

Super Highway On East Side Being Studied

PORTLAND — A multi-million dollar north-south freeway through Portland on the east bank of the Willamette River is under study by the Oregon Highway Commission.

The co-operative venture of interest also to city, county and federal agencies, was disclosed Friday by State Engineer W. C. Williams. Williams said no details of the proposal have been worked out, but results of a study may be known in a few months.

The freeway would provide a new route for motorists on Highway 99, and a grid tying in principal arterials.

The commission at its meeting Friday also heard the Oregon Centennial Commission ask assistance in developing adequate roads in Multnomah County to handle expected heavy traffic to the Pacific International Livestock Exposition buildings, site of the 1957 trade fair.

Anthony Brandenthaler, centennial chairman, estimated the access roads would cost about $83,000. Charles Reynolds, highway commission chairman, said the development would be a matter for the county, but promised cooperation of the state when the roads become part of the county system.

Multnomah County Sheriff Francis Lambert asked the commission to consider development of public conveniences at the new Hooster Rock state park on the Columbia River Highway.

A 20-man delegation from Dayton and Newburg urged improvement of Highway 99W as a four-lane route to Newburg from its present four-lane terminus at Midleton.

Racial Conflicts Mark Election

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana — British Guiana, where communism won and lost a foothold four years ago, will come up for another election next Monday.

An estimated 200,000 persons in this colony on the north coast of South America, will ballot to fill the 14 elected seats in the new legislature. Fifty-six candidates are competing for the running and a few candidates are competing as independents.

It marks the first direct vote in the colony since 1953 when East Indian dentist Choudi Jagan, 39, year-old avowed Marxist, and his partisans won control of the legislature and held it until the British moved in troops 133 days later.

Racial conflicts have been injected into the campaign in this country of half million people where the dominant groups are Indians, who total 48 per cent and Negroes, 42 per cent.

Confidential Jury Hears Some Tales About Hollywood

LOS ANGELES — The jury in the Confidential Magazine criminal libel trial has heard a little about Hollywood scandal-mongering, but the prosecution says it will blow the lid off gossip-gathering activities next week.

Former Confidential editor Howard Rushmore testified Friday about many of the magazine's story-gathering secrets.

Rushmore named a one-time figure in Hollywood movie circles as Confidential's "chief source" of information about the purported indiscretions of movie stars.

Rushmore said she is actor Bruce Cabot's former wife, Francesca Scaffa, Miss de Scaffa was indicted in the case. She is in Mexico, but Deputy Dist. Atty. William L. Ritz says he will start proceedings to extradite her.

Rushmore testified that Miss de Scaffa told him and Confidential's publisher, Robert Harrison, that she "had access to practically every home in Hollywood, had an almost unlimited number of friends and knew their secrets."

He added: "She said smilingly, 'I can give you stories if I have to have an affair with whatever man you want.'"

"I told Mr. Harrison," Rushmore testified, "that we had to be very careful with de Scaffa as I considered her dangerous and emotionally unstable."

The former editor testified that in an effort to get statements from certain movie stars, Harrison instructed Miss de Scaffa to have lunch with them and record their conversations with an electronic device strapped to her wrist.

Rushmore named Los Angeles private detective Barney Ruditsky as another source of information.

Sabotage Plane Falls In Street Of Havana, Cuba

HAVANA, Cuba, — A twin-engine Beechcraft, said by Army officials to have been engaged in sabotage to sugar cane fields to harass the government, crashed Saturday and burst into flames. It was the second plane officially reported to have engaged in arsonist activities.

An Army communique said the plane, sighted near Havana, was intercepted by the Cuban Air force and ordered to land at the military field, Camp Columbia.

The pilot refused and headed for a wide dual highway near Havana. He crashed upon landing and the plane caught fire.

The communique said the plane was loaded with phosphorus compounds to be used in burning up cane fields.

The communique said the markings on the plane indicated it belonged to ex-President Carlos Prío Socarras, now an exile in Miami.

The army communique also said the Cuban Rangers — rural guards — clashed with cattle thieves in Las Villas Province, near La Llorona Plantation. Two days ago at the same place rebels and troops had a running fight.

The army then said the rebels suffered six casualties.

6 Boston Daily Papers Struck

BOSTON — More than 1,250,000 news-hungry greater Boston residents were without local morning newspapers today as a wage dispute involving 300 mailers forced six of the city's seven dailies to suspend publication temporarily.

It was the first local newspaper blackout in the memory of veteran newsmen.

One newspaper spokesman said the suspension might be a long one for the six dailies involved: the Morning Herald, the Herald, the Evening Herald, the Record and the Evening American, and the evening Traveler.

Some 5,000 non-striking employees were notified not to report for work shortly after the mailers set up picket lines at 6 p. m. (EDT) last night.

Government Will Prosecute Abel Espionage Case

NEW YORK — A high Justice Department official said Saturday the government intends to prosecute its spy case against Soviet Col. Rudolf Abel, 53, with utmost vigor.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Gen. William F. Tompkins made the comment amid unofficial reports that the government might drop the case rather than open up FBI files.

The Supreme Court ruled in June that the defense in a criminal case is entitled to see certain FBI files, hitherto kept secret, in order to prepare its case.

Tompkins, who came here from Washington to handle the government case against Abel, said: "I have no intention of dropping this case. I have no desire to make anything easy for Soviet spies."

Tompkins, reviewing action already taken, added: "We had evidence that a crime had been committed. We presented that evidence to a grand jury. The grand jury returned an indictment."

In Washington, a Justice Department spokesman said it was purely hypothetical to speculate that the government might feel forced to drop the case because of the court ruling.

Abel was indicted by a Brooklyn, N.Y., grand jury on Wednesday on charges of spying on this country for his Russian homeland. Flown back from Texas, where he was awaiting deportation as an illegal alien, he was arraigned in federal district court in Brooklyn Friday and held without bond.

District Judge Matthew T. Abuzzo entered a technical plea of innocent for Abel. He gave him until next Tuesday to get a lawyer and held him without bail.

Hurricane Bertha Slackens Pace

NEW ORLEANS — Tropical storm Bertha ended its short-lived, threatened reign of terror along the Gulf Coast today and fizzled inland over eastern Texas.

The Weather Bureau's final bulletin on the storm at 4 a. m. (CST) said it was about 20 miles northwest of Beaumont, Tex., with highest winds estimated 30 to 40 m.p.h.

Bertha was moving northwestward at about 10 m.p.h., the bulletin said, and its remains would be in north-central Texas by tonight.

There was little threat of the precipitable flooding the Weather Bureau said, although locally heavy showers were likely near the center of the storm and in east Texas.

Development Noted On Segregation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
At scattered points throughout the South, various developments today highlighted the complex and controversial problems of segregation. Two developments seemed to outweigh the others in importance.

1. The Alabama House passed a bill which would prohibit Tuskegee Negroes who are shunning white merchants from establishing their own city. The vote for the bill yesterday was 70-33.

Negroes began their boycott several weeks ago in the wake of a law which changed Tuskegee's boundaries and placed all except 10 of the 420 Negro voters outside the city limits.

2. At Miami, Fla., the NAACP told Negroes to sit wherever they wanted to sit on city buses. "Ride wherever you like," said the NAACP.

The announcement followed an order from U.S. District Judge Emmet Choate that segregated bus seating in Florida's largest city must end by Sept. 1.

No immediate flocking of Negroes to the front seats was reported, however, nor were there any reports of friction or disturbances among white and Negro riders.

Seaborn Collins Hits Foreign Aid

EUGENE — American foreign aid money is being used to build gambling house roads and retire Nationalist Chinese soldiers, a former national commander of the American Legion said Friday night.

The charges were given by Seaborn P. Collins of Las Cruces, N.M., as he urged that Congress study foreign aid intensely and lop away any useless spending.

Collins, a featured speaker at the state American Legion convention, said U.S. Dollars have built a "28-mile, four-lane road to a gambling house in Portugal."

In addition, he said, "retirement pay for the soldiers of Formosa and Iraq" comes out of the America treasury, and is shipped overseas under the foreign aid program.

German guides refer to 1,000 apartment buildings in West Germany as the ones "Uncle Sam built," Collins said.

Collins also charged that the United States has given two-thirds more money to Communist nations that it has to "our neighbors in Central and South America."

Klamath River Basin Compact Ok'd By Senate

WASHINGTON — A bill authorizing Oregon and California to develop jointly the water resources of the Klamath River Basin was passed by the Senate in a voice vote Friday night.

The measure, the Klamath River Basin Compact Bill, now goes to the House for action.

If passed there, the bill would permit the two states to develop the water resources on a total of 10,010,000 acres.

Sen. Neuberger (D-Ore.), who urged passage of the measure, said power on the river would be developed under a compact with the California Oregon Power Co.

Neuberger said this demonstrates that he and Sen. Morse (D-Ore) have been unfairly attacked as advocates of a "federal or nothing" approach to the problems of power generation.

The compact measure, he said, must be followed by legislation which will safeguard "Klamath Indian Tribe pine timber and a marshland where the Klamath River rises."

Waterfowl refuges also should be safeguarded if the House approves the Senate version of the compact bill, he said.

Some opposition to the compact bill was voiced by Sen. Dworshak (R-Idaho), who said he did not see how Oregon could enter the compact without a similar agreement with Idaho for developing the Columbia River.

Neuberger said Idaho wanted to "surrender" rights to private power interests. He said Oregon did not.

Support for the Klamath measure came from Sen. Kuchel (R-Calif.).

British Give Up Check On 2 Subs

LONDON — An Admiralty spokesman said Saturday the British Navy was no longer keeping track of two Polish submarines last reported heading out into the stormy North Sea.

"The last we saw of them," the spokesman said, "they were heading straight out and were about 50 miles due east of Newcastle."

Asked if there was any word as to their whereabouts Saturday morning, the spokesman replied: "No, we haven't been looking."

The Royal Navy tailed the subs with minesweepers Friday after they edged fairly close to the Scottish coast, but outside the three-mile limit.

As the Polish craft headed into a storm lashing the English Channel, the minesweepers signaled them a courtesy offer of assistance.

The Poles curtly flashed back on a signal lamp: "No help needed."

Speculation had arisen here that their crewmen might be wanting to seek asylum in Britain or heading for delivery to Egypt as part of a Soviet arms deal.

The Admiralty came to the conclusion early Saturday that the subs were merely carrying out training maneuvers in these international waters.

State Police Capture Three Of Seven Escapees

ARLINGTON, Ore. — Oregon state police Friday took into custody three of the seven boys who early this week participated in a mass escape from the MacLaren Home for Boys at Woodburn.

The boys were captured after their car was stopped by state police conducting a routine check.

Police said the boys fled on foot, but were run down and captured by officers.

The escapees were identified as Jackie Gasper, 17, Portland; Freddie Buntin, 15, Hermiston; and Cedric Adkins, 17, Corvallis.

Police took the boys into custody on Highway 30 about 20 miles west of here. Arlington is some 50 miles east of The Dalles.

Navy Commissions Newest Aircraft Carrier Saturday

NORFOLK, Va. — The Navy commissioned its newest aircraft carrier Saturday and announced that the 60,000-ton flattop, the U.S.S. Ranger, will be assigned to the Pacific Fleet.

The Navy said in Washington that the Ranger, following shakedown cruises, will be sent to the Pacific as the first of her class to operate there. She is the third Forrestal class carrier.

The Navy said the Ranger will report to the Pacific Fleet in the summer of 1958 after shakedown and training activities with the Atlantic Fleet.

In remarks at the commissioning of the Norfolk Navy Yard nearby Portsmouth, Va., Adm. Arthur W. Radford said U. S. policy places primary reliance, in event of a general war, on a strong retaliatory capability.

He said that capability must be adequate and "ready for immediate application."

Radford, who steps down next Thursday as chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, said that because of budget limitations, military planning dictates that U. S. heavy striking forces must be sufficient-

Lost Portland Boy Located At Yosemite

YOSEMITE NATIONAL PARK, Calif. — Six-year-old Terry Wayne Dunbar of Portland, Ore., was found in good condition by Yosemite National Park Rangers Saturday morning.

The lad, son of Mrs. Robert Bivens, by a former marriage, strayed from a group that was hiking down the precipitous Yosemite Falls trail Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Bivens, another son, age nine, and another family of five persons were in the group.

The search party reported at 10:30 a. m. that the lad was not harmed by his experience. He had wandered from the trail to a ledge high above the valley, and apparently slept there throughout the night.

A packer was sent with a horse to bring the boy down. No further details of the search were radioed from the scene.

People in the valley witnessed the last dramatic moments of the rescue, which was plainly visible high up the granite cliff.

Chief Ranger Oscar A. Sederzen got first word of the situation shortly before dark, Friday night, and immediately dispatched a crew of the most experienced rangers on the search.

Bloodhounds seasoned in working mountain terrain were brought in during the night by Russ Cone.

Sederzen described the location as one of the most rugged and difficult in the park, and a trail on which children should never venture.

Brewster Will Return To Witness Stand

TACOMA — Frank W. Brewster will return to the witness stand Monday when a federal grand jury opens the third week of its investigation of income tax returns of Teamsters Union president Dave Beck.

Brewster, president of the Western Conference of Teamsters, was on the stand for 2 1/2 hours Friday before the jury of 16 men and five women recessed for the weekend.

Brewster was the 30th witness to appear before the jury since it began its inquiry into Beck's financial affairs July 29.

The investigation is expected to last another week.

The jury is looking into Beck's income tax returns for the years after 1950. It indicted Beck May 2, on charges of evading $36,000 of income taxes in 1950. He pleaded innocent.

LIVERMORE, Calif. — An entire Air Force family was wiped out in a head-on collision six miles east of here which claimed seven lives.

Dead in the other car were Paul F. Lockett, 40, of Hayward, Calif., a shipyard guard, and his wife, Pauline, 28.

House Leaders See Early Break In Civil Rights

WASHINGTON — House leaders looked hopefully today for an early break in the log jam immobilizing civil rights legislation.

The first move is due to be made when the House reconvenes Tuesday. Rep. Keating (R-N.Y.) announced he will move then to take the controversial bill off the speaker's desk and send it to conference with the Senate.

The main controversy revolves around a far-reaching jury trial amendment written by the Senate into a bill designed to protect voting rights. The House bill contains no such amendment. President Eisenhower opposed the jury trial amendment in the Senate bill on grounds it would endanger the power of federal courts to enforce their orders.

Keating said the bill ought to be sent to the House Rules Committee and cleared to conference immediately "so we can get on with it."

The Democrats had other ideas. They planned to try to bypass conference procedure and bring a compromise bill directly to the floor for a vote. The idea is to send the bill back to the Senate without a conference and thus eliminate the possibility of a lengthy deadlock.

While the confused parliamentary situation could snag the bill indefinitely, Rep. Celler (D-N.Y.) predicted the jam would be broken — possibly quicker than anticipated.

"The situation is very confused," he conceded, "but I think the ice jam will break all right."

Backstage maneuvers, meanwhile, strengthened belief that Senate to go along with a proposed compromise solution limiting jury trial guarantees to voting right cases only.

Herbert Hoover Sees Two Clouds In Our Horizon

SAN FRANCISCO — Former President Herbert Hoover, 83, today, sees two clouds on the horizon — "the cloud of possible war and the cloud of possible inflation."

He refused to prophesy on either at a news conference yesterday in his hotel suite.

Puffing at a pipe which went out twice in the half-hour interview, Hoover appeared hale and hearty. Reportedly, he has seen him frequently since he left the White House almost 25 years ago said they had not seen him looking so well in many years.

On war, Hoover said "the West has grown definitely stronger, but military values are changing. You can't evaluate ground armies and navies, but you can't evaluate where nuclear weapons are concerned."

"Especially when we know nothing about our major enemy and that's Russia," he added.

Hoover said he views the current spurt of inflation as "very dangerous." But he commented, "The administration, the Federal Reserve and various financial agencies of the government are unquestionably bringing the thing to check."

Eugene Store Leased By Harry Hagan Burns

EUGENE — A meat packing plant being converted into a furniture store was destroyed by fire on Friday, and Fire Chief Robert Waters estimated damage at $60,000.

Masberry-Chapman Corp. owned the building, Waters said, and it was under lease to Harry Hagan of Roseburg. About $10,000 insurance was carried on the building, and $4,000 on its contents.

Waters said the blaze apparently started from a trash fire that leaped out of control.

Anthony Doria Next On Senate Probers' List

WASHINGTON — The man who allegedly brought racketeer Johnny Dio into the labor movement has been ordered to appear Monday before the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee.

The committee announced it has served a subpoena commanding Anthony Doria to appear for questioning about his conduct as secretary-treasurer of the old AFL Auto Worker Union, now renamed the Allied Industrial Workers (AIW). Doria has been ousted from post with the AIW.

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) said he also intends to ask Doria about testimony that the AIW agreed to pay Doria $80,000 and buy him a big automobile in return for his resignation.

Earl Heaton, the AIW's retiring president, testified Friday the union agreed to pay $80,000 to Doria to get rid of him. Doria was involved in welfare fund scandals.

Heaton said Doria has received $25,000 and a car but that Doria is suing to collect on union notes for the balance of the $80,000.

Doria sent word he intends to answer any questions the committee asks.
