KNOXVILLE, Tenn. — Charges of criminal contempt against four of the defendants in the "Clinton trial," landmark civil rights case, were dismissed Thursday and the defense promptly moved for acquittal of the remaining 11.

The lawyers entered a blanket denial of the government's accusation that the defendants conspired to violate a federal injunction prohibiting interference with the enrollment of Negro students in Clinton high school last year.

She moved to Colorado about 1909 and made her home in Denver until 1947 when she came to Sutherlin. They celebrated their golden wedding anniversary in 1949. Mrs. Lord was a member of the Methodist Church.

motion of U.S. Dist. Atty. John C. Crawford Jr. He said, "In my opinion, the evidence is not sufficient to warrant conviction of these men. Therefore, I move to dismiss the charges against them."

Those freed, all from the Clinton area, were: Chris Foust, 35, school bus driver; John B. Long, 31, house painter; Thomas Sanders, 42, utilities firm employee; J. L. Coley, 43, carpenter.

During defense arguments for acquittal, the jury was sent out of the courtroom. Opens Arguments Ross Barnett, former president of the Mississippi bar, opened the defense arguments.

A separate motion for acquittal was made by J. Benjamin Simmons of Washington, D.C., who represents John Kasper, Northern segregationist leader, but not the 10 Tennessee men and women.

Barnett argued in attacking the conspiracy charge that the fact that some of the accused were seen in the back room of a Clinton restaurant with Kasper was no evidence of conspiracy. A policeman had testified to night meetings in the restaurant. He said Kasper and the others had a typewriter and were "doing paperwork."

Witness Against Girard Indicted For Brawling

MAEBASHI, Japan — A key Japanese witness against U. S. Army Specialist 3.C. William S. Girard was indicted today on charges of injuring another American soldier in a brawl.

The witness is Hidetsugu Onozeki, 29, who told police he saw Girard entice a Japanese woman onto a military firing range before she was hit and killed by an empty cartridge case fired from a grenade launcher.

The Girard defense is expected to try to use the brawl to discredit Onozeki's testimony. Girard is scheduled to go on trial Aug. 28 on a manslaughter charge filed by the same Maebashi prosecutors who indicted Onozeki.

Onozeki is accused of slugging and injuring Pfc. Wilbur R. Smith, 25, of Mound City, Mo., in a brawl near the camp weirgate last June 9.

One of the entries, a miniature schnauzer, Chuck-A-Luck's Ike, qualified for his final American Kennel Club championship points in the weekend competition. The dog, owned by Wilma Meske of Roseburg, won first place points in the open dog class and was judged winner's dog and best of winner's at the Dog Fanciers Assn. of Oregon show.

The following day, the dog repeated the same victories for three more AKC championship points at the Lions Kennel Club Show held at the State Fairgrounds in Salem.

Other winners from the Umpqua Kennel Club at the Dog Fanciers Show held at the Multnomah County Fairgrounds in Gresham, included Gilman's White Hope, an English pointer owned by Mr. and Mrs. Dick Gilman Jr. of Roseburg. ## Board Of Health Warns Oriental Flu Is Coming PORTLAND — The Oregon state Board of Health issued a warning late Wednesday that Oriental influenza can be expected to show up in this state in the next few weeks.

Dr. Harold M. Erickson added that "there is no cause for concern," however. He said the disease while highly contagious, is fairly mild.

Thus far all suspected cases in Oregon have been shown, in laboratory analysis, to be some other influenza. But, he said, the disease which started this year in California, he said, it needs some 2,000 to 3,000 cases in California, Ohio, Kentucky and Rhode Island.

State Demo Committee Falls On Hard Times

PORTLAND — The Oregon Democratic Central Committee has $526 in the bank, and some $1,300 in bills, its chairman said here Wednesday.

Oregon Democrats no longer can operate on a basis of crepe paper and pennies," Robert Boyer of Medford told a meeting of party workers here.

Victories in the past two elections have "promoted" Democrats in the state from "politicians to statesmen," Boyer said.

Because of the party's new stature, he said, it needs some $2,000 a month to finance its current program in Oregon.

Hearings Slated By Ethical Practices Union Committee

WASHINGTON — The AFL-CIO Ethical Practices Committee called new hearings Thursday on charges that the Teamsters and Bakers Unions are corruptly dominated. Al G. Hayes, chairman, set July 31 as the date for hearing charges against the Bakers, and Aug. 1 to air accusations against the Teamsters.

Could Be Ousted Ouster of the two unions from the Federation is the ultimate penalty for corrupt domination but it is believed AFL-CIO leaders are trying to encourage the unions to eliminate leaders questioned in testimony before the Senate Rackets Committee so the unions themselves can remain in the AFL-CIO.

The Senate committee wound up hearings only Wednesday into activities of Bakers Union President James G. Cross. He refused to take a lie detector test as proposed by union rivals who told the senators Cross helped beat up a union officer and his wife. Cross denied the accusation.

Cross also declined to call a special union convention to review his activities.

Beck Already Out The AFL-CIO has ousted Teamsters President Dave Beck as a Federation vice president and executive councilman, but Beck still is at the helm of the Teamsters Union. A number of other Teamsters officials have been questioned in Senate committee hearings on alleged mishandling of union funds.

It is believed the ethical practices group wants to finish up the hearings, here on the Teamsters and Bakers Union in order to have at least preliminary findings ready for a meeting of the powerful AFL-CIO executive council Aug. 11 in Chicago.

The council is expected to take some action intended to spur the two unions into cleanup activities.

Civil Service Committee Puts 'Okay' On Raise For Million

WASHINGTON — The House Civil Service Committee overrode administration objections Thursday and voted for an 11 per cent, $32-million dollar pay raise for a million government workers.

The committee headed by Rep. Murray (D-Tenn) acted by a reported vote of 14-10 shortly after hearing Robert E. Merriam, assistant budget director, say such a raise would be inflationary.

Committee staff officials said the group had voted earlier for a 12 1/2 per cent, $20-million-dollar increase in the pay of some 518,000 postal workers.

Merriam said a general federal pay hike, if it leads to deficit financing, would be "more devastating to our economy at a time when we are trying to control inflation." The resulting inflation would hit the employees getting increases as well as all other Americans, he said.

But the committee majority decided a pay raise was merited for the approximately one million workers in the classified Civil Service.

Arrests Near Anlauf Bring Jail Sentences Pleading guilty to intoxication charges this morning in district court, three men were lodged in the county jail when they were unable to pay fines imposed by Judge Warren E. Woodruff.

Huston L. Jones, 39, address unknown, was fined $150 and sentenced to 10 days in jail for driving while intoxicated. Fines of $25 were handed to Mellis W. Haisten Jr., 32, Childersburg, Ala., and John W. Cuadill, 34, Stockton, Calif., for being drunk on a public highway.

The trio was taken into custody Wednesday by state police. They were in a car on Highway 99 near Anlauf.

the bill would provide a flat 11 per cent increase in the pay of civil servants.

The maximum increase in any federal salary, however, would be limited to $1,000 and the salary ceiling in such jobs would be $16,000 a year.

Merriam said the total number of civilians on the federal payroll as of last January was 2,374,000, about 10 per cent below the 2,623,000 number when the Eisenhower administration took over in January 1953.

But the payroll has gone up from a $10,100,000,000 annual rate to $11,800,000,000 between those two periods, he said, because of pay increases and other factors.
