Man Questioned In Kidnap Case

WEST COVINA, Calif. — Sheriff's deputies say they are questioning a man in connection with the kidnap-attack of 3-year-old Barbara Allen.

The girl is in critical condition at Covina Community Hospital, her skull fractured by a young man who kidnaped her Friday from the automobile of her mother, Mrs. Duane Allen, La Puente.

Kenneth Williams, 24, was picked up Saturday in nearby Monte Vista, where he was found sleeping in a sedan. An airtight police bulletin had been broadcast for a man answering his description.

Mrs. Allen told police she left Barbara and 2-year-old Jimmy Allen in the car while she went to a nearby restaurant to cash a check. She said a man in his 20s sitting in the nearby auto offered to watch the children while she was gone.

When she returned Jimmy told her the man had driven away with Barbara.

The little girl was found nude and unconscious an hour later at the edge of an orange grove near the South Hills Country Club. Besides the skull fracture she has a shoulder injury.

The child was given a 50-50 chance after a two-hour surgery.

Frank Sinatra Sings For Free To Help Friend

By JAMES BACON
HOLLYWOOD — Frank Sinatra, singing only for his supper, opened last night at the Mocambo before more stars than turned out for the recent Oscar awards.

The thin singer, who gets $25,000 a week at Las Vegas' Sands Hotel, where he's an owner, is working the Mocambo nine days for exactly nothing.

Charlie Morrison, owner of the Mocambo and an old friend of Sinatra, died a few weeks ago after a two-year illness.

The opening was so plush that Sinatra's former shirt as a special attraction hand embroidered creation of designer Don Loper.

"Frank was so great," Loper said, "that I decided not to send him a bill for the shirt."

Portland Police Raid Nightspots

PORTLAND — Portland police raided four night spots early Saturday, three of them listed recently by the Senate labor-rackets committee as illegal operations.

Five persons were arrested on charges of conducting gambling and selling liquor illegally. Police had to use five trucks to haul away gambling and bar equipment.

The Senate committee, in the Portland phase of its hearings, last month listed more than 30 places where it said gambling, bootlegging or prostitution could be found in Portland. Police disputed accuracy of much of the list.

Police Lt. Dudley Nelson of the vice squad said an undercover agent hired recently provided the information that led to the raids.

Arrested as proprietors of the places were David Kizer, 41; Olson, 41; and David Nance, 63. Two employees of Olson, arrested at the fourth place, were booked as Harvey Jackson, 40, and Gladys Parker, 27. They were released after posting bond — $500 for the woman, Jackson and Kizer; $1,500 for Olson, and $1,000 for Nance.

Republicans Fail To Force Bill To End Surtax

By PAUL W. HARVEY JR.
SALEM — House Republicans failed 21-34 Friday to force immediate consideration of a bill to repeal the 45 per cent income surtax imposed two years ago.

The vote followed assurances by Rep. Clarence Barton (D), Coquille, chairman of the House Taxation Committee, that the surtax repeal would be included in the committee's major income tax bill, which is expected to be ready in 10 days.

Rep. Charles Allen Tom (R), Rufus, made the motion to take House Bill 1, which would repeal the surtax, away from the committee.

He said that Republicans on the tax committee have been unsuccessful in their efforts to get the bill out of committee, and that the surtax must be repealed to campaign promises by both parties.

Barton answered that the committee is not sitting on the bill, and that the surtax repeal would be included as part of a package.

"The committee," Barton said, "doesn't want to bring out tax measures piecemeal."

Revenue that would be lost from the surtax repeal will be replaced by increasing the income tax rates.

After the vote against Tom's motion, Rep. Wayne Giesey (R), Monroe, tried to get immediate consideration of a Republican bill to repeal the surtax. This was defeated 35-20.

Both houses again will have a day off Saturday because there aren't enough bills to make up a calendar.

Gov. Holmes' bill to create a state Department of Development won the blessing of the Joint Ways and Means Committee, which approved a $286,900 appropriation for the department.

This new agency, which would replace the Oregon Development Commission, would attempt to attract new industry to Oregon.

The Senate passed and sent to the governor a bill to prohibit net fishing for salmon in waters off the coast. This bill would not become effective until Washington, California and Canada have adopted similar legislation.

Purpose of the bill is to conserve salmon. The Washington legislature already has approved the measure.

Another bill sent to the governor by the Senate will compel schools to teach the effects of alcohol and narcotics. This will replace a law that was repealed in 1955.

The House passed bill to provide state aid for schools which have driver training programs was sent to the Education Committee by the Senate for a needed correction.

The Senate passed and sent to the House a bill to repeal the law which permits cities under 5,000 population to have the secretary of State take population counts. This is no longer necessary because the state Census Board now makes annual estimates for all cities.

The joint Ways and Means Committee voted to introduce a bill to discontinue the Eastern Oregon Tuberculosis Hospital at The Dalles. There is a possibility that this hospital might be used for some other type of state institution.

The committee also voted to appropriate $287,000 to employ architects to plan institution buildings for the 1959 legislature to act upon.

Laws, Dates For Election Of School Boards Outlined

The laws and dates for election of school board members were outlined by County Supt. Kenneth Barneburg Friday. He noted the rural, non-high, and local board vacancies to be filled.

The rural and local districts will vote June 17, Barneburg said, and the non-high districts will vote June 24.

The rural district vacancy occurs this year in zone "E" which takes in Elkton and the lower Umpqua area. The incumbent member is Norman B. Weathert, Elkton, whose five-year term is up.

According to Supt. Barneburg, the signatures of not less than 25 legal voters or 3 per cent of the qualified voters at the last school board member's election are required on a nominating petition. The petition must be filed 30 days prior to the election.

Special Elections Noted

School Board members in two districts will be elected for short terms, Barneburg noted. They will serve out the remaining terms for elected members who have resigned.

In Umpqua the incumbent is Mrs. Opal Munson, who is a candidate for the June 17 election.

Two Helicopters Delivered For President's Use

WASHINGTON — Two helicopters for the personal use of President Eisenhower are reported to have been delivered. They were said to have cost $80,000 each with spare parts.

The Washington Evening Star said Saturday the helicopters "are in the area," having been delivered by the Bell Aircraft Corp. of Buffalo, N.Y. There was no immediate comment by the White House.

Plans to use helicopters to ferry Eisenhower from the White House to Washington National Airport were disclosed by the White House several weeks ago.

Eisenhower reacted angrily at his news conference two weeks ago when a reporter suggested the craft might also be used to carry him to the Burning Tree Golf Course in suburban Maryland.

"No helicopters have been procured for me to go to a golf course," Eisenhower replied, and cut off any further questions.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty is reported preparing an announcement on the subject. Hagerty was out of the city Saturday.

The presidential helicopters are commercial versions of a type purchased by the Army. The Star said the Army machines were bought at an average cost of $40,000 each but that this figure did not include spare parts or interior trim.

Eisenhower's helicopters "are elegantly upholstered and have extra soundproofing," the Star said.

The craft carry a pilot and two passengers.

Security Officer Gave Report On Norman, Claim

WASHINGTON — Sen. Watkins (R-Utah) says a Senate subcommittee report describing Canadian spy activities in the United States as a lifetime Communist was published with the approval of a State Department security officer.

But State Department officials said yesterday the worker who gave a go-ahead acted without consulting his superiors.

The charges against Norman, made public last month, were disowned by the department and protested by the Canadian government.

Norman, Canada's ambassador to Egypt, is reported to have been a Communist Party member in the United States. He was charged with espionage activities.

Sen. Neuberger (D-Ore) called for a special Senate investigation into the circumstances of the publication. Neuberger's suggestion was made before Watkins disclosed the subcommittee had obtained State Department approval.

Dr. Adams Case Awaits Summation By Attorneys

LONDON — Jurors in the murder trial of Dr. John Bodkin Adams began a weekend at their homes as the time approached for them to decide the fate of the 38-year-old Eastbourne society physician.

With the defense's plea completed and the prosecution expected to wind up its summation Monday, the case probably will go to the jury Tuesday.

English juries are not locked up — even in capital cases. But the 10 men and 2 women who have sat 15 days during the trial of the bachelor doctor were warned not to discuss the case with anyone outside the court.

Knight Suggests Senator Knowland Resign Post

WASHINGTON — A suggestion that Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) resign before his term ends indicated some Republican uneasiness today over the possibility of losing a California Senate seat in next year's election.

Knowland was silent about a statement yesterday by California's (GOP) Gov. Goodwin Knight that it would be helpful if Knowland would step aside so another Republican could be appointed and enter the 1958 campaign as a Senate member.

Rural Districts Make Protests On Consolidation

SALEM — Farm groups and some rural districts, which have successfully staved off compulsory school district consolidation for years, still don't like it.

They assailed the plan as undemocratic in a hearing here Friday. Supporters told the Senate Education Committee that the plan would save money and improve Oregon's school system.

The bill, passed by the House, would have committees of school board members in each county develop plans to re-organize. The plans would be submitted to a vote of the people throughout the proposed re-organized district. By this method, it is possible that some little districts would be forced to merge with bigger ones.

Ray W. Gill, Portland, Oregon State Grange, said the bill would cause "confusion, chaos and rancor" all over the state.

Ernest Jernstedt, Yamhill County farmer representing the Oregon Farmer Bureau Federation, said that in consolidation elections each district should be permitted to stay out. The sponsors say this would scuttle the whole idea behind the bill.

Bert Tousey, Tigard, representing the Oregon School Boards Assn., said the bill would provide badly needed unity. And Tom Scanlon, representing organized labor, called the bill "imperative."

Boy Takes Dare, Pulls Trigger, Kills Schoolboy

LANCASTER, Ohio — The 15-year-old Lancaster schoolboy placed the muzzle of the shotgun against his stomach and dared a 12-year-old playmate to "go ahead and pull the trigger."

Police said the playmate complied and Edgar Bloom died fifty minutes later at Lancaster-Fairfield Hospital.

The shooting Friday night followed an incident in which three boys playing outside the home of the 12-year-old disturbed him and a companion, who were watching television inside, according to Police Sgt. Everett Brown.

Bloom and two other boys were scratching and rapping on the window as Bloom's 12-year-old brother, Donald, and the 12-year-old who lived there, were watching television.

Capt. Brown said the young boy who lived there got a shotgun owned by his father. He placed a rock salt shell in the shotgun and went outside.

Two of the boys ran away, but Bloom, a seventh grader, stood his ground.

"I'm not afraid of rock salt," he said. "I've been shot with that stuff before."
