Beamer then singled into center field to score Avery and Harvey Whitten singled into left to score Beamer.

Frank Lane's collection of the bought and bartered—plus Stan Musial—have proved themselves on the road. Now if these St. Louis Cardinals can adjust their appetites to home cooking, this might be a National League battle that's going to the Birds.

Cardinal teams have threatened before without winning since the league pennant last flew over the St. Louis ballyard in 1946, but this is a season with all the earmarks of a new order.

The Cards are even beating Brooklyn at Ebbets Field—a sure sign it's time for a closer look.

A 7-6, 8-4 doubleheader sweep of the nose-diving Dodgers at the Brooks' stronghold yesterday—first time that's happened in at least eight years—boosted St. Louis into second place behind Milwaukee in the five-club NL race.

An 18-year-old bonus beauty only a week out of high school, Von McDaniel, represented the "bought," Hoyt Wilhelm the "bartered" and Musial was Musial in the Cardinals splurge against Brooklyn, dropping the defending champions to fifth place.

McDaniel, younger brother of the Cards' Lindy McDaniel, allowed only one hit in four scoreless innings of relief in the opener, which Musial tied at 6-6 with a three-run homer and Ken Boyer won with a solo drive into the stands. Wilhelm outdid that in the second game, taking over for winner Willard Schmidt in the sixth retiring all 12 Dodgers he faced.
