

Canyonville Camp Fire Girls Take Indian Name

The newly organized Camp Fire Girls of Canyonville have chosen the name "Oco-wa-han," which means "work together."

Each girl, with an Indian name of her own, has already participated in club activities. The group has held a picnic and swimming party where some girls earned their outdoor craft honors.

The group will meet twice a month during the summer, with the next meeting held at the home of Mrs. Middleton Thursday at 1:30 p.m., reports correspondent Pearl Moore.

Polio Vaccine Clinic Set At Glendale Elementary

A polio vaccine clinic has been scheduled at the Glendale Elementary School Thursday from 2 to 4 p.m., reports correspondent Mrs. G. B. Fox.

Parents have been requested to bring children to the clinic who have not received their first or second shots.

It had originally been planned to send out a school bus, but it was announced last night that probably not enough children would be brought in to make the project worthwhile.

Mack Sennett, Famous For Movies, Is Ill

HOLLYWOOD — Movie pioneer Mack Sennett, who gave the world the Keystone Cops, pie-throwing comedy and the Sennett Bathing Beauties, is seriously ill in Hollywood Presbyterian Hospital.

The 73-year-old producer underwent major surgery Friday for an undisclosed ailment. He has been ill about a month.

Sennett has been living in retirement in a Hollywood apartment for many years.

BLUESBIRDS TO MEET

The Canyonville Bluesbirds will meet at the home of Mrs. George Allen Thursday at 10:30 a.m.

They are requested to bring a sack lunch for a hike which will prepare them for their honors toward the first rank in the Camp Fire Girls, trail seekers. The hike will last until 1 p.m., reports correspondent Pearl Moore.
