

Teen Section Is Named

SPRING CONCERT TIME is scheduled tonight at 8 in the Roseburg High School gymnasium for the a cappella choir above. Also performing in concert during the evening will be five other high school choral groups. They are two freshmen choruses, a sophomore chorus, a junior-senior chorus and the girls glee club. The program will be directed by Robert Robbins, high school vocal department head. (Photo Lab)

The News-Review's teen-age section now has a name. The selection was made by a panel of high school judges Friday at The News-Review office. Their selection was "Today's Youth, Tomorrow's Citizen." Balloting followed a luncheon provided by The News-Review for delegates and guests.

Contributing the winning name was a Roseburg freshman, Linda Carter of 424 W. Elizabeth St. For her efforts, she will receive a $10 cash prize.

The masthead with the new name for the teen-age section will be started this fall. The selection came after two close votes by the eight-member panel, representing seven schools of the county.

All 17 of the county's schools were asked to send representatives, but because of conflicts several representatives were unable to attend the balloting session.

Those on the board of judges were Barbara McGuire of Douglas High School, Anne Campbell of

WITH THE HELP of the four students in the picture below, these four students selected the name "Today's Youth, Tomorrow's Citizen" for this teen-age section. Shown ready to ballot on the names are: John Wheeler of Camas Valley High and Jeanine Murray of Myrtle Creek High, seated, and Marvin Fray of Roseburg High and Jimmy Masley of Glendale High, standing. Yoncalla Commercial Test Slated For 5 High Schools

A commercial contest for five high schools is scheduled at the Yoncalla High School Tuesday. The contest starts at 9 a.m.

The subjects will be bookkeeping, typing 1 and 2. Students from Elkton, Drain, Yoncalla, Oakland and Sutherlin will compete.

Another future event at Yoncalla High is the annual spring concert scheduled Thursday. In conjunction with the concert, a review of industrial arts objects will be on display.

Prom Held

The Yoncalla High School junior-senior prom was carried out in the theme of a large garden. Fir trees were used for background, entwined with large bunches of dogwood and lilacs with blue-colored lights used for a moonlight look. The Medford Fuller orchestra from Reedsport furnished the music.

The old music room of the high school has been turned into a drafting department for the shop work. The music department was moved into the "Little Theatre" room.

Grant Brown took the sophomore Biology class on a field trip to the fish hatchery on the McKenzie River recently.

A music assembly was held recently at the high school, and guest Mrs. Annie Kruse was guest speaker. She told of her visit to Los Angeles, Calif., where she took part in the "This is Your Life" TV program featuring Mrs. Gladys Workman.

91 Take Field Trip To Coast

By VERA BAUER

Ninety-one students from Roseburg High School invaded the Coos Bay region on their annual Marine Biology field trip.

The students with their chaperones, James Strauszburg, W. A. Payne, R. Glenn Brady, Mrs. Joy Rich, all biology instructors at the high school, and Mrs. Margaret Packer, mother of one of the students, left the school at 6:30 a.m. and returned at 5:30 p.m.

The students were there to study marine life specimens. Some specimens found were sea anemone, sea urchins, starfish and various sea slugs.

When the tide started to come in the students and chaperones evacuated to Sunset Beach for a picnic lunch brought posthaste by the students. Some of the afternoon activities included sun bathing, swimming and playing ball.

As stated by R. Glenn Brady, head of the science department, "Although nothing unusual was found or happened we consider this a successful trip."

Community Aides To Be Honored

The Douglas Community Hospital Auxiliary will hold a tea in honor of all active members of the Junior-Community Aides of Roseburg High School this Wednesday at 2:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Chester Morgan.

Outgoing senior members of the club and their mothers will be honored guests at the tea, according to Joanne Tilton, president.

Another meeting for girls interested in nursing as a career will be held Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Veteran's Hospital administration building when the Oregon State Nurses Assn. acts as host to all junior and senior girls who wish to attend.

Baccalaureate Set At Drain

Drain Union High School's baccalaureate has been scheduled for this Sunday, reports Principal Dale Skews.

The featured address will be given by the Rev. Hubert White of the Drain Church of Christ. He will be assisted during the ceremony by Dwight L. Roys of the Drain Assembly of God Church.

The baccalaureate service will start at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

Meanwhile, Mark Hatfield, Oregon secretary of state has been dated for the commencement ceremony May 23 at 8 p.m. at the same site.

'Dilettantes' Schedule Picnic At Tahkenitch

"Dilettantes," the art club at Roseburg High, has made plans for a picnic at Lake Tahkenitch on the coast May 18. It will be the annual spring outing.

Boating and swimming will be the main activities of the day. Picnic costs are raised by the young artists through the year. They draw posters and program covers to advertise Roseburg High School club activities.

283-Page Umpqua Distribution Slated

Distribution of Roseburg High's yearbook, the "Umpqua" will take place Thursday during third hour classes, according to Donald Bodeen, annual adviser.

The shipment of yearbooks is expected to arrive this week from the Taylor Publishing Co. in Texas. The 283-page "Umpqua" is the largest yearbook ever published by the high school.

BAKED HAM? RHS Stages Roman Feast

Time crawled backwards briefly last week as 20 students at Roseburg High School took a first-hand glimpse at Roman history with a full-scale Roman banquet.

Following the entreaty of Julius Caesar (Ted Sohn) to the gods, the feast began. It consisted of wild boar (baked ham), bread, honey, asparagus, eggs, dates and wine (grape juice diluted in water).

To make the "oray" more complete, almost all the youths wore dress resembling Roman clothes. The freshmen were dressed as slaves and the upper classmen as nobility.

Linda Neal was chairman of the affair. Mrs. Edna Lorraine, high school Latin teacher, assisted her.

Douglas Prom Set - On Saturday Night

The Douglas High School junior-senior prom is scheduled Saturday at the high school auditorium at 8 p.m.

Dick Dorr and his orchestra will play for the event. For those students who don't dance, Looking-glass Church has scheduled a ham banquet at the Swedish Dining Room in Roseburg at the same time.

Armed Services Make Pitch To RHS Seniors

The armed services were out in force at Roseburg High School last week.

Representatives from the Army, Navy, Marine Corps and Air Corps were featured speakers at a meeting for senior boys. After a panel discussion by the representatives, the boys separated into groups to discuss fields opportunities of the respective services.

Junior Highs To Hear Roseburg High Band

The Roseburg High School concert band, under the direction of Mr. Harold Withnell, will perform at Joseph Lane Tuesday and at Central Junior High Wednesday.

The hour-long programs will feature light popular and classical music. Dance routines by the Roseburg High School dancing majorities will also be featured.

"The purpose of these concerts," stated Mr. Withnell, "is to entertain the students and to give the junior high band students a chance to observe our band."

LINDA CARTER ... she wins

Glide Pupils Slate Concert

Music students at Glide High School will present their annual spring concert in the high school gymnasium Wednesday at 8 p.m.

Selections will be presented by the high school band and choir, junior high band and chorus and the elementary school band.

The event is given as a token of appreciation to the community for its support of the music program in raising funds and purchasing band uniforms and choir robes. Carroll Graber, choral director, said. The bands will be under the direction of Wesley R. Heleen, instrumental music instructor.

Canyonville Prom Regents Acclaimed

Anne Harry and Warren Richards were crowned queen and king of the annual Canyonville High School junior prom held recently in Roseburg.

The two were crowned during the dance. Earlier in the evening, Ronald Krasky, former teacher at Canyonville High, took the role of featured speaker.

Other events during the banquet were the reading of the 1957 class prophecy by Yvonne Jones and the class will by Dulcia Bailey. The high school triple trio sang two songs during one of the dance intermissions.

Myrtle Creek Honor Society Sets Initiation

The National Honor Society of MCHS will initiate five new members in a ceremony to be held at the high school, Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

Eligible to be received into the society will be Carol Jones, junior; Jean Hayer, Druley Kimball; Janice Steinhauer, and Brent Winston, sophomores.

The ceremony will be open to parents, teachers, and friends of the initiates and members. Refreshments will be served following the initiation.

Junior Highs To Hear Roseburg High Band

The Roseburg High School concert band, under the direction of Mr. Harold Withnell, will perform at Joseph Lane Tuesday and at Central Junior High Wednesday.

The hour-long programs will feature light popular and classical music. Dance routines by the Roseburg High School dancing majorities will also be featured.

"The purpose of these concerts," stated Mr. Withnell, "is to entertain the students and to give the junior high band students a chance to observe our band."

SOC PERSONALITIES

Terry I. Lampert, a Myrtle Creek freshman at Southern Oregon College, was cast as a slave in the play "Aladdin and His Wonderful Lamp" last weekend. The dramatization was part of the theme "Arabian Nights" which came to life as part of Mother's Weekend at the college.

Another Douglas County student at the college, Sharon Ostrander of Roseburg, was a member of the hostess committee for the annual weekend.

Yoncalla Union High, Jeanine Murray of Myrtle Creek, Jimmy Masley of Glendale High, Bruce Boss of Drain Union High, Marvin Fray of Roseburg High and John Wheeler of Camas Valley. Bob Thrush of Camas Valley was picked as a delegate-at-large to assist in breaking ties.

The delegates finally narrowed the list to four. The votes on these four were so close that Editor Charles V. Stanton decided to add a fourth cash prize to the original list of three.

Wins Second
Second prize went to another Roseburg girl, Sandra Buckingham of 2853 W. Sherwood Ave. The young sophomore's selection was "Teen Topics." It is good enough for $7.50.

Still another Roseburg girl, Rita Sutton, had entered the same name, but Sandra's entry was received earlier.

The third place vote was so close that it was decided to award equal $5 prizes to each of the third-place entries.

Oddly enough, one of the third-place winners was one of the judges, Jeanine Murray, of Myrtle Creek, the only junior in the group of judges. Her entry was "Teen News and Views." A Sutherlin senior completed the all-girl winners' list. She is Patricia Louise Morningstar. Her entry was "Spotlight On Teens."

Contributors Secret

None of the judges was allowed to learn who or from what school the entries were made. The original list of 63 names had been narrowed to the final 11 by a News-Review board of judges. Only these names appeared on the ballots. Nothing else appeared on the ballots.

Featured guest at the luncheon meeting was Circuit Judge Charles S. Woodrich, who has gained considerable note for his interest in youth. He directs the juvenile court.

Keynoting the meeting was Editor Stanton, who explained the birth of the section devoted to teen-agers. He also thanked the youths attending for the support of their schools in both preparation and readership of the section.

The luncheon was served in the Hotel Umpqua.

DeMolay Conclave Draws Local Boys

The State De Molay Conclave was held in Salem this month with Karl Thiele, Ernest Knigge, Larry Sloan, Emiss Ellison, Kenneth Goe, Jim Apperson, LeRoy Roberts and Alvin Butler, attending from the Roseburg chapter.

Accompanying them was Bill Unrath, district advisor and Ralph Apperson, chapter advisor.

The highlights of the conclave were the election of the state officers for the new year; the spirited fight for the selection of the site for the conclave for 1958; conferring of the degrees on 28 candidates from all over the state; and the sweetheart ball.

There were 62 chapters in attendance out of the 97 in the state. Every district was represented.

The mothers club of the two host chapters served a breakfast and luncheon and the conclave was concluded with a banquet Saturday night, addressed by Johnny Carpenter, sportscaster from KOIN radio station in Portland. A dance followed the banquet and a conclave sweetheart was chosen.

County Students Active At Milo

Douglas County students at the Milo Seventh-day Adventist Academy are taking no back seats in activities and honors at the school.

Spokesman Inez Hitchman reports the academy has 52 county students on the enrollment list. Nine of them have been listed on the latest honor roll, 22 are in the choir and eight in the band. The school has three seniors from the county this year.

Bud Alavezos of Roseburg is senior class president, and Lynette Nelson, a Roseburg junior, is president of the Girls' Club.

CEREMONY SET

A joint installation and initiation of officers of the Douglas High School Drama Club and Future Teachers of America is scheduled tonight at 7:30 p.m. at the high school.

PTA SELECTION

Jennie, Glide senior, has been named winner of a $195 scholarship to Oregon State College by the Oregon Council of Parents and Teachers. She will enter the educational field. Anne is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Jennie. A letter to Forrest Kennaday, Glide PTA president from the State Tuition Scholarship Committee, said the award was made to "outstanding young women and men for professional education."

"WE LIKE IT" say the four Douglas County high school students above who took official part in naming the teen-age section. They expressed satisfaction to the section being carried weekly by The News-Review. The two girls are Ann Campbell of Yoncalla High and Barbara McGuire of Douglas High. The boys are Bob Thrush, left, of Camas Valley and Bruce Boss of Drain High. (Picture by Paul Jenkins)

Sohn, Johnson Nominated By IRL At Roseburg High

Ted Sohn and Bob Johnson are the presidential nominees for the International Relations League of Roseburg High School.

Officers for next year were nominated at a meeting of the club last week. The nominees are: Sally Wells and Claudette Tucker for vice president; Faye Reeder, Sandra Liles and Janet Travis for secretary; and Jerry Healy and Janet Marling for historian-reporter.

The club will vote on the officers at the next meeting. About 20 new members attended the meeting which was to acquaint the new members with the old. Miss Helen Casey and Miss Nancy Hooper, English teachers, were guests. Miss Casey showed slides of other countries.

'Blue Heaven' Theme Used At Myrtle Creek

"My Blue Heaven" was the theme of the Myrtle Creek junior-senior prom and banquet at the high school.

At the banquet, speeches were delivered by Dudley Cameron, Student Body President Larry Mauk, senior class president Wayne Best, senior class vice president Hubert Stokes, and junior class president Altha Ireland.

Entry to the dance on the "golden stairs" guarded by St. Peter (Rod Trask) was made at 9 p.m. Music was furnished by the Canyonville Lions Club band.
