LOTUS KNIGHT PORTER

SATURDAY, AUGUST 24, 1957

—The News-Review, Roseburg, Ore. 7

ENTHUSIASTIC PARTICIPANTS annually at the Douglas County Fair are Mr. and Mrs. Don Auer and their son, Byron, who with Mrs. Auer's nephew, Allen Autry, of Portland, make up today's feature page to celebrate the 1957 Douglas County Fair. Members of the Auer family are winners of numerous ribbons for entries in fairs. Former residents of Coos County, they now own a large dairy herd of 60 cows, on a ranch on Lander Lane near Winston.

DON AND HILDA AUER AND their 17 year-old son, Byron, are pictured at the top left, in the attractive garden of their home. At the right, Mrs. Auer is pictured with some of her pies and breads, which are unexcelled according to everyone ever having the good fortune to try her cooking. The very beautiful strawberry chiffon pie (held by Mrs. Auer in the picture) was devoured to the last crumb just as soon as the feature page was completed.

ALLEN AUTRY, 15 year-old nephew of Mrs. Auer, who wants to become a veterinarian, has spent the summer at the ranch and is pictured at the right in the 12 foot-high stand of corn, a planting of 20 acres on the farm which has been grown by the Auers as a test crop for a large seed company.
