

Holmes Proposes New Approach On Traffic Control

PORTLAND — Gov. Robert Holmes said Tuesday that if promotional campaigns prove ineffective in cutting down traffic accidents, Oregon will have to "write more stringent laws and compel sterner punishments for law breakers."

Holmes told the Portland Junior Chamber of Commerce such slogans as "The life you save may be your own" are not as effective as they might be.

Protestants Decide To Take Diplomacy Stand

NEW HAVEN, Conn. — Protestants and Orthodox church officials have decided to undertake broad inquiry into problems of religious liberty. It envisages direct talks with Roman Catholic leaders.

In a turbulent session of the World Council of Churches, delegates last night thrashed through a mass of proposed resolutions—several aimed at the Roman Catholic Church—and tossed them all out.

Instead of issuing pronouncements, the council's policy-making Central Committee decided to put its diplomats to work.

"Other means can be much more efficient than general statements," said Lutheran Bishop Hanns Lilje of Hannover, Germany. "Negotiations, correspondence and personal visits can often produce more results."

But there was a verbal lide as the meeting, on the eve of its adjournment, pondered what to do about areas of reported friction on religious matters—particularly in Roman Catholic countries.

TO TRANSFER MARINES

WASHINGTON — The Pentagon said today the 9th Marine Regiment will be transferred soon from Japan to Okinawa.

Formal announcement of the departure of the last ground combat force from Japan was delayed until this week to avoid any possible effect on the Okinawa elections held several days ago.

COMPOSER PASSES

DAVIS PARK, N.Y. — John J. Rox, 50, composer of "It's a Big, Wide, Wonderful World" and other songs, died at his summer home here Monday.

Rox also composed "There Never Was a Night So Beautiful" and "Change of Heart." He wrote special numbers for two Broadway revues — "New Faces" and "John Murray Anderson's Almanac."

Bridges Moving For Showdown On Screening

SAN FRANCISCO — The U.S. Navy and longshore labor boss Harry Bridges moved toward a showdown Wednesday over the security screening of stevedores.

Local 10 of Bridges' International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union has protested that the application form for security clearance badges asks the race of the applicant. The local also has questioned the right of the Navy to screen stevedores for work.

Tuesday night the Navy issued this statement:

"In the event that agreement is not met by Aug. 7, (Oakland Naval Supply) Center officials said the Navy has no other alternative but to hire civil service personnel who will be screened for the Navy badges in keeping with security regulations.

The center employs an average of 170 men a day. They are hired by the General Stevedoring Co., and are supplied through the ILWU local.

The local went on record at a meeting Monday that it would not cooperate with the Navy in security screening.

Union officials have indicated they might take court action against the Coast Guard screening program, claiming it does not comply with federal decisions.

Air Academy Chapel Plans Criticized

WASHINGTON — For the second time in two years, the House has blocked plans to build a modern chapel at the Air Force Academy.

Subject to a roll call vote today, the House decided 102-53 Tuesday to forbid use of funds in a money bill to build the chapel as it is now designed.

Widespread protest in 1955 against the original design of the chapel caused the Air Force to abandon those plans and to await further action by Congress before building the chapel at its academy at Colorado Springs, Colo. For a time, the entire academy project was threatened then.

The Air Force came back this year with new plans and a request for three million dollars to start the project, but the House said no.

On the House floor Tuesday one critic called the new chapel plan a monstrosity. A supporter conceded it is "a bit futuristic."

The money was included in a supplemental money bill carrying $1,581,590,587 for miscellaneous programs, mainly military construction. President Eisenhower had asked $1,860,748,967.

James Smith Proposed For Position With ICA

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. — The Chattanooga Times said Wednesday that James H. Smith Jr., former assistant secretary of the Navy, is slated to succeed John B. Hollister as director of the International Cooperation Administration.

In a story from its Washington correspondent, Charles Bartlett, the morning newspaper reported that Smith is said to have agreed to take command of the mutual security agency after some 14 months out of government service.

British Ship Suffers Hit By Chinese

HONG KONG — The British freighter White Bee arrived in Hong Kong Wednesday with a gaping hole in its superstructure. A direct hit by Nationalist Chinese artillery did the damage when the ship was caught in a gun duel outside Amoy.

The 1,278-ton vessel left Amoy harbor at midnight June 20. Nationalist guns on Taitan Island opened fire in an attempt to stop the ship from leaving the Red Chinese port. Communist shore batteries returned the fire.

The Nationalists fired more than 300 shots at the ship. One direct hit pierced its heavy steel sides. One crew member was slightly injured.

The White Bee left Hong Kong under the command of British Captain E. G. Anderson on June 18 for Amoy. It touched the Red Chinese ports of Shanghai, Poochow and Tsingtau before reaching here. The British government has protested the incident to Nationalist China.

Atomic Explosion Unleashes Fury On Nevada Desert

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. — Atomic scientists unleashed the fury of an atomic explosion high over the Nevada desert Wednesday with a bright orange flash and a stunning shock wave.

The blast — much postponed — was detonated at 5:25 a.m. (PDT). The force of the blast — equal to 20,000 tons of TNT — ripped an unmanned Navy blimp from its moorings in the blast area. The blimp was dashed to the ground 10,000 yards from Ground Zero.

The explosion was detonated from a balloon tethered 1,500 feet above the test site. This shot, code-named Stokes, was open to newsmen.

They viewed the explosion from News Nob, 10 miles from Ground Zero. The shock wave shook the newsmen and some 500 military observers as it rumbled past with a thunderous roar.

In Las Vegas, Nev., some 80 miles to the southeast, the glow of the bomb's fireball lit up the sky brighter than the rising sun. It was visible for 10 seconds.

The shot — twelfth in the current test series — came just one day after the twelfth anniversary of the 1945 bombing of Hiroshima, Japan.

Student Policemen Find No Hoodlums In N. York

NEW YORK — New York City — patrolled by hundreds of extra police in an emergency counterattack against the recent wave of juvenile crime — went through the night without a single crime of violence reported to police headquarters.

There was a holiday from adult as well as teenage homicides, stickups, felonious assaults and the like between 5 p.m. Tuesday and 7 a.m. Wednesday, according to a citywide check of the four score precincts.

A dozen or more crimes of violence during the period is usual. More than 500 gray-clad student policemen marched out of class rooms and into hoodlum-haunted streets Tuesday night to join the war on juvenile crime.

Batista To Step Up Anti-Bombing Campaign

HAVANA — President Fulgenio Batista last night promised a stepped-up police campaign against bombings and other acts of violence in the city.

Incensed over yesterday's bombing of a 5-and-10-cent store in downtown Havana, Batista declared in a statement it is the duty of all Cubans to act against the opponents of his regime and against those who shelter and support them.

Seven persons were injured in the five-and-dime blast, three of them seriously.

Billy Graham Completes 12 Weeks Of Services

NEW YORK — Evangelist Billy Graham wound up the first 12 weeks of his New York crusade Tuesday night.

He told his Madison Square Garden audience: "God has given to New York City 2 weeks in the history of the Christian church."

Last night's attendance was 18,000. That brought the total for the crusade meetings in the Garden to 1,415,000.

At Graham's call, 626 persons went forward to make "decisions for Christ." "Decisions" for the 12-week period total 43,010.

Army Officer Survives 12 Days In Mountains

EASTON, Wash. — Twelve frustrating days of aimless wanderings in the Cascades west of here ended for a rugged, young Army officer Tuesday when he walked out to safety on a logging road.

Limping slightly from a sprained knee, Lt. Robert M. Hayashida was otherwise unharmed, although tired, hungry and grimy from his long ordeal.

The 22-year-old officer from Minneapolis, a company commander at Ft. Lewis, vanished July 25 when he left his temporary station at the Yakima Firing Center on a fishing trip.

Hayashida, whose wife and two children have gone to Tokyo, said he made camp on the south shore of Lake Cle Elum July 25 and started walking north in the direction of some potholes he had noted on a map before leaving the firing center.

Hayashida, his clothing torn and tattered, said he was unable to locate the potholes and became lost when he attempted to return to his camp, which was found later by the scores of men sent to search for him.

Hayashida said he ate Army rations until they ran out and then subsisted solely on huckleberries. He said he injured his knee in a fall the day after he became lost. He eventually reached a logging road and flagged down a truck driver.

Khrushchev Calls Adenauer Policy 'Great Danger'

BERLIN — Soviet Communist boss Nikita S. Khrushchev arrived in East Berlin Wednesday for a tour of restive East Germany. He promptly denounced the foreign policy of West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer as a "great danger" to world peace.

The Soviet leader made the statement during a massive welcoming ceremony at East Berlin's railway station. He is expected to use his week-long visit to push Moscow's previous proposals for German unity.

Khrushchev, speaking just five weeks in advance of West German elections in which Adenauer faces a tough fight against the Socialists, told the welcoming rally.

"Unfortunately our (peace) efforts have not been supported by the ruling quarters of the West German Federal Republic."

Khrushchev spoke to thousands of East Berlin communists just a few minutes after an East German army band hailed him with the Prussian army presentation march — the military anthem played for Adolf Hitler and Kaiser Wilhelm II.

The Khrushchev delegation flew from Moscow through cloudy skies in a sleek TU104 jet airliner.

Missing was Soviet Premier Bulganin. He stayed in Moscow, increasing Western speculation that his days as premier may be numbered. Instead, First Deputy Premier A. I. Mikoyan accompanied the party chief.

Helicopter Pilot Killed In Crash Near Illahe

crash. He had heard Moore calling for help.

About 40 Forest Service employees hiked into the area during the night.

Sheriff, Doctor Called
The sheriff's office and Dr. Munroe were called about 10:30 and left Roseburg about 11:30. They arrived at Illahe about 6:30 a.m. today.

Then began the task of getting Moore and Foster's body to the top of the rock so the second helicopter, flown by Bob Trimble, could pick them up. Dr. Munroe also was transported out in the aircraft.

They were taken to Illahe guard station where a Forest Service panel truck brought Moore and the doctor to Mercy Hospital.

Patterson said Moore's ankle was caught under the wreckage. The rest of the Forest Service people arrived during the night, but had to wait until morning to find a path to the top of the rock.

Ken Elliott, packer for the Forest Service, guided Suter, the doctor and the two reporters.

Moore was an MSU freshman last year. His mother is Mrs. John F. Moore, Lansing, Mich.

Foster was employed by Rick Helicopters Inc., San Francisco. He, his wife and two children, aged 8 years and 7 months, were living at a motel in Cave Junction.

Man Who Punched Lord Altrincham Pays Small Fine

LONDON — A doughty 64-year-old paid $2.80 Wednesday for slapping the face of the peer who criticized Queen Elizabeth II.

Philip Kinghorn Burbridge, an ex-soldier and merchant seaman, pleaded guilty in Bow Street criminal court to bopping 33-year-old Lord Altrincham.

He was fined one pound—$2.80. Altrincham sent eyebrows and tempers rising last week with an article panning the public speaking, interest and advisers of Queen Elizabeth II. Other peers muttered dire threats but Burbridge was the first to take physical action in defense of his sovereign.

Burbridge was accused specifically of insulting behavior.

In fining him, the chief London magistrate, Sir Laurence Dunne, said:

"Your action only made a most unsavory episode more squalid. In a case like this, it is the weight of public opinion that counts, and not making a brawl of it."

Burbridge, who said he earned 7 pounds ($19.60) as a representative of the ultra-nationalist League of Empire Loyalists, told the judge:

"Such actions are foreign to my nature. Due to the scurrilous attack by Lord Altrincham, I felt it was up to decent Britons to show some resentment."

"What I feared most was the overseas repression and the republication in the American newspapers."

After the one-punch battle Tuesday night outside a broadcasting station, Burbridge had told reporters:

"I did what Prince Philip wanted to do but couldn't."

FALL BREAKS WRIST

A fall while playing with other children in the back yard of his home Tuesday evening sent 7-year-old Leonard McAllister to Douglas Community Hospital with a broken left wrist. The boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard McAllister Sr., of 840 SE Shambrook Ave., was released from the hospital Wednesday morning following treatment.

MOSCOW PROMISED SYRIA

MOSCOW — The Soviet Union has promised extensive economic and technical aid to Syria under an agreement signed here last night after two weeks of negotiations.

One Indictment Against Reporter Is Dismissed

PORTLAND — An indictment against a newspaper reporter was dismissed by a state circuit court judge Tuesday on the ground it did not state a crime.

The reporter, Brad Williams of the Oregon Journal, still faces two other indictments. All stem from the newspaper's coverage of the year-long vice investigation here.

The dismissed indictment had accused Williams of procuring a search warrant maliciously and without cause. The search warrant was used in a raid on the home of Raymond F. Clark.

Tape recordings were seized there and later used as evidence in a federal wiretapping trial. Clark and his employer, racketeer Big Jim Elkins, were convicted on the wiretapping charges.

The indictment was one of dozens returned by a grand jury last April. The remaining two indictments accuse Williams of obtaining an illegal telecommunication—the tape recordings seized in the raid—and of conspiring to do so.

Convict's Whereabouts Still Puzzle Police

SALEM — State police said Wednesday they are without any leads in the search for Andrew Taylor, 40-year-old convict who escaped Monday while appearing in Marion County Circuit Court.

Reports that Taylor was seen on the North Santiam Highway Tuesday didn't check out.

Lt. Farley Mogan also said that there have been reports that Taylor was seen in other parts of the Salem area, but that these tips were unproductive, too.

Taylor, serving nine years for assault and robbery in Portland, was described as dangerous by Warden Clarence T. Gladden.

Leonard Miller, 25, serving 25 years for kidnaping in Umatilla County, also escaped from the courtroom, but was recaptured a few minutes later.

LIONS TO PICNIC

Roseburg Lions Club members and their families will hold their annual picnic Thursday evening at the Rod and Gun Club Grounds.

The picnic will start promptly at 6:45, when a truck will arrive from Roseburg with freshly barbecued chicken, reports chairman William Unrath. Games and other activities are planned.

Women Of Night Used To Entice Top Stars, Claim

By JACK LEFLER
LOS ANGELES — The prosecution said Wednesday it intends to prove that Confidential and Whisper magazines hired "women of the night" to entice Hollywood stars into compromising situations and then to supply information for lurid stories.

The case which the state of California proposes to present against the scandal magazines and their alleged Hollywood representatives was outlined before a superior court jury of seven men and five women by Asst. Atty. Gen. Clarence Linn.

The magazines and Fred and Marjorie Meade are being tried on grand jury indictments charging conspiracy to publish lewd and obscene material and publishing inflammatory material constituting criminal libel.

Linn described Robert Harrison of New York, publisher of Confidential and Whisper, as "the leading force in this conspiracy—the is the Mister Big of this operation."

Linn said he would present evidence designed to prove that the magazines "operated through private eyes and women of the night to make contacts with prominent people around Hollywood and create situations."

Defense counsel Arthur J. Crowley, in his opening statement, said he intended to show that the magazines' stories "are true and there is no malice concerned."

Crowley said the magazines had "made powerful enemies in Hollywood because we name names," half of the stories in each edition of the magazine are "public service stories and many come from highly respected persons."

China Students Riot Against Communist Rule

HONG KONG — More than 1,000 high school students rioted in Hangyang in central China for two days in June against the ruling Communist Party, the Red New China News Agency reported Wednesday.

In a story from Peiping, the agency said students beat up Communist revolutionaries, led up Communist kidnaped officials, tore up party offices and attempted to seize an ammunition depot on June 12 and 13.

They plastered Hangyang, one of three cities of the Wuhan complex in Hupeh Province, with slogans proclaiming the "Communist Party is on the decline," "remove damned fools from the education department," "welcome speedy return of Kuomintang."

The Kuomintang is the party of Chiang Kai-Shek, who now rules in Formosa.

They also made slurring references to Communist Party chairman Mao Tse-tung.

The rioting was the most serious reported from the mainland since Mao launched his campaign encouraging criticism of the party as a means of correcting its errors.

NO IMMEDIATE HOPES

KLAMATH FALLS — Al Hartung said Tuesday a plan of reduced down payments on homes granted by the Federal Housing Administration will not aid the slumping lumber industry this year.

The lower payments probably won't bolster the market any appreciable amount until 1958, Hartung, president of the International Woodworkers of America, said. It was unfortunate, Hartung said, that the interest rate on FHA home loans was raised from 5 to 5 1/2 per cent.
