 The St. Louis Cardinals finally have the National League lead in hand.

With a .750 winning percentage over the last month, they've risen all the way from sixth place while the rest of the contenders were playing musical chairs with first-division berths.

They were 8 1/2 games off the pace when they started to move.

Since then they've won 21 of 28 games.

Murry Dickson, a 40-year-old right-hander, held Pittsburgh in check yesterday on seven hits before tiring and giving way to relief help in the eighth while the Cards built a 7-4 victory.

New York's Giants opened the Milwaukee's seven-day stay in first place with a 12-inning, 4-3 victory for the Braves' fourth defeat in the last five games.

Cincy In Third
 Cincinnati regained third place, 1 1/2 games back by beating Brooklyn 6-1, Philadelphia defeated the Chicago Cubs 7-2.

In the American League, New York's second-place Yankees took to be on the threshold of first place, running their winning streak to seven games with a 3-1 victory over Detroit while Baltimore trimmed Chicago's first place lead to 1 1/2 games with a 4-1 decision. The White Sox open a four-game series in New York tonight.

The Yankees, who had won only two of eight from Detroit before the three-game series, handed Frank Lary his eighth defeat, scoring the clincher in the sixth on Bill Skowron's double and Gil McDougald's single. Bob Turley won his third.

Dave Sisler made his lifetime record 6-1 against Cleveland as Boston's Billy Klaus, Jackie Jensen and Sammy White backed him up with two runs batted in each. Early Wynn lost his eighth.

The Senators came from behind with five runs in the seventh against losing reliever Maury McDermott. Art Schult hit a two-run pinch double and Pete Runnels had a two-run single in the rally. Pete Ramos won his fifth.

Thomson Hits
 Johnny Antonelli, Danny O'Connell and getting to RBIs from Al Dark, scored three in the third against ex-mate Luis Arroyo on singles by Dark and Ken Boyer and a double play. They scored the two that clinched it in the fifth without a hit — on a walk and two errors. Stan Musial doubled to extend his hitting streak to 20 games.

Leiken, Hallmark Lead Prize List

In the sweepstakes tourney held at the Roseburg Country Club Wednesday, three divisions were awarded prizes. The three divisions were closest to the pin, longest drive and low net.

Closest to the pin on number three hole was Sid Leiken, with the Senators picking up the prize on number eight and seven-teen.

Long drive for the day on number one and 10 holes was Dave Hill of Grants Pass.

In the all-important low net, Jerry Kabler was tops with an 84-18-66, followed by Gene Krewson 79-12-67, Sid Leiken 73-6-67 and Ed Murphy 1-14-67.

Tied for third place in low net was Dusty Rhodes 96-28-65. R. A. Puckett 78-10-68 and Lex Nielsen 86-18-68.

A two-ball foursome will be played against Grants Pass this Sunday at the country club.

Good Prospects Seen In Umpqua

Oregon anglers should have good success this weekend, the Oregon State Game Commission reported Thursday.

Here an dither success has been slow but reports from most areas have told of happier results. The report by districts:

Southwest
 The upper Umpqua district is being stocked now with legal trout. Fly fishing in the North Umpqua has been generally good and fair to good prospects are seen for the lower North Umpqua.

On the area under controversy, the state wants a non-restrictive lease to permit use of the land after the games as an access crossing for skiers to reach a ski lift up Little Pappoose Hill.

Agreement Reached
 Agreement has been reached on other parts of the Poulsen land needed, about 20 acres. The total site will include 400 acres, most of it on permit from the U. S. Forest Service.

Working Agreement Brings NW Bartering

SALEM — Seattle General Manager Dewey Soriano announced the optioning of five players to Salem and three to Yakima of the Northwest League here Thursday.

The eight players, owned by Seattle, are involved in the shift where, brings Cincinnati into a working agreement with the Wenatchee club. Seattle had formerly worked with the club.

A dozen players from the defunct Clovis, N. M., team are being sent to Wenatchee by the National League team.

Wrist-Slapping Wished Upon Big Leagues

WASHINGTON — Rep. Celler (D-NY) said today testimony that Pacific Coast League clubs have suffered from talk of an impending Major League invasion may call of "disciplinary action."

Celler said Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick should consider what steps, if any, are warranted against "midseason bombast" over the proposed move west of the Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Giants.

Celler heads a House antitrust subcommittee, which yesterday closed out the first week of its inquiry into the legal status of professional team sports.

Testimony so far has concentrated on baseball, with Frick the official spokesman for the Major Leagues.

While Frick was in the witness chair, subcommittee lawyers introduced financial statements reporting that in the last five seasons major clubs netted a total of only $1,878,993.

For the 16 clubs in both leagues, that represented an average of $23,487 a season.

Bums Make Money

As an example of cost, National League clubs were said to have lost $6,396,585 on their farm systems over the five-year span. Expenses in all cases presumably included front office salaries.

Brooklyn, while winning pennants and one world championship, showed up as the biggest money maker with $1,860,744. Milwaukee netted $1,857,602 and would have topped Brooklyn except for a deficit in 1952, when the Braves' franchise was still in Boston.

The New York Yankees led the American League in profits as it has so often in the standings. The Yanks reported $1,244,339.

There were heavy losers, too. The Pittsburgh Pirates never got out of the red, dropping a reported $1,537,303.

George M. Trautman, president of the Minor Leagues, was last to undergo questioning before the subcommittee recessed hearings until next week. He was the one who testified that talk of the Dodgers shifting to Los Angeles and the Giants to San Francisco has "definitely done damage" to the Pacific Coast League.

Timberib

The business-like building for business-like farmers

Low cost; permanent construction; easy, fast erection; unobstructed floor and storage space—these are some of the reasons why the arch top Timberib buildings are seen so often on America's finest farms.

The Timberib is a one-piece curved rafter that extends continuously from floor to ridge. It is formed of kiln dried lumber "welded" together with permanent waterproof glues. Rafters are... Pre-cut, need no further cutting, fitting. Simpler and stronger than old-fashioned framing. Quickly erected with regular term help. Available in standard widths from 24 to 60 feet, lengths as desired. If you are contemplating a loading barn, milking parlor, implement shed, granary or utility building, ask us for complete information on Timberib buildings. No obligation, of course.

Bob Rosburg Leads Tourney

FLINT, Mich. — Pudgy Bob Rosburg, who passed up professional baseball in favor of golf and made enough money so he wouldn't regret it, held a two-stroke advantage today as a bumpy field entered the second round of the $37,000 Flint Open.

The touring pros found the course generally easy and 38 of them matched or bettered par.

Two strokes behind Rosburg entering today's second round are Johnny Pott, Shreveport, La.; Stan Leonard and Al Balding of Canada; and Arnold Palmer, Latrobe, Pa. Seven others were another stroke behind.

Squaw Valley Dispute Deadline Set July 1

SAN FRANCISCO — California's Olympic Commission has set July 1 as the deadline for settling the long-standing dispute over land acquisition in the Squaw Valley site of the 1960 winter games.

After that presumably the state will use its right of eminent domain to condemn and purchase any private property still deemed necessary.

Disagreement concerns a 200-foot by 700-foot parcel, owned by Wayne Poulsen, that the state wants for an outrun for the ski jump.

Agreement has been reached on other parts of the Poulsen land needed, about 20 acres. The total site will include 400 acres, most of it on permit from the U. S. Forest Service.

On the area under controversy, the state wants a non-restrictive lease to permit use of the land after the games as an access crossing for skiers to reach a ski lift up Little Pappoose Hill.
