New York Giant Move West Said Closer Now

NEW YORK — The proposed moves of the New York Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers to the West Coast were closer to reality today after three more rapid-fire developments:

1. An engineer's report taken to mean a proposed new ball park for the Dodgers in Brooklyn would be economically unfeasible.
2. President Horace Stoneham's statement to stockholders that it would be in the best interest of the Giants to move out of New York.
3. Mailing of a formal but as yet undisclosed offer by San Francisco to the Giants.
