

Archaeologist Held For Trying To Take Findings From Egypt

CAIRO (AP) — An American archaeologist who uncovered a 40-century-old royal tomb was held by Egyptian police today after customs officials accused him of trying to smuggle four bags of antiquities out of the country. Charles A. Muses, 38, of Indian Hills, Colo., was arrested at the Cairo International Airport last night as local newspapers published reports of his American team discoveries. U.S. Consul Larry Roeder, present while police questioned Muses, said the case hinges on whether the archaeologist was guilty of criminal intent or just ignorant of the Egyptian law requiring a special license to export relics found in Egypt. Cairo papers reported that the expedition he heads had discovered a 150-foot-square pyramid base at Dashour and beneath it the sarcophagus of King Amenemhat, a hitherto unknown ruler of the 13th Dynasty, about 20 centuries before Christ.

Argument Slated In Crosby Case In Arizona

PRESCOTT, Ariz. (AP) — A "full and complete" argument is planned by Clyde C. Crosby, Oregon Teamsters Union official, when the state of Arizona tries to re-instate an old conviction against Crosby next month. So said E. C. Locklear of Prescott, the attorney for the Portland labor leader, Thursday. He said he expects a hearing in Yavapai County Superior Court early next month. Earlier, Locklear had asked the Arizona Supreme Court for a rehearing on its recent ruling concerning Crosby. The high court rejected his request. The case came up last year when Crosby appeared in Prescott and asked that a 1930 theft conviction against him be wiped off the county records. Crosby said the conviction was improper because he was a juvenile at the time. When he appeared, Crosby was under indictment in Oregon for carrying a gun, a crime for an ex-convict in Oregon.

Prince Norodom Quits As Premier

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Cambodia's premier, Prince Norodom Sihanouk, has quit in disgust over bribery and graft in his administration, informed sources said Friday. This is the fifth time in two months the premier has submitted his resignation to King Norodom Suramarit, his father. None has been accepted. The premier used to be King himself, but was succeeded by his father two years ago when he abdicated to obtain a freer political hand. This time, friends said, Prince Norodom intends to leave the country for two months of medical treatment on the French Riviera. This may force a showdown in the country's tangled political scene. There was no indication of a successor.

Soviet Clamps News Ban On UN's Hungry Report

LONDON (AP) — The Kremlin Friday blacked out all public comment at home on the United Nations report condemning the bloody Soviet repression of the Hungarian uprising. Soviet newspapers did not carry a line on the report made public Thursday. All mention of it was omitted from Moscow Radio's home service broadcasts heard here. However, the Red radio continued to spout a steady stream of counter-accusations in its overseas services in an apparent attempt to nullify any propaganda gains made by publication of the report in Europe.

Forest Grove Veteran Dies In Hospital Here

Joseph W. Vandecovering, 41, died Thursday at the Roseburg Veterans Administration Hospital. He was born Feb. 5, 1915, in Roy, Ore., and was a resident of Forest Grove at the time of his death. He was a member of the Catholic Church and was a veteran of World War I.
Surviving are four brothers, Anthony of Forest Grove, Herman of Portland, Peter of St. Paul and Walter of North Plains, Wash.; two sisters, Mrs. George Vanderzandy of Cordellus, and Sister Mary Barbara of St. Stephens Convent in Portland.
The body has been removed to The Chapel of the Roses and funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Opposition Expressed To Rose St. Couplet

$100,000. However, it was brought out that the city must pay for right-of-way.
Dimick's contention was that the city had no present plan for right-of-way purchase.
City Manager George Farrell said two methods of financing right-of-way purchase are these: (1) Through budgeting procedures, and (2) a bond issue. Both, he pointed out, would require a vote of the people. Thus, there would be no assurance that the financing would be forthcoming.
Dimick suggested that a detailed study of routing traffic on Pine Street rather than Rose be made, but Williams said the plan already had been studied by the State Highway Dept. and rejected as being too costly.
Williams also said that to put the couplet on Rose would mean more to the business of the town. But opponents pointed out that the couplet would extend only a few blocks on Rose between Diamond Lake Boulevard and Mosher Avenue.
Also speaking against the plan was Councilman Rutie Ritzman, who said it would be too costly.
State Rep. Al Fliegel, a former mayor, outlined a history of the project.
Speaking in favor of the plan was T. H. Pargeter, president of the Roseburg Chamber of Commerce.
Williams said the testimony will be transcribed and submitted to the State Highway Commission for determination. The decision is expected within 60 days.

World Labor Group Seeks Slave Labor Ban

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) — A convention calling for a ban on slave labor was adopted by the International Labor Organization conference here Friday with one American delegate abstaining. The text was submitted by the ILO's Forced Labor Committee. It will become binding in each of the 78 member countries after parliamentary ratification.

Farmers Vote To Continue Wheat Quotas

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's farmers voted in a referendum Thursday to continue federal marketing quotas on next year's wheat crop.
The unofficial count from the 36 commercial-producing states in which the balloting was conducted gave 143,333 for and 28,833 against the Agriculture Department's control program.
That was a favorable majority of 83.3 per cent—far in excess of the necessary two-thirds. It compared with a majority of 87.5 per cent given quotas in a similar referendum a year ago.
Reports of strong opposition in the southern Great Plains failed to materialize. Growers decided to accept the none-too-popular production restrictions in return for a government guarantee of higher prices than they could have counted on otherwise.
The department had announced that if quotas were approved, it would support the 1958 crop at an average of $1.78 a bushel, but would drop this to about $1.19 if quotas were rejected.

West Germany To Do Business With Red China

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — West Germany, which does more business with Communist China than any other Western nation, has followed Britain's lead and abolished special restrictions on trade with Peiping, Italy did the same and government sources in Tokyo said Japan would fall in line next month.
Germany and Italy became the seventh and eighth nations to break away from the U.S. lead by relaxing curbs on the China trade. Business with China in these nations now is on the same basis as that with the Soviet Union and the Communist nations of Europe.
The Netherlands, Belgium, Luxembourg, Norway and France acted earlier.
The embargo had been applied by all the NATO nations except Iceland and Japan, except for the United States, those nations which have not loosened their restrictions are expected to do so soon.

He was born March 17, 1873 in Forrest, Ill. He was preceded in death by his wife, Margaret, on May 23, 1953. He was a member of the Roseburg First Christian Church.
Surviving are a son, George of Lodi, Calif., and a sister, Mrs. Nellie Stephens of Forrest, Ill.
The body has been removed to The Chapel of the Roses and funeral arrangements will be announced upon arrival of relatives.

150 Japanese Students Storm American Embassy

TOKYO (AP) — About 150 leftist Japanese students tried to storm past a 400-man police guard in front of the American Embassy today to protest against U.S. nuclear tests, the Girard case and American occupation of Okinawa.
Forming a human wall, the armed Japanese police turned back three waves of shoving, elbowing and shouting students. No one appeared hurt in the scuffle, but four students were arrested for slinging police.
Finally the police allowed a five-man student delegation into the main embassy building. The group spent nearly an hour voicing their demands that the United States quit testing nuclear weapons, give Okinawa back to Japan and let Japan try GI William S. Girard. First Secretary William B. Coolidge and Second Secretary Richard L. Sneider heard them out.
"The time I put in was eight full days and close to 100 hours," Dr. Krieger said. "My time was worth $30 an hour. I think the bill is a fair amount to charge."

Administration Rejects Postal Pay Hike Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower Administration rejected Friday proposals by Congress members for another pay raise for post office employees.
Asst. Budget Director Robert E. Merriam said a postal payroll increase would be inflationary and likely to lead to other government pay raises costing billions of dollars.

Heavy Rainfall Noted During May In County

May was a month of heavy precipitation in three areas of Douglas County, according to the monthly report from the Douglas County Water Resources Survey. Elkhead led the gauged areas of the county with 4.3 inches of precipitation. Close behind was Curtin with 4.2. Sutherland Camp showed a reading of 4.1.
Several gauges registered more than three inches of precipitation. They are: Idlewild Park - Rock Creek 3.37, Upper Steamboat 3.26, Steamboat Ranger 3.35, Reston 3.34, Steamboat ranger station 3.01.
Lowest precipitation figure was recorded at Roseburg (1.66). Other recordings were these: Winchester 2.16, Flournoy Valley 2.71, Myrtle Creek 2.3, Tiller 2.62, Devils Flat 2.67 and Camas Valley 2.95.
Three gauges in the county showed recordings of more than an inch of precipitation in any one day. Leading the list was Reston with 1.4 inches on May 17. The same day, the Marial station on the West Fork of Cow Creek showed 1.04. The Little River gauge showed exactly an inch on May 20.

Doctor's Bill of $1,500 For Benny Criticized

Something developed in this fashion as an ending to what was a happy event for all concerned—the rescue of Benny," said Dr. Philip J. Raffle.
Dr. Raffle is Suffolk county commissioner of health and chairman of the County Medical Society's Public Relations Committee.
"The Medical Society is quite concerned that the matter be settled promptly. I'm sure it can be satisfactorily adjusted."
On the matter is placed before the society's five-man Mediation Committee—composed of "elder statesmen" of the county's medical profession—it can be adjudicated in a day or two, Dr. Raffle said.
The parents have said that, while they are grateful to Dr. Krieger for his efforts in the case, their economic predicament is such that they cannot pay a medical bill as high as $1,500.
Young Benny, 5, was trapped May 16 in a well shaft dug by his father at their modest home in this rural Long Island community. He had fallen in while playing with a chum from next door. It took nearly 24 hours of frantic rescue work by scores of volunteer laborers to free the boy alive after hope had all but vanished. The happy ending to that effort, however, was soon dimmed by marsh rumors, dissension and worry.
Bunners who supervised rescue operations, Mike Striz, said there is bitterness over the heroic role assigned to Sam Woodson, a Negro employe of his construction firm who brought the boy out of the well. Striz said other men actually did more but were overlooked.
Bunners have circulated in this rural community on eastern Long Island that the Hoopers are profited from the sensational rescue of their son, and that all the publicity has made them snooty.
The Hoopers say the rumors are untrue, they aren't snooty, they haven't received much money, and mainly they're just worried because the near-tragedy caused them financial trouble.
"We haven't got the money, that's what's worrying us," said the father, Benjamin K. Hooper, in commenting on the doctor's bill. He takes home $62 a week as a highway work foreman. His wife makes an after-tax $43 a week as a telephone operator, but has taken a month off to take care of Benny and rest up after her ordeal.
The Hoopers said they received thousands of letters from well-wishers, but a cash total of less than $400 in the letters.
Benny received $1,000 each for two television appearances. The Hoopers gave one check to the Manorville Fire Department, which played a big part in the rescue, and put the other in a trust fund for Benny's education.
"The time I put in was eight full days and close to 100 hours," Dr. Krieger said. "My time was worth $30 an hour. I think the bill is a fair amount to charge."

Idaho Power Renounces Fast Tax Writeoff

(R-III), acting as the GOP leader, told the Senate he expected opponents of the bill wanted no more than two to three hours to make their speeches.
Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) said a Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee he heads, which has been looking into Idaho Power's obtaining of the tax benefits, will investigate the company's switch in plans.
"This deal," Kefauver said in a statement, "is... bad for the beginning and the more you judge it... the worse it begins to look. It is a most unusual development for any company to give away 339 million dollars in benefits which they have been given by the government."
Saying that Idaho Power's president, Thomas E. Roach, had refused as recently as last week to "waive the certificates," Kefauver said:
"The subcommittee will have further hearings at a time to be set next week. We want to know what happened between Mr. Roach's appearance before this subcommittee and Thursday when he reversed himself."
Sen. Church (D-Idaho) said he would "take the company at its word" in connection with the tax writeoff announcement.
The Eisenhower administration and many opponents of public power development are opposing a federal Hells Canyon dam, which would be authorized by a bill now under debate in the Senate. The federal dam would flood out the Idaho Power sites.
Here is what Oregon's Democratic senators had to say:
Sen. Morse: "The deathbed repentance of the Idaho Power Co. only adds another piece of evidence that the administration's handling of the entire Hells Canyon case is one of unjustified favoritism to selfish monopoly...."
"The Idaho Power Co. pressed for the write-off handout as early as April of this year. Its 11th hour action is a desperate move to avoid the consequences of its past improper conduct."
Sen. Neuberger: "The turnback tends to repudiate the original action of Idaho Power Co. when it first sought the quick tax write-off. It also refutes the wisdom of the Eisenhower administration in issuing the write-off. I wonder if the company will do another about face if this ruse succeeds in defeating the Hells Canyon bill."
On the other hand, Sen. Watkins (R-Idah) said the company's action "effectively removes a propaganda diversion that was belauding the basic issues."
Watkins said he "deplores the misrepresentations, the insinuations of misconduct and harassment directed at the company and the OIA in this matter."
"Under the circumstances," Watkins said, "I am planning to request that electric utilities and aluminum plants in the Pacific Northwest, where most of the attacks on Idaho interests are generated, follow the example set by Idaho and decline similar tax concessions."
Magnuson (D-Wash) called the company announcement "merely a stall," adding:
"I view this as an expediency to affect the vote on the high Hells Canyon Dam. This statement does not change the merits of a high federal Hells Canyon dam on jobs."
Sen. Jackson (D-Wash) said, "They knew they were licked. They threw the undersized catch back in the stream, but they are still trying to get away with the big one."

Sutherland Puts Tractor To Use

A newly purchased tractor was put into use this week by the city of Sutherland. C. Dean Smith, city manager, said.
Total price of the equipment, with extras, was $5,371.22. Bill Miller Implement Co., a Roseburg firm, submitted the low bid. The tractor has a back-hoe and front-end loader.
The equipment was paid for chiefly out of funds left from state gas tax money which remained after a paving contract, Smith said. The tractor is being used for sewer work and street improvements.
Starting next week, the tractor will be used to lay 1,100 feet of eight-inch water line. Before purchase of the tractor, the city had to rent the equipment, Smith said. The city feels "with our own equipment we will save money and be able to do many things we couldn't do before," Smith added.

Tornado Kills 10 At Fargo: 85 Injured

tion of two others. The coroner listed one victim as Mrs. Max Kankelitz, about 56, and the body of her husband, also about 56.
However, relatives of Max Kankelitz in Minneapolis, maintained they had talked with him by telephone Thursday night and that he reported all members of the family safe. The coroner said identification was made by a relative. Some bodies were mutilated.
Two hundred National Guard troops ordered into Fargo by Gov. John Davis, police and volunteers searched the devastated area at daylight for other possible victims.
The tornado did not come with-out warning. Hundreds of residents saw the twister approach over the prairie and fled the city. Radio stations had broadcast the devastation at that time.
In addition to the homes destroyed or damaged, many cars and trucks were smashed, tossed into the air and plumed to the ground by the powerful funnel.
Fargo, with 40,000 residents, is the largest city in North Dakota. It is located in the flat Red River Valley, noted for its rich farm crops.
The twister wrecked immense Shanley High School and the nearby American Lutheran Church.
Richard Rasmussen, Associated Press staffer who lives near where the twister struck, said he and neighbors watched the black cloud forming an estimated 10 miles west of Fargo.
"It looked like an elongated triangle lying on its side," Rasmussen said. "As it came closer, we could see the funnel begin to form. From a mile away it looked like a huge, flexible tube waving in the air."

Two Teachers Resign From Glendale School

The Glendale school board this week accepted the resignation of two elementary school teachers, Furman Hargis and Mrs. Donald Blakely.
Hargis has been hired as principal of the upper elementary school at Winter, Calif., but Mrs. Blakely has no immediate teaching plans, reports correspondent Mrs. G. B. Fox.
The board also accepted the bid of Murphy Construction Co. of Roseburg for repair of the underpinnings of the elementary school. His bid was $8,624. The acceptance, however, is dependent on passage of the budget next Monday.
Bids on a new boiler for the elementary school will be opened June 28 after the budget election.

President Not Too Disturbed Over Budget

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower was pictured Friday as "not too disturbed at what Congress has done in reducing his budget."
Rep. Jensen of Iowa made that report on Eisenhower's attitude after Jensen and 59 other House Republicans had breakfast with the President at the White House.
The get-together over scrambled eggs, bacon and fish cakes was the third in a series. Eisenhower is having all Republican members of Congress in as early morning guests in an effort to win enactment of his legislative program.
The meeting with this latest group came on the heels of a GOP rally Thursday night at which Eisenhower was the speaker. At the party session Eisenhower steered away from specific legislative problems but urged his audience to "carry on the good fight for America."
Eisenhower defined Republicanism as "never-failing concern" for every American, "no matter what his religion or the color of his skin."
Eisenhower has had some rough going in Congress in trying to win approval of the administration's $71,800,000,000 budget. The House and Senate already have voted some deep cuts, and the President on more than one occasion has spoken out in opposition to such reductions.
So the remark by Jensen that Eisenhower's "not too disturbed"—or at least doesn't seem to be—about the cuts came as something of a surprise.
Jensen, a member of the appropriations committee, told newsmen:
"He recognizes that it is the duty of members of Congress to exercise their own good judgment."
