Drain School Paper Cited

By LINDA HOPKINS

First class honor rating was awarded "The Warrior," Drain High School's mimeographed newspaper, for the first semester of the school year according to word received from the National Scholastic Press Assn.

The staff members were commended by the judge for outstanding news coverage and news writing, as well as their "knack for writing interesting features."

Bruce Boss is editor of "The Warrior" this year. Other staff members are: Marilyn Bush, associate editor; Jeanette Clark, news editor; Stanley Carter and Roberta Hess, sport editors; Linda Hopkins and Linda Snyder, feature editors; Karen Roberts, art editor; Gene Barnett, business manager; and Wilbur Everts and Eugene Randolph, circulation managers. Carol Clark and Lynda Davis were also on the staff during the first semester. Miss Ella Hillemeier is adviser for "The Warrior."

Three Weeks Left 'Til End Of Teen-Age Name Contest

Three weeks still remain in the contest to name this section of The News-Review devoted to teen-age activities of the county.

Suggestions for the name have started to sprinkle in from high schoolers trying for the three cash prizes and the honor of selecting the name which will be used. Three cash prizes have been set for the contest. The winner will receive a $10 check. Second and third place winners will get $7.50 and $5, respectively.

The contest is limited to high schoolers of the county. Any student attending any of the Douglas County high schools can send in a suggestion.

This is how it's done. Only a postcard or letter is needed to send in an entry. The entry should include the full name, address, school attended and class in school with the suggested name of the page.

The suggested name must be simple. It can contain no more than four words and must reflect the idea of a section devoted to teen-agers. The teen-age designation does not have to be included in the name.

The deadline for the contest is April 22. After that, the entries will be screened for final selection. The final selection of the name will be made by a group representing each of the schools, probably student body presidents.

The name selected will be announced May 6.

POST CONTEST NOTICE—Two members of the Roseburg High School news bureau staff post notice of the contest to name the school section of The News-Review. At left is Ted Sohn, student director. Donna Patton, reporter, does the work. The school has a special bulletin board on which news from the school is published in The News-Review. It is labeled "RHS in the News."

Foreign Students Praise Roseburg

By JERRY HEALY

"Roseburg and Umpqua are two names that mean a pleasant time and nice people," says Raj Pakshirajan in a letter to Ralph Scudder, social studies department head at Roseburg High School. Pakshirajan is a graduate student at the University of Oregon.

He and Kiran Caleb visited the school on their excursion with other foreign students at the University recently. Kiran Caleb also had some complimentary things to say in her letter to Scudder. She said she appreciated the chance to meet students and faculty at the school.

Roseburg Musicians Set Concert For Band Assn.

A musical program by Roseburg High School students, who will appear in the junior division music contest at Myrtle Creek Saturday, will be presented at a meeting of the Roseburg Band Parents Assn. Tuesday night at 7:30 in the high school band room.

Students taking part will be Barbara Richter, trumpet; Linda Carter, Oboe; Connie Modrell, bassoon; Terry Hunt, bass horn; Clair Anderson, trombone; and Kay Pilger, alto saxophone.

Four students will play a clarinet quartet. They are Myrna Marsters, Sharon Ueland, Sally Frazier and Connie Meyer.

A tour through the state capital at Salem and an opportunity to see the legislature in session was the experience of 33 seniors from Drain High School last week. The group was accompanied by Mrs. Fred Braaten and Joe Benninghoff, social science teacher.

The morning was devoted to visiting the Senate and the House of Representatives. In the afternoon, a guided tour through the capitol building was arranged. This included a trip to the capitol dome where a panoramic view of the city could be seen. Students also visited the governor's suite.

Those who made the trip felt that they had gained a greater knowledge of the history of the capitol and the functions of the legislature.

The play hinges around the comedy situation of a scatterbrained Lucy.

It has been reported the stage is completed and the new curtain hung. A new exit in the auditorium has also been opened between the gym and the boys physical education room.

Three County Students In Scholarship Group

Two Linfield College students from Roseburg and one from Glendale are among approximately 200 students at Linfield who are included in a $50,000 scholarship and student aid program.

The students are Margaret Cooper and Ruth West, both of Roseburg, and Dwane Miller of Glendale.

Some of the awards are given for scholarship, others for excellence in particular areas, and some are grants in aid. They range from $800 to $480, scholarships for freshmen, which they will use over a four-year period, to the $600 one semester and one-year grants.

Discounts are given to students whose fathers are members of the clergy and to students who are preparing for the Christian Ministry. These are included in the total for the aid program.

Auxiliary Picks Two Girls For 'State'; Others Slated

By FAYE REEDER

Jenny Murphy and Loretta Short, both junior girls have been chosen as Roseburg's delegates for Girls State.

Each year the Roseburg American Legion Auxiliary selects outstanding junior girls from Douglas County high schools to attend a session of the State Legislature at Salem.

Girls from all over the state meet in Salem for one week in June where they select their own governor, senators, representatives and other officials required to carry on governmental activities.

To qualify for Girls State, a candidate must be a junior and be outstanding in the fields of leadership, participation in school activities and scholarship.

After attending the event the girls report to the unit and to their sponsors on their participation and activities.

Last year's girls slaters were: Judy Moore, daughter of Betty Moore of Roseburg; Helen Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Taylor, and Kay Meyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Meyer of Glendale; and Claudia Murray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Murray of Winston.

Chairman of the selection committee, Mrs. Ialo Stephens, said others from Douglas County to go to Girls State will be selected in the near future.

Yoncalla To Get New Honor Society Charter

The National Honor Society will be re-established at Yoncalla Union High School soon, reports correspondent Mrs. George Edes.

The school has sent for a charter, which is expected to arrive the last part of April. The Drain chapter of the National Honor Society will initiate the Yoncalla chapter at a candlelight service soon after the arrival of the charter, Mrs. Edes says.

Youth Center Schedules Businessmen's Coffee

A businessmen's coffee hour has been scheduled next Saturday from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Roseburg Youth Center.

The meeting has been specially arranged to promote interest of businessmen of Roseburg in the center.

Meanwhile, the center is still gathering furniture for the building. A combination radio and record player and a davenport have been donated, but lamps, tables, easy chairs and television sets are still needed.

ASSEMBLY PLANNED

A program is being formulated this week for a musical Good Friday student assembly, to which the public will also be invited, at Canyonville High School with Gene Southwell, school musical director, in charge. Besides the band, the high school girls' triple trio and the junior high chorus will perform. An outside speaker will also be invited, Southwell said.

SENIORS WIN

Seniors at Yoncalla High have won the intramural basketball play. Sophomores, juniors and freshmen followed in that order.

Employer, Employee Banquet Wednesday

The Trades and Industries class at Roseburg High School will hold its 30th annual employer-employee banquet Wednesday night in the Gold Room of the Hotel Umpqua.

The guest speaker is William Loomis, who will expound on the past, present and future of the state's labor movement.

Dale Pippin, a T & I student, is the toastmaster. Entertainment will include songs by the "Four Flats," a singing quartet at RHS.

Bonnie Lee Butler Wins Scholarship

Bonnie Lee Butler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Butler, 1460 N.W. Garden Valley Blvd., Roseburg, was among six University of Oregon students receiving Oregon Mothers scholarships recently.

The $65 scholarships are awarded each spring term by the Oregon Mothers organization. Miss Butler is a senior, majoring in art and ceramics at the university.

Roseburg Orchestra's Spring Concert Slated

The spring concert for Roseburg High School's orchestra is scheduled Tuesday night in the high school auditorium.

The orchestra, conducted by Ralph Anderson, will play several Mozart numbers and lighter selections.

The string quartet, which recently received an "excellent" rating at the district contest in Klamath Falls, will be featured. The quartet consists of Les Ann Norris, viola; Jim Robertson, first violin; Stephanie Briggs, second violin; and Diane Palm, cello.

Canyonville High Gives Silver Pins

By VIRGINIA PROCTOR

Canyonville High School's freshmen presented a musical assembly last week, at which presentation of basketball and student council awards by Supt. O. J. Monger were also featured.

Most of the class participated in a square dancing demonstration followed by a clarinet duet by Diana Oxford and Crystal Pohl and an a capella vocal duet by June Brainerd and Eleanor Irwin.

Sterling silver pins were given to student council members including: President Jim Curtis, vice-president Pat Sodenaa, secretary-treasurer Delora Decker, sergeant-at-arms Jack Smith and class presidents: Ann Harry, senior; Jean Harry, junior; John Nordling, sophomore; Teddy Morgan, freshman; as well as advisor O. J. Monger.

ATTENDS CONFERENCE

Heinz Teubner, son of Mrs. Johanna Teubner, Rt. 4, Box 530, Roseburg, was among seven Linfield College students attending a student YM-YW council at Manucha, east of Portland, recently.

Teubner represented the International Relations Club of Linfield. IRC students attended seminars on Hungary and the Near East. Each year a group of Linfield students attend the Manucha conference.

TO EXCHANGE

The Oakland High School band is scheduled to present a music assembly at Yoncalla Tuesday. The Yoncalla band will repay the visit in the near future with an assembly at Oakland.

SEE LEGISLATURE

Eighteen Canyonville High School seniors have some idea of the processes of the controversial house taxation committee after a visit to Salem Friday when they visited both the house of representatives and attended a meeting of that committee.

Accompanied by assistant principal John Hakarson and Dean of Girls Shirley Anne Bruce, the seniors were greeted by Sen. Dan Dimick. In the afternoon, the group was conducted on a two-hour tour of the state hospital.

STUDENT ROTARIAN—Wayne Bartley, a Myrtle Creek High School senior, has been named student rotarian on the basis of scholarship, citizenship and leadership. He will hold the position for six weeks. He succeeds Larry Mauck in reporting school affairs to the Rotary Club (Warren Studio, Myrtle Creek).

Clinic, Concert Set For Artist

Migard Rascher, concert saxophonist will be one of the features of this year's spring concert by the Roseburg High School Music Department on April 18.

Rascher, who has had over 50 compositions dedicated to him, is the first person to make the saxophone a concert solo instrument. He is noted for extending the range of the alto sax from two-and-a-half to four octaves.

When he arrives in Roseburg April 17, he will conduct a band clinic and will work with the Roseburg high school concert band on the numbers he will play with them in the spring concert.

The concert will also feature the a capella choir and the Cadet II Band.

Elkton Car Wash Ups Senior Fund

By ARIEL HUBBARD

The Elkton High School senior class is $45 closer to its senior trip this year.

A car wash recently netted the class that much to help finance the trip.

A representative from the Oregon Employment Service office at Roseburg was in Elkton recently to discuss the results of the general aptitude test batteries given eight students in the senior class.

The sophomore class has selected its class rings and ordered them from Portland. They will be delivered next fall.

The Elkton High School annuals will be made up for delivery in the fall in order to include all school activities to the end of the year. Meanwhile, the annual staff, headed by Doris Moore and Jenna Levenhagen have been taking orders for the yearbooks.
