

To those who have partied with a dollar entitled them to attend the big annual banquet and business meeting Tuesday night, it will come as a pleasant surprise that they will see many of their friends and possibly themselves in the movies. Clark's Studio took a lot of pics last week, and some sneak previews indicate they are very good.

It may be possible to handle a very few tickets at the door, but necessarily not many since the cook has to know in advance just about how many to set up for. So, if you don't have a ticket, better come extra early, or eat before you come.

We just last week completed a file index of all members of the men's association, and sent each a card notifying them of the banquet. There may be a very few more whose names haven't come in yet, but our file shows 472 eligible. This is nearly double the high in the past. It would be interesting to know how many women are affiliated in their own association, and how many junior leaguers there are. We're gonna try to find out all that for you at a later date.

BESIDES the movies, there is more entertainment in store for the banqueters. Also, there will be some door prizes. All trophies and armpatch winners will receive their rewards. If you are in this class, be extra sure to come or authorize somebody to receive your prize.

Many bowlers are now concentrating on the Medford tournament. We talked to their secretary on the phone the other day. He has extended the deadline for entries until May 5. That allows time for a payday to a lot of folks, and should help in the entry list. Averages will be taken on the basis of 18 games bowled in the old alleys. If you didn't get started then, you will use your highest present average of 21 games or more.

HAD SOME good pinfall last week. Three 600's Monday night. Don Nye hit a 604, with a big 247 line for a booster. Herb Heinz used a 231 to boost his set up to 608. But the best effort was a 626 by Jack Harlan in the Elks League. This was fashioned on lines of 203-209-214, and is highest set in the Elks league for the season. Doyl Pressnell hit a 254 and Hugh Porterfield a monster 235, but neither could a total 600.

Joe Kokosinski had 290-210 in one set; Ed Birdsall had 206-214, and Winston-Dillard Fire Chief Barney Shepherd 201-200, without either topping 600. But Jim Bloom cut the mustard. His series was 629, and was helped by a big 246 single. Jim missed a set of tires by one strike, but Bobby Reid earned a set on a 248 game the same night. Other fast games saw Larry Wallace fall 236 logs, and Wilbur Minkler 232 in the Junior Classic.

GENE MERK hit his life-time high game, and possibly series, by spilling 240 sticks. The series was 562. Don Nye hit his second 211 in the ladies league. Joe Kelder got one Monday, and B. D. Briggs hit it Wednesday night, each winning a case of soft drinks.

We heard of a few rail splitters during the week. Eldon Lee tipped the 4-6. Don Nye the 6-7-10. Doug Kirkendall the 5-7. Norm Hill the 6-7, and Al Fish the 2-9, a kind of an easy one. But a couple odd ones were not picked. Ray Norton couldn't convert the three sticks he left in the "king row," viz, the 7-9-10. And one we never, never did see before fell to the lot of Orville Blake. His first ball nicked 6-pin, and when everything stopped toppling, the 2-3 split still stared him in the face. He missed it, too. Nor was that in the same series as his 122 and 222 games.

JOHNNY ANDERSON is back on the firing line after a long lay-off with a back ailment. Helen Carter took home a free ham on a dandy 183 all-spare game. Jovin Brake Supply made a record of sorts when they came up with their second tie series in one season Wednesday night.

Some nip-and-tuck races developing in several weeks. In the Industrial, four teams are within 3½ points; in the Metro, four within two; in the Commercial, five within two points, (and four have won 25 and lost 20 games). The entire 18 teams in Classic Junior are separated by only 20 points. Outstanding exception is Pepsi-Cola in the Classic Major, which is 24 points ahead of its closest competitor. Looks like they're in!

Ex-Scout Badly Burned

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — John C. Nee, 67, widely known baseball figure who retired last July 1 as chief scout for the Philadelphia Phillies, was critically burned Monday when he apparently fell asleep in bed with a lit cigarette in his hand.

Nee had been burned over 80 per cent of his body before firemen, summoned by his daughter, pulled him out of the smoking bed.

Alaskan Game Men Fret Over End Of Guide Law

JUNEAU, Alaska — One of the nation's prime trophy animals — the massive brown bear of Alaska — is coming out of its long winter hibernation early this year.

A mild winter and an early spring has resulted in an April influx of big game hunters from the states, eager to probe the southern Alaska woods for a kill before the short spring season closes in late June.

The early birds among the approximately 500 sportsmen who annually come to Alaska for a couple of weeks of hunting will arrive this year amid a controversy that has sent territorial sportsmen into an uncommon spin.

This year — so far, at least — non-resident hunters can buy a $50 Alaska license and take to the woods on their own, without the company of a registered professional hunting guide.

Guides Formerly Required For 25 years, non-resident hunters unfamiliar with Alaska's rugged terrain and likely to be awed by the abundance of game in the big territory, have been required to hire an Alaskan guide.

Until last Feb. 27 the requirement still was on the books. Then the conduct of sportsmen in the field.

The six guides demanded redress, and were scheduled to appeal to a commission meeting in February. But before they could appear, the solicitor's opinion cast doubt on whether a guide could be forced to report a violation in which he was personally involved.

All Guide Laws Junked The commission held the solicitor's opinion "took the heart out of the guide laws," and so junked them all.

Since then, the commission has proposed new legislation which would enable new regulations to be drafted to restore the guide requirements in proper legal form.

The guides, some of whom earn upwards of $50,000 a year as professionals in the business which annually is worth half a million dollars in the territory, also are seeking new regulations.

The Alaska Big Game Guide Assn., which supported enforcement of penalties against game law violators, is circulating a petition to be submitted to Secretary of Interior Seaton. The petition asks for "a new control guide system for the conservation of sports fish and game in Alaska."

Conservationist Worried A spokesman for the association said "our woods will be overrun with hunters" and "our big game is bound to suffer" unless guide requirements are restored.

The brown and black bear season in Alaska generally runs from Sept. 1 through the latter part of June, although winter hunting is prohibited while the animals are in hibernation. There is no closed season on polar bear, which do not hibernate.

Other big game in the territory includes deer, elk, caribou, moose, bison, mountain goat and mountain sheep. The seasons on these animals are in the fall and early winter, with the exception of the buffalo, which are hunted on a special permit basis.

Marlene Bauer Nabs 1st Money In Meet LAWTON, Okla. — The golfing girls were off for Montgomery, Ala., Monday for the Western Open starting Thursday with full knowledge that Marlene Bauer Hagge may be starting another drive for money-winning honors.

Mrs. Hagge, 23-year-old Delray Beach, Fla., competitor, gave notice she was ready to dig deeper into the Ladies Professional Golfers Assn. money chest by winning the $5,000 Lawton Open Sunday.

She won first money of $880 with three strokes to spare over Betsy Rawls of Spartanburg, S.C., by posting a 54-hole total of 216 — which equaled men's par over the 6,977-yard course. She was six shots under women's standard which had par of 74 compared with 72 for the men.

Miss Rawls, who started poorly with a 77 and then rallied for 72 and 70, had 219 and was a stroke ahead of Ruthie Jensen, Seattle, Wash., and Wiffi Smith, St. Clair, Mich.

When baseball historians grope through the records of Sunday, April 21, 1957, at some distant date, they'll mark it down as the day that:

1. A "day" doubleheader at Washington was called because of power failure.

2. Don Newcombe tied a record by throwing home run balls to three successive Pittsburgh batters.

3. Don Hoak, a Cincinnati base runner, "fielded" a grounder between second and third and tossed it to Johnny Logan, Milwaukee shortstop, thus, in effect, retiring himself.

4. Jim Wilson pitched a 2-3 perfect innings for the Chicago White Sox and didn't allow a Kansas City hit until there was one out in the ninth.

5. Frank Lane gnashed his teeth as a man he traded to Chicago Saturday, Bobby Del Greco, came through with a base hit that helped beat the St. Louis Cardinals 5-3 and then pitched himself on the back for engineering the deal that brought Sam Jones, a 6-3 winner in the second game, to St. Louis from the Cubs.

Day For History

All in all, Easter Sunday was a day to be remembered if for no other reason than that the New York Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers finally lost a game.

After one week of play, the Milwaukee Braves and the Chicago White Sox are the only unbeaten teams and the Cincinnati Redlegs are the only non-winners.

President Will Harridge has a problem on his hands after the second game at Washington was called because of power failure after five innings with Washington on top 2-1.

Since American League rules do not cover such a situation, Harridge will make a ruling after he gets the complete report from his umpires.

Baltimore won the first game 11-9, a wild affair that lasted 3 hours and 50 minutes and wasn't decided until the Orioles came up with two in the 10th inning. A total of 29 players, including 13 pitchers, saw action with George Zuberik getting the decision over Dick Hyde.

Pop Fly Beats Yanks The Yanks lost their first game, 5-4 to Boston when a wind-blown pop fly fell for a single between pitcher Bob Grim and the first base line with catcher Yogi Berra in pursuit. Gene March dashed home from second while Sam White's fly was falling for a game-winning single, giving Dave Sisler the verdict. Bill Skowron hit two homers.

Wilson retired the first 20 Kansas City batters. He finally walked Gus Zernial in the seventh. Iker Lopez broke his no-hitter with a single in the ninth and Harry Simpson also singled.

Tom Morgan, who matched Wilson's three-hitter, gave up the only run of the 1-0 game in the 10th on Sherm Lollar's sacrifice fly with the bases loaded.

Jack Dittmer, playing his first game for Detroit since his trade came through with a bloop pinch single for a 3-2 edge over Cleveland. It gave Jim Bunning the victory over Cal McLish.

New Hit For Homers

Newcombe delivered successive home runs to Frank Thomas, Paul Smith and Dick Groat of Pittsburgh in the third inning of the first game at Brooklyn.

The Pirates 6-3, Vern Law, who left with a pulled muscle, Bob Purkey and Roy Face held the Dodgers to two hits. One was a three-run homer by Carl Furillo in the ninth.

Hank Sauer beat the Phillies all by himself in the first game as a homer and a ninth-inning single that gave New York's Johnny Antonelli a 3-1 edge over Robin Roberts. In the second game, the Phils knocked out rookie Curt Barclay before he could retire a man and continued for an 8-5 triumph despite homers by Whitey Lockman and Willie Mays off winner Jack Sanford.

Del Crandall drove in two big runs with a single in Milwaukee's 3-1 victory over Cincinnati. Warren Spahn took his second straight at the expense of Johnny Klippstein.

Hoak, running toward third in the first inning, fielded a ground ball hit by Gene Bell and was declared an automatic out. Bell was given a hit by the scorer although the umpires and Manager Birdie Tebbetts of the Redlegs differed on whether "interference" should have been called.

Pilot Wins 4 Events

MONMOUTH, Ore. — Portland University's George Hinkhouse won four events Saturday as Oregon College of Education won Saturday's dual track meet, 76-35.

Hinkhouse's wins were in the 100 and 200 yard dashes and both hurdles.

Double winners were Jim Senko, Portland, in the mile and the 880-yard run, and Dave Hagen, OCE, in the high jump and discus.

COACH NAMED

BEND, Ore. — Buck Monroe said Friday he will be head coach of football, baseball and basketball at Corbett High School next school year.

Monroe directed Culver's state football team to state titles in 1955 and 1956.

KELLEY WINS BOSTON MARATHON — Johnny Kelley, 26-year-old Groton, Conn., teacher wins the Boston A. A. Marathon in time of 2:30:05 for the 26-mile 385-yard grid. Kelley was first American to win since another Johnny Kelley—no relation—won in 1945. (AP).

Potty May Take Fling At Movies

PORTLAND — His American boxing career apparently nearing an end, Ewart Potgieter, the South African skyscraper, may take a fling at motion pictures.

And if he fails to go over in Hollywood, it will be back to South Africa for the 7-foot-2-inch giant.

So reported Capt. Johan Eloff, Potgieter's manager, Friday after the Portland Boxing Commission voted to uphold the suspension of Potgieter ordered by the Massachusetts Boxing Commission.

The Massachusetts commission suspended the towering heavyweight earlier this week when a doctor said Potgieter had failed to return for examination and a possible treatment after an operation on his pituitary gland.

The Portland commission went along with Massachusetts Friday, upholding the suspension and recommending that Potgieter go back to Boston.

Eloff said, however, he doubted Potgieter would return. Eloff said he will make one more appeal here and if it is rejected the fighter would try the films and if that fails it will be home again to South Africa.

UO, WSC Nab Track Meets; Idaho Dumped

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The University of Oregon and Washington State College were winners in Northern Division track meets Saturday. In a non-conference meet Eastern Washington scored a surprise victory over Idaho.

Oregon posted an 81-47 victory over Washington at Eugene. WSC defeated Oregon State 82-1-3 to 48-2-3 at Corvallis and Eastern Washington downed Idaho, 89-40-4.

Five records were made in the Oregon-Washington meet, three by Oregon, and two by Washington. Oregon's Steve Anderson set a record of 9.5 seconds in the 100-yard dash; teammate Doug Basham covered the 120-yard high hurdles in 14.4 seconds and Ed Blingham threw the javelin 225 feet, 9½ inches.

Meet Records Set

Meet records set by Washington were Larry Pulford's 52 feet, 4½ inches in the shot put and the mile relay team's time of 3:18.

Washington State took first place in 9 of 15 events in its victory over Oregon State. Individual high scorer of the meet was Duane Derenan of WSC with 18 points. He won both hurdles races and the broad jump and was second in the high jump.

Four meet records were set: the 880-yard run, Cliff Cordy, OSC, 1:54.8; discus, Ron Smart, OSC, 156 feet; high jump, Wayne Moss, OSC, 6 feet 7½ inches; and shotput, Steve Frye, WSC, 53 feet, 2½ inches.

EWCE Freshman Stars

Leading Eastern Washington in the victory over Idaho was freshman Gary Fuller of Coeur d'Alene, Idaho. He won both hurdles races and the broad jump.

Winner of the 2-mile race was Ray Hutton, an English exchange student at Idaho, who went the distance in 9:24.7. This was 12 seconds under the Evergreen Conference record, but the record will stand.

Beavers Shade UO In ND Baseball Tilt

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Washington State defeated Washington, 14-3, and Oregon State downed Oregon, 8-5, in Northern Division baseball games Saturday. In a non-conference game Idaho trounced Gonzaga of Spokane, 2-0.

Dick Windham sewed up the game for WSC with a three-run homer in the third inning. And in the fourth Gary Whiting cleared the bases with a grand slam home run. Three more runs came in for the Cougars in the seventh on a homer by Joe Tremblay.

A bright spot for Oregon in the game at Eugene was a triple play in the second inning. It was the first such play for Oregon in several years.
