

Tiger Manager Hints Shakeup, Cleveland Swap

LAKELAND, Fla. — "There's an explosion coming on this club," said new Manager Jack Tighe of the Detroit Tigers. "There are some guys who have been on this ball club a long time, guys who are getting a lot of money and aren't earning it."

Tighe, the usually easygoing "nice guy" who was picked to replace Bucky Harris and put some "fire" into the Tigers, lit the fuse after Detroit, favored to give the New York Yankees trouble if anyone can this season, has dropped their eighth decision in 10 exhibition games yesterday.

And on the heels of Tighe's appraisal, John McHale, director of Tiger player personnel and the man who makes the trades, announced after a conference with Hank Greenberg, Cleveland general manager, that "we have some players who could help the Indians, and they have some who could help us."

Tighe, the 43-year-old ex-Detroit coach who never has managed in the majors before, refused to name names when he indicated some of his players have been dogging it this spring. He wasn't as general when questioned about a possible trade with the Indians. "We need pitching," said Tighe. "The Indians want a catcher."

What it comes down to is this: The Tigers, with Frank Lary, Billy Hoelt and Paul Foytack forming their "Big Three," need a No. 4 pitcher, preferably a left-hander. They have their eyes on the Indians' Hank Aguirre and Buddy Dales, a pair of promising young southpaws.

To get either of the two — and Dales is the favorite — the Tigers would give up catcher Frank House and "a tripple-A player" for the Indians' San Diego club — if Cleveland tosses in another pitcher, say Mike Garcia or Art Houtteman, and shortstop George Strickland.

Houtteman, a 29-year-old right-hander who was 2-2 last season, would be preferred over Garcia, 33, an 11-12 pitcher in 1956.

Standing atop a tower-merry-go-round device, Anderson hoists the loaded apparatus several inches off the ground. He estimated the combined weight at 2,400 pounds. (AP)

Minneapolis Qualifies For West NBA Playoff

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (P)—A stolen rebound sent the Minneapolis Lakers to St. Louis Wednesday for the National Basketball Assn. Western Division final playoff and ended professional basketball in Fort Wayne.

The Lakers beat the Fort Wayne Pistons Tuesday night, 110-108, to sweep their best-of-three series in two games. The Lakers will meet the St. Louis Hawks for the division title in the best-of-five series, playing at St. Louis Thursday night and Sunday afternoon, at Minneapolis Monday and Wednesday nights, and back at St. Louis if necessary March 28.

The Pistons franchise will move to Detroit next season.

Seattle Coach Hanged In Effigy After Loss

SEATTLE (P)—John Castellani, coach of Seattle University's basketball team, became a member of the clan Tuesday — he was hanged in effigy.

The dummy representing the coach, whose team was whipped by St. Bonaventure in the National Invitation Tournament at Madison Square Garden, dangled from a fire escape of the university's Science Building.

The school flag hung at half-mast.

Hanging from a third-floor window of another building was a banner reading: "Come Home Al. All is Forgiven." Castellani's predecessor, Al Brightman, resigned last spring.

Students on the way to class cut down the effigy.
