the three states.

But even as already devastated areas began the herculean task of getting back to normal, new flood warnings were raised in Tennessee, western North Carolina and northeast Georgia.

Farther south, the Warrior River was rising swiftly in Alabama, where the Tombigbee also was expected to go out of its banks.

Heavy rains continued to pound east Tennessee from Chattanooga to Knoxville. Eight and a half inches have fallen in 12 days, more than twice the normal amount for the month.

30-Inch Globe Now In Use At County Library

A new globe, 30 inches in diameter and imported from England, has arrived in Roseburg and been installed in the Douglas County Library at the courthouse.

The globe, mounted on an oak base, has interior lighting and revolves slowly. It was built by Georama Ltd. and shows political boundaries, major air routes and shipping routes. Roseburg and the South Umpqua River are marked on the globe.

Miss Muriel Mitchell, assistant librarian, says the globe was purchased by funds from a gift from the estate of the late Marie Flint McCall. Miss Mitchell adds that the globe was ordered through the Roseburg Book Store whose owner, Chester Morgan, supervised arrangements in getting the globe shipped to Roseburg and installed in the library.

Wire Tap Uses Important Issue

PORTLAND — The tape recordings that figured in the vice investigation in Portland last year may have contained wire-tapped conversations at one time. Atty. Gen. Robert Y. Thornton said Thursday.

He added his belief, however, that all wire-tap conversations were taken before a grand jury in the vice investigation.

Thornton testified in circuit court that he did not order any deletions, but said he had a tacit understanding with James B. Elkins, who provided the tapes, that no wire-tap conversations would go before the grand jury.

Douglas County Finally Thaws; More Cold Seen

Douglas County finally thawed out Thursday after a week-long cold snap, but more cold is on the way.

The new cold, however, won't match the proportions of the cold snap just past, the U. S. Weather Bureau said today. Arctic air moving into the Northwest behind a low pressure area will bring some mixed rain and snow and lower temperatures.

The low temperature this morning was 39 degrees, warmest nighttime low since Jan. 15, when 40 degrees was recorded at the Roseburg airport. Since that time, there have been few nights when it didn't freeze.

The break in the cold weather Thursday was followed by rain early this morning. Between midnight and 10:30 a. m., 4 of an inch had fallen at the airport.

Higher up, Glide and Glendale were receiving snow this morning. The snow started late, News-Review correspondents in those areas reported. Logs trucked out of the North Umpqua above Glide were plastered white.

The Weather Bureau predicted rain or rain and snow will continue to fall through tonight.

Mothers' March Totals Reported Through County

Community totals coming in today from the Mothers' March on Polio Thursday indicated the annual event would again be one of the biggest boosters of the fund.

In the Roseburg marching section from Winston Section north through Wilbur, a total of $4,811.39 was reported, according to Co-Chairmen Mrs. Robert Raffensperger and Mrs. Dave Weisman. This was slightly below the $5,000 figure last year.

Mrs. Raffensperger reported that despite the economic conditions, all areas of the drive locally showed successes. "We are very pleased with the results," she said, "and we hope the people contacted by the 550 mothers Thursday night will use the short record cards left with them."

In the county, incomplete community totals reported this morning included: Canyonville, $221.82; Drain, $237.25; Dixonville, $148.08; Glendale, $289.59; Oakland, $275.46; Reedsport, $849; Roseburg, $4,811.39; Sutherlin, $319.43; Myrtle Creek, $375.83.

JOSEPH OLAH Hungarian visits

Refugee Finds Work In Eugene

By HAZEL S. MARSH
Josef Olah, a 21-year-old Hungarian refugee was an interesting visitor recently in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Wilson in Look-in-glass.

He was accompanied by Mrs. Wilson's brother, Lloyd Arant, who has charge of placement for the Lane County Refugee Committee and is personally sponsoring Olah.

Olah is a blacksmith by trade, but since coming to Eugene recently, he has obtained work in Sacred Heart Hospital in that city. Arant serves as personnel man for the hospital.

Olah was a resident of Budapest and was in the Hungarian Army at the time of the rebellion. Rather than fight against his countrymen, he deserted and was successful in his escape.

He had to leave his wife and 8-year-old son, his parents and four brothers. He has had no communication with his relatives since fleeing the country and expresses hatred of the communistic system.

He is gradually mastering enough of the English language to "get by" in his work and is an earnest student of the language under the tutelage of his sponsor.

The visitors returned to Eugene Sunday evening.
