

Unmanned Truck Crashes Into Car

An unmanned pickup truck took an unexpected roll down a grade in reverse in Glendale early this week halting only when it struck a vehicle operated by Wayne Lewallen of Glendale. The pickup backed down onto Glendale Road when it was out of gear. The owner, Wilton Garrett, said that he had apparently brushed the gear shift mechanism with his leg as he got out of the car. The leg is stiff from a previous accident. He had parked the truck in the driveway of a residence, 2 1/2 miles east of Glendale, belonging to his mother, Mrs. Amanda Garrett of Roseburg. Neither Lewallen nor his wife, who was a passenger in the car struck by the truck, was hurt. But there was considerable damage to their late model car including damage to the front fender, headlight and bumper. The back fender and running board of Garrett's truck were damaged.

Catholics Told Not To Attend Graham Sessions

NEW YORK — Catholics are being warned again about attending evangelist Billy Graham's crusade in Madison Square Garden. The warning—the second in seven weeks—came from the Rev. Richard Ginder, editor of "Our Sunday Visitor," a national Catholic weekly. Father Ginder said some Catholics had mistakenly taken the view that their church had given Graham the preaching "a mild sort of approval."

To correct such assumptions, he is publishing an editorial on the subject in next Sunday's issue of the church publication saying: "We are tolerant and friendly to Billy Graham and company just as we are to the Lutherans, Presbyterians and Jehovah's Witnesses."

"However, our tolerance and friendliness exist only at the social and civil level. It stops dead where religion enters in." The first warning to Catholics about attending Graham's services was sounded in Washington, D.C., on April 24 by the Rev. John E. Kelly, director of the National Catholic Welfare Conference. He described Graham as a purveyor of false doctrines whose teachings were "a danger to the faith."

Radioactivity Said Well Below Maximum

SEATTLE — Radioactivity in the Columbia River remains "well below the maximum permissible" although a large amount of the river's water is used as a cooling agent at the Hanford atomic plant, according to a report to the American Institute of Chemical Engineers, Royal E. Rostenbach said. Radioactive isotopes decay while waste water from the plant is held in settling basins prior to being returned to the river. Most of the radioactivity found in the Columbia as a result of operations at Hanford disappears before the waste water reaches McNary Dam, 25 miles downstream, Rostenbach said.

RADIATOR STOLEN

Theft of an automobile radiator from behind the main building of Barcus Sales & Service was reported to the sheriff's office Wednesday by Paul Barcus. He said it was taken Tuesday night.

Communist China Claims American Planes In Raid

LONDON — Communist China claimed that an American air and naval force had "invaded part of the south China sea" for eight hours Wednesday and sent flight after flight of U. S. planes pouring over the Chinese mainland. Peiping Radio said its anti-aircraft defense had damaged a U. S. Navy plane and shot down two others flown by Chinese Nationalist pilots. The Peiping broadcast said the action took place in the Swatow area of Kwangtung province, 200 miles across the sea from Formosa. It said the American force consisted of the U. S. aircraft carrier Hornet and four destroyers which sailed from Hong Kong early Thursday morning. "They invaded part of the South China sea within the territorial waters of China," the broadcast said. Then U. S. naval planes began taking off from the carrier and "intruded into the Swatow area," Peiping radio said. All told, the American aircraft from the Hornet "made 66 sorties in 23 groups," the broadcast said. Just where the Chinese Nationalist planes came from was not specified, but Peiping said four "Chiang Kai-Shek F84 fighters" joined the Americans over the Swatow area in the afternoon. "They met heavy anti-aircraft gunfire from the ground and two planes were shot down and fell into the sea," the broadcast said. The other two planes turned tail and fled. The broadcast said only one of the American planes "was hit and damaged—it escaped in a southerly direction, belching smoke."

General Says NATO Can Hit Any Russian Target

WASHINGTON — Gen. Lauris Norstad has assured congressional investigators that North Atlantic Treaty forces now have the capability of "destroying anything that is of military significance in Russia at the present time." "I believe that this is a capability we can continue to have five years from now and ten years from now," Norstad testified. Norstad, who is Nato commander, gave this testimony recently at a secret session of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. A censored version was made public Wednesday. Norstad, supporting the foreign aid program, told the committee that free world forces have some 150 Nato airfields that not only give them bases from which to operate but provide "a large measure of security against a surprise, sneak attack."

Portland Advised To Buy Block For City Building

PORTLAND — Portland should buy a downtown city block for a future city-county building. That was the recommendation Tuesday from the city planning director, Lloyd Keefe. Two City Council members said they approved the idea. Keefe's suggestion was for the purchase of the block that now lies between City Hall and the Multnomah County Courthouse. He said the city could buy the south half now for about $200,000. Parking lots and filling stations are in that area. He estimated a building could be put up for another $540,000. Keefe said that when the county joins the program later, the north half of the block could be purchased and another unit of the city-county building constructed. He said the building could be connected to the present government structures with tunnels.

Bicyclist Picks Bride On Trip

OKLAHOMA CITY — Bicyclist Charles L. Holder, of Tellico Plains, Tenn., who has pedaled across the nation four times, found himself a farm bride yesterday. The 20-year-old former Marine said he was on a back road when he decided to stop at a house for a drink of water. "She was in the front yard and I asked for a drink," he said. "We didn't talk much but I asked her to marry me. She agreed and talked to her folks. She jumped on the back of the bicycle and we rode on to Wildcat before either of us spoke much." His bride-to-be is Jackie Britt, 20, whose home is near the village of Hitchita in eastern Oklahoma. "It happened suddenly and I haven't fully recovered," Holder declared. "We want to get married at the Oklahoma Semiconvential here." Holder said if he didn't receive any encouragement at the exposition he would try to get a job and make enough money to buy Miss Britt a bike. She is "not much of a bicycle rider but with practice she can get her leg muscles toned up," he said. "We will work here until we get on our feet and then plan a bicycle trip around the world as a honeymoon."
