

Oregon Young GOP Favors Deeper Income Tax Slash; Morse, Neuberger Walloped

COOS BAY — Oregon Young Republicans want the coming special session of the Legislature to increase personal income tax exemptions as one means of cutting down on the state's anticipated 72 million dollar tax surplus. They took the stand in a resolution passed at the final session of their annual convention here Saturday.

Another resolution, on civil rights, criticized Oregon for racial discrimination in housing. "We, as Young Republicans," it said, "urge that as a state we should clean up our own house before criticizing other states."

Jack Miller, Salem, and Joyce Spillman, Portland, were elected co-chairmen. Other new officers include Mrs. Carolyn Larson, Eugene, national committeewoman; and Joseph Fowler, Eugene, vice chairman at large.

A banquet session Saturday night heard Republican national chairman Meade Alcorn lash out at Oregon's two Democratic senators, Wayne Morse and Richard Neuberger, describing them as "bickering" and "headline hunters."

"Hopelessly Divided" Morse and Sen. Neuberger, Alcorn said, "appear to be hopelessly divided and in as sharp conflict as their party is nationally." Their bickering and public quarreling serve only to emphasize that no state can afford the luxury of two notorious headline hunters in the Senate at the same time.

Alcorn said six "so-called liber-

Local Police Tracking Hit-Run Car Driver

A hit-run accident Sunday evening is being investigated by Roseburg police armed with pieces of chrome from the departing car.

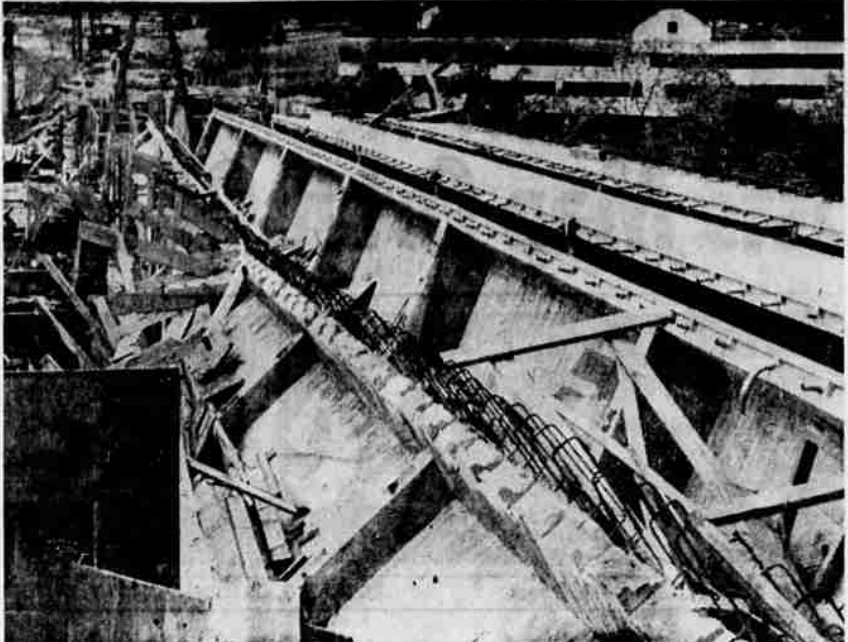

The accident occurred at 812 W. Harvard Ave. where James E. Hall's 1951 sedan was parked. The car was hit on the left rear fender and knocked forward and down into his yard where it crashed into a telephone pole, according to police reports.

Hall said he did not see the car which struck his, but a police officer who lives across the street said he heard the crash and looked out to see two cars stop in front of Hall's house and then drive away.

The car which struck the Hall vehicle is described as a pale green 1954 Pontiac. A chrome trim ring from a headlight and chrome wheel disk hub cap from a Pontiac of that year were found at the scene of the crash.

POWER PROMOTED

GARDEN CITY, N.Y. — Movie actor Tyrone Power, a captain in the Marine Corps reserve, has been promoted to major.

GIRDERS STILL COLLAPSED — Work on another span of the Pruner Bridge over the South Umpqua River at Riddle is continuing while construction men are figuring on how to save one of the two pre-stressed concrete girders which tipped over mysteriously about a month ago. The girder in the foreground is beyond repair, and probably will have to be removed in pieces. Engineers, however, think the tilted girder next to it may be saved. The pre-stress technique is new in bridge construction in Oregon, and engineers so far are mystified about the cause of the collapse. Wires pulled to high tension through the girders give them strength. (Staff photo)

Antimerger Law Count Hits Proctor & Gamble

WASHINGTON — The government charged Monday that Proctor & Gamble Co. violated the antimerger law in acquiring the Clorox Chemical Co. of Oakland, Calif.

A Federal Trade Commission complaint said the big soap firm's acquisition of Clorox, which it described as the nation's largest seller of liquid household bleach, "may substantially lessen competition or tend to create a monopoly."

It gave Proctor & Gamble 30 days in which to file an answer to the complaint, and said a hearing would be held Dec. 16 in Cincinnati, corporate home of the company.

The FTC said Proctor & Gamble acquired the Clorox firm "on or after Aug. 1," paying more than 30 million dollars although the FTC said Clorox's assets were valued at about 15 millions. The remainder was for the Clorox trade name and good will, FTC alleged.

Employment Boost Urges Sent To Holmes

was discussion of those economic needs in the district.

Slump In Evidence — Chairmen from the other six counties in the district said an economic slump has been "evidenced" in their areas as it has in Douglas County.

"We must find or provide jobs for our unemployed workers," stated State Sen. Dan Dimick, Roseburg. He said that "immediate action must be taken on both the state and federal level to give our faltering economy a boost."

Two pieces of legislation introduced by Porter were endorsed by the county chairmen: (1) To award 100,000 national scholarships yearly to talented students, including graduate scientists; and (2) to place a billion dollars from the Railroad Retirement Fund into the secondary mortgage market, a move which he says will spur new housing construction.

Administration Hit — Russia's "baby moon" also came in for some comment. The chairman took the "Republican Big Business administration" to task for "obvious failure to provide federal support for increased scientific research to cope with scientific development for defense of the United States and free peoples of the world."

Persons attending the meeting from the district's counties were: Mrs. Mildred Russell, county chairman, and Paul Civen, research director, both from Lane County; Clifford Driscoll, Josephine chairman; Larry Sheehan, chairman, and Mrs. Donna Straus, vice chairman, both of Jackson County; Robert Jones, Coos chairman; and Roll.

Linn and Curry counties weren't represented. Also attending were Mr. and Mrs. Chester Flory of Josephine County; Sen. Dimick, Rep. Porter; Mr. and Mrs. William Jones, and Mrs. Robert Dorsy, of Roseburg; and Laura Olson, Porter's administrative aide.

Supermarket Robbery Shows Careful Planning

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Police today worked to solve a carefully planned and daringly executed supermarket robbery in which six persons were held captive by two thieves in the store manager's home.

Officers said the six, including a 6-year-old boy, were held hostage in a suburban Upper Arlington home Saturday night while the child's father was forced at gunpoint to open two safes in a Columbus supermarket which he manages.

The two robbers, one wearing a stocking cap mask, got an undetermined amount of money from the Big Bear store, police said, and made good their escape.

Investigators, noting the careful planning involved, said the two wore adhesive tape over their fingerprints to avoid leaving prints. Ray Evans, 38, the store manager, was forced to drive to a wooded area, where one of the robbers disconnected the battery cables on the auto and tied Evans with wire, a belt and necktie and left him in the back seat. Evans said he freed himself about 15 minutes later and walked to a nearby house to call police.

Stray Bullets Strike Homes Near Roseburg

Two reports of stray bullets striking Roseburg houses have been received by law enforcement agencies.

A .22 caliber bullet, which apparently ricocheted, hit a bedroom window at the Jean Petrequin home at 32 NW Harvey Ct. The sheriff's office was informed Sunday morning. Damage was reported as slight.

W. O. Hall, 1066 NE Lincoln St., told Roseburg police this morning that a bullet fired by a hunter over a nearby hill had struck his house.

Overheated Flue Causes Minor Damage At CBA

An overheated flue at the Canyonville Bible Academy almost caused a fire there Sunday night, but it was caught in time and only minor damage resulted, according to Mrs. Virginia Proctor, Canyonville correspondent.

Boards around the flue began smoldering due to excessive heat and were discovered by Paul Malin, an instructor at the academy and Robert Shafter, school secretary. The Canyonville volunteer fire dept. was called and they were assisted by the CBA fire dept., which is composed of students. The two groups tore the boards out and prevented a fire.

They worked over an hour before the danger was eliminated. The overheated flue was apparently caused by cold boys who built a roaring fire in a connected wood stove. The fire was discovered at 9:45 p.m.

An overheated wood stove at the home of J. Elwood, 1525 SE Mill St., Roseburg almost got out of hand Saturday morning but no serious fire resulted, according to the Roseburg Fire Dept.

The stove heated a flue which in turn burned the paper on the surrounding plaster board. Firemen reported that the hole for the stove pipe was too small. Only minor damage was incurred.

U. S. Scientists Mapping Journey Of Satellite

what this information involved. Some U. S. scientists said the satellite apparently was sending back a coded signal, and they voiced the hope the Russians would let them in on the code, so they can share in any information obtained. One Russian expert said there is no special code in signals coming from the baby moon.

For Earth Learning Only

The satellite project is part of the program of the International Geophysical Year. This is a project aimed at learning more about the earth and the universe.

Dr. John P. Hagen, director of the American satellite program, said U. S. plans still call for launching small test vehicles later this fall, with the firing of full-scale 20-inch satellites in the spring. The American satellite is planned to weigh about 22 pounds, compared with the reported 185-pounder the Russians shot into space Friday.

Hagen said the present Soviet satellite appears to be a test vehicle. He said this explains the lack of any advance announcement by the Russians.

Hagen said that in a week or so, when the satellite begins making its passes over the United States at twilight, "we can check by optical observations." He said this could be done with binoculars and small telescopes.

Moon Ultimate Goal?

At Pasadena, Calif., Dr. W. H. Pickering said scientists at the California Institute of Technology have been recording signals from the Soviet satellite since it was launched.

He said the sphere's closest approach to the earth may be about 300 miles, "although its average height above the earth is 380 miles."

A Russian spokesman estimated that the satellite would stay aloft about a month. But Pickering said the sphere probably will have an extremely long life.

In addition to official monitoring stations, private and government radio operators have been picking up signals from the satellite.

Some American specialists said the advent of the space satellite pointed to the coming of rocket travel to the moon and possibly other planets.

UNIONTOWN, Pa. — Six persons, including an official of Standard Oil Co. of Ohio, were killed last night when their twin-engine airplane crashed near the top of fog-shrouded Summit Mountain.

Flying in a heavy rain, the craft came down in a heavily wooded area near the Jumboville Methodist summer camp about seven miles east of this southwestern Pennsylvania community.

Four of the victims were identified: They were: T. M. McLaughlin, about 45, Shaker Heights, Ohio, senior partner of T. M. McLaughlin Co., Cleveland food brokers. His wife, Helen, 40.

Faubus Like 'King Canute' — Democratic Sen. Herbert H. Lehman of New York said Faubus will be remembered in history "among those foolish and shortsighted men who have vainly tried like King Canute to use their puny authority to hold back the tidal forces of history."

"Gov. Faubus awoke not only the fury of the mobs, which he may have intended to do, but the united determination of the country, which he did not envisage," Lehman declared.

Lehman praised the work of the courts in the segregation question, saying they alone had acted while the executive branch of the government and Congress had adopted a do-nothing policy.

Harr Moore, executive editor of the Arkansas Gazette and a critic of Faubus, said in a nationwide television discussion in New York that "so long as the governor remains in an essentially negative posture there is a threat of mob violence."

GI Faces Army Probe In Killing Korean Teenager

SEOUL — The U. S. Army Monday filed a charge of involuntary manslaughter against Army Specialist 3c Raymond L. Bailey of Brownsburg, Ind., whose fatal shooting of a South Korean boy resulted in protests from the South Korean foreign minister and the Korean press.

Bailey was accused of killing Song Joon Won, 15, while guarding a train at a railroad siding near Kimechon Oct. 3.

The charge does not mean Bailey automatically will go to trial before a courtmartial, but that the case will be formally investigated, the Army said.

The shooting was one of two over the weekend that has stirred nationwide criticism in South Korea and demands for the right to try GIs in Korean courts.

Bailey said the boy he shot was tampering with a box car door. Korean police said he was just strolling by. South Korea's foreign minister protested verbally to the U. S. government and the home minister demanded severe punishment for Bailey.

A conviction of involuntary manslaughter carries a maximum penalty of dishonorable discharge, forfeiture of all pay, and imprisonment at hard labor for three years.

In the second case, a Korean surprised stealing supplies from a U. S. compound fled and was shot and killed by Pvt. Ronald Smith, Chicago. An investigation is being made.

Youth, 18, Slays Girl Choir Singer, Himself

LOS ANGELES — An 18-year-old youth shot a girl choir singer to death and then killed himself in her home, police said today.

The bodies were found on the living room floor Saturday night, a .22 caliber rifle nearby. Detective George Stoner said Jerry Wylie borrowed the rifle from a friend, bought some cartridges and went to the home of Doris Posey, also 18.

"We believe she had been refusing his advances, so he got a gun and killed her," Stoner said. "Wylie came home from the Marine Corps only last week after being discharged because of a head injury suffered in a traffic accident when he was a boy. Doris was to leave this week for basic training in the Waves."

The twins were joined at the pelvis but are described as normal in other respects. Patricia also suffers from a congenital heart lesion and is what is called a "blue baby."

The children were born to Mr. and Mrs. John Schatz in Mercy Hospital, Rockville Centre, Long Island. They weighed a total of 14 pounds at birth.
