

West Germany Clamps Down On Youth Activities

BOONN, Germany (AP) — Parliament adopted Saturday a stern set of rules governing public entertainment for boys and girls, its reflecting mounting concern over juvenile delinquency—a problem in West Germany, as elsewhere.

The law, effective Oct. 1, bans anyone under 18 from attending cabarets, variety shows or "pin-ball" parlors.

Previously certain cabarets and variety shows could obtain permission to admit youths over 16. But an increase of sexy stage shows, including strip-teasers, influenced the legislators to boost the age limit requirement.

The gaudy neon-lighted "pin-ball" parlors feature coin-operated machines designed to permit small-scale gambling. The legislators said they were breeding places for teen-age crime.

Any youngster under 16 can't eat in a public restaurant unless accompanied by an adult. They can attend affairs in restaurants sponsored by recognized youth organizations.

Children under 6 are barred from movies. All movies will be reviewed and classified as suitable for youngsters in these age groups: 6-12, 12-16, 16-18. Hitherto they had been in two classes, under 10, and 10-16.

The Bundestag, or lower house of Parliament, approved the measure with only one dissenting vote.

Red China Plans Increased Foreign Aid Spending

HONG KONG (AP) — Red China, which gets aid from Moscow, said Saturday it will step up its own foreign aid spending by 25 per cent. It announced also a slight reduction in defense expenditures for 1957.

The statements were made by Finance Minister Li Hsien-nien in outlining a 29 1/4 billion yuan budget for 1957 to the National People's Congress in Peking. The Reds put the official valuation of the yuan at 45 cents, but the black market rate ranges around 20 cents.

Li estimated the amount to be spent on economic aid to other countries would be increased 25.7 per cent from last year's 404 million yuan. The countries to receive such aid were not specified in Li's state of economy speech broadcast by Peiping Radio.

Red China itself has been getting loans from Russia for its drive to industrialize. Premier Chou En-lai told the Congress Wednesday the nation borrowed more than three billion yuan from other countries in the past year.

Li said Red China has allocated 18.85 per cent of its 1957 budget for defense—but he gave no actual figure. The defense share in 1956 was said to be 20 per cent.

The new budget continues to give high priority to heavy industry, with stress on metallurgy, coal mining, electricity, chemicals, building materials, power and the industries related to agriculture.

Hot Weather Curtails Production Of Pork

WASHINGTON (AP) — A somewhat lower level of pig production and hot weather which curtailed marketings has cut pork production to the lowest level in nearly two years.

The Agriculture Department reported this week that pork output by federally inspected slaughterers last week was the smallest since early August, 1955.

Production of all meats—beef, mutton, lamb and pork—by these slaughterers totaled 367 million pounds, down 2 per cent from the corresponding week a year ago.

Azalea Community Church Floor Slab Section Poured

By MRS. GERALD B. FOX

Members and friends of the Azalea Community Church held a work party last Saturday, and poured the second of three sections of floor slab. Part of the party worked on roughing in plumbing which must be in place when the final part of the slab is poured next Saturday.

The group will appreciate any extra help for their regular Saturday work sessions.

Visit California

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hutto and daughter of Glendale visited with her brother, John Montgomery and family in North San Juan, Calif., from Wednesday of last week, returning home on Monday of this week. They also visited John Montgomery's son, Jack Montgomery and family, and his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Moore and daughters.

On Friday, a barbecue supper was held, and among the guests were Mrs. Ray Wakeman, a sister of Mrs. Guy Armstrong of Glendale, and her husband.

On Sunday afternoon, the family went up in the high Sierras to Paeker Lake and enjoyed some boating and fishing.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Marriott of Glendale flew to Long Beach, Calif. on Monday, June 17, where they attended a convention of the Abundantia Corporation. They have decided to become local agents for Abundantia, a food supplement.

Oscar Strand of Long Beach has visited for the past month with his brothers, Fred Strand and Palmer Strand and families in Glendale.

Mrs. Phil Day visited for three days in Glendale recently with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Harris and for three days with Mrs. Gordon Mehl, leaving for home on June 20. She was accompanied to Glendale by Mrs. Lorraine Drake who visited with her mother, Mrs. A. G. Clark, leaving on Monday of this week to visit with relatives in Portland. Both women were able to be present for the installation of Job's Daughters officers on Saturday evening, June 15.

Linda Sheppard, daughter of Harold Sheppard of Quines Creek near Azalea, is visiting in her grandparents, Rev. and Mrs. Ross Banning, in Los Angeles. Rev. Banning is a former pastor of the Glendale Assembly of God Church, taking the pastorate about 10 years ago and remaining here for two years.

Word has been received in Glendale that Rev. and Mrs. Dick Johnston, missionaries to Korea, who pastored the Glendale Assembly of God Church briefly several years ago, are the parents of a new baby boy. They have two older children in grade school.

Wilson's Move

Mr. and Mrs. Rife Wilson and family moved to Quines Creek about two weeks ago from Coquille.

Miss Bonnie Halstead, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Halstead of Azalea, left June 15 to spend two or three weeks visiting her aunts, Mrs. Jane Squires in Alhambra, Calif. and Mrs. Kay Gilpin in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Wynara Buckner of Terrebonne, Ore. visited old friends in the Cow Creek area above Azalea last Friday, June 21. Mrs. Buckner is the daughter of Mrs. Ila Quirke, former resident, who made her home in Terrebonne near her daughter for a time after her husband's death. Mrs. Quirke is now in a rest home at Redmond, recovering from a stroke.

At OSC

Mrs. Victor Opperman of Glendale returned from the Josephine Hospital in Grants Pass Saturday, following recent major surgery.

Mrs. Robert Roth of Glendale is spending a month at Oregon State College completing work for her master's degree in secretarial science. Mrs. Roth completed most of the required work several years ago.

Mrs. Jack Casner and son, Jack, returned home to Fresno, Calif. Monday after spending two weeks visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Clayton in Azalea.

116 Convicts To Get Freedom From Prison

SALEM (AP) — One hundred and sixteen convicts are to be turned loose from the Oregon state penitentiary Monday.

They are being released under terms of a law, approved by the last session of the state Legislature, which reduces prison terms by one-third for good conduct.

For the past five years, only one-fourth of the sentence has been forgiven for good conduct. Warden Clarence T. Gladden said the convicts are serving time for "every felony on the books." Each will be fitted with a new suit of clothes and given $50. They will be turned loose in groups of 10.

The mass release will cut the penitentiary population to 1,394—the lowest number since 1950.

West Coast Steel Co. Low Bidder On Bridges

PORTLAND (AP) — West Coast Steel Co., Portland, was apparent low bidder Friday for contracts to build two bridges for the Army Engineers.

The firm offered a bid of $208,100 to build a reinforced concrete bridge on the relocated Rigdon Road, at the upper end of the proposed Hills Creek Reservoir, nine miles southeast of Oakridge.

It also submitted an offer of $17,933 to build a rail-mounted movable bridge with two power units at Detroit Dam on the North Santiam River.

Army Engineers said the bridge will be a traveling carriage that can be hauled up and down the dam's test chute so that engineers can conduct velocity tests.
