

Many Activities Scheduled Over State For July 4th

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Oregon will welcome Independence Day in typical Western fashion: with rodeos, with woodsmen's games and with fireworks.

It will have pageants and races on rivers, too, and parades and at least one circus.

As usual, the beaches are expected to be popular and the mountain resorts will have their lure.

Fireworks in the hands of the general public are limited by law to such entertaining but safe affairs as sparklers. A few burned fingers from hot wires are all that are expected from them in the way of hazards.

However, supervised displays of skyrockets, aerial bombs and related nighttime spectacle-makers are to be found in many parts of the state.

Many amusement parks will have them. Hayward Field at the University of Oregon will be the setting for the Eugene Active Club's annual fireworks show. There will be more at Harrisburg, Albany, Salem, Medford, Condon, Seaside, Manzanita, Taft and doubtless a score of other cities.

The Albany Timber Carnival, distinctive celebration featured by tree climbing, chopping, bucking, birling and similar events, will wind up a three-day affair on July 4.

The Bend Water pageant on Mirror Pond there will open a three-day run on the Fourth, featured by brightly colored floats that really float.

Some of the fireworks displays will be separate affairs, while others will be the concluding fea-

U.S. Ready To Suspend Bomb Tests If Soviets Do

LONDON — The United States was reported ready Monday to suspend atomic and hydrogen weapon tests if the Russians promise to negotiate a ban on all nuclear arms production.

Qualified informants said Harold E. Stassen was modifying two of the American key terms in an effort to reach agreement with the Russians on a limited East-West disarmament treaty.

The U.S. delegate to the U.N. disarmament talks here has lined up Allied backing, they said, for these two modifications:

1. Suspend nuclear arms tests for 10 or 12 months if Russia promises to negotiate arrangements for a controlled cutoff of nuclear weapon production. Production would have to cease during 1959.
2. Subscribe to a declaration, along with Britain and Russia, never to use nuclear arms except in self-defense against major unprovoked aggression.

Heretofore the United States has made any moratorium on tests condition on an almost immediate cutoff of production.

The Allies regarded Russia's plan for renouncing nuclear weapons unenforceable and in any case undesirable because of the Soviet predominance in manpower.

The new approach indicates the Western powers are ready to join in a declaration that would still leave them the right to invoke Article 51 of the U.N. charter. This article gives nations the right to act anyway they please in self-defense against big-scale aggression.

The Russians last month had proposed an isolated but controlled ban on nuclear tests for two or three years and a "solemn" American, British and Russian pledge renouncing forever the use of nuclear arms.
