Waits 27 Years For Hubby Then Sells His Car

LOUISVILLE, Ky. & — A wom-an who has waited 27 years for her husband's return sold his car last weekend for $30—but she may last weekend for $30—but she may get more money soon.

"I will give her everything above $100 that I get for it," said Albert Spivak, operator of an auto wrecker firm.

Spivak, who already has refused $200 for the 1923 touring ear, bought the vehicle during the weekend. It was the first time the auto had been out of the woman's garage since her husband parked it there in 1930, left for work, and never returned.

Relatives said her husband, a laundry-truck driver, probably was robbed and murdered. The day after he disappeared, his truck and empty wallet were found near the Ohio River.

the Ohio River.

Six months later a body was dragged from the river but identification was impossible.

The years passed, the woman's garage needed repairs, and rela-tives suggested she sell the car Her hopes did not die with sale of the car.

Still waiting in the house are the robe and slippers she put in place for her husband 27 years ago.
They haven't been moved.

Jail Doors Open For 2 Torture Killers Of Cats

PORTLAND & - Two Portland youths who were sent to jail for the torture deaths of two cats have been released after serving half of their 30-day sentences. The release of 18-year-old Er-win M. Martin III and 16-year-old Wesley Ackart was ordered by District Judge Ray D. Shoe-maker, who had sentenced them.

Donald McPaul, 30, who was convicted with the two youths of cruelty to animals, remains in jail. He was sentenced to 60 days. They were convicted of tying the tails of the cats together, dousing them with turpentine and throwing them over a clothesline.
