

Society Barred
Dio's 'Honesty,' Ex-Pal Declares

WASHINGTON — Anthony Doria, onetime pal of racketeer Johnny Dio in the labor movement, described Dio Monday as a frustrated man who sought to become an honest labor leader but "society wouldn't let him."

And, Doria testified to the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee, Dio himself has told him within recent weeks that he had "nothing to do" with the acid blinding of labor columnist Victor Riesel.

Dio had opportunity last week to give the senators his own version of what he aimed to do, and what he has done. But he pleaded the Fifth Amendment to all major questions, saying his answers might tend to incriminate.

Dio is under indictment on conspiracy charges in the blinding last year of Riesel.

Doria said he visited Dio's home recently and asked the racketeer about the Riesel case, and got the answer that the charge is "absolutely a farce."

"He knows nothing about it," Doria added.

He said he didn't ask whether Dio knows who was responsible for dashing searing acid into Riesel's eyes, and that Dio suggested no names to him.

Doria said he personally has been contacted four times by FBI agents questioning him about the case and that this has convinced him "there is no evidence against Johnny Dio."

Doria was until last March secretary-treasurer of the Allied Industrial Workers Union, formerly the old AFL United Auto Workers Union (UAW).

Doria left the union under pressure. Questions as to his fitness to hold union office had been raised in the AFL-CIO, partly because of his associations with Dio. There was testimony last week that Doria agreed to resign on condition that the union pay him $80,000 and give him a Cadillac car. He has been paid $25,000 and contends the union still owes him $55,000.

Meany Opposes
5th Amendment
For Labor Chiefs

CHICAGO — AFL-CIO President George Meany said Monday "there should not be any change" in the AFL-CIO policy of cooperating with congressional committees investigating labor.

Meany upheld the policy of cooperation at a news conference after there had been reports that some labor leaders wanted to attack the U. S. Senate Rackets Committee.

Meany told newsmen that the Senate committee "did a good job as far as it went." He added that exposure of corruption is good for labor "as well as anyone else."

Meany said he had not heard of reports that some labor chiefs were dissatisfied with the AFL-CIO policy of cooperation.

These unnamed leaders had been reported miffed because the committee investigation of management and labor practices had put the accent on labor.

Against 5th Amendment
"We'll cooperate legislatively or any other way," Meany said. But he said his organization will "resist any attempt to fasten restrictive laws upon labor as a whole because of the sins of a few."

Meany also said that he stands firm on the AFL-CIO policy against labor leaders invoking the Fifth Amendment to protect themselves.

He announced that the AFL-CIO Executive Council will take up the case for Maurice Hutcheson, president of the Carpenters Union and a member of the council. He did not set a time for that case.

Hutcheson took the Fifth Amendment when he appeared before the U. S. Senate Public Works Committee. The committee was looking into reports that Hutcheson and others made quick profits from the sale of land to the state of Indiana along a road project.

Smoke Jumpers In Idaho Injured

RIGGINS, Idaho — Five fire fighters were injured Sunday in a 1,000-foot parachute jump into the Nez Perce National Forest to battle flames in grass and timber.

Two of the injured were brought out by helicopter Monday while forest officials described the 1,000-acre fire as "pretty well under control."

Twenty-four smoke jumpers were called in to fight the fire 30 miles east of here. The blaze was blamed on a careless smoker.

Joe West, 21, and Robert Nicol, 22, both of Missoula, Mont., were examined for possible back and leg injuries. The other three apparently weren't seriously hurt and were coming out by automobile.

The fire lines were manned by a dozen men from McCall, Idaho, 24 Nez Perce forestry workers and 100 men from blister rust crews in the Clearwater National Forest.
