California's Democratic Candidate Charges 'Deal' In Withdrawal Of Knight

WASHINGTON (AP) — California's Democratic Atty. Gen. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown accused Republicans Wednesday of a "deal" in Gov. Goodwin J. Knight's jump out of the reelection race to run for the Republican senatorial nomination.
Governor Knight immediately denied there was any deal.
Brown, only announced candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor in strategic California, called for an explanation from Knight, Sen. William F. Knowland and Vice President Nixon.
"I think I know" who brought off the new arrangement, Brown said at a news conference, "but they should explain."
Brown said he had heard from a California Republican, before the new setup was created by Knight's move Tuesday, a bout plans for future followup moves.
His outline ran like this:
Knowland whose path to the GOP gubernatorial nomination was cleared by Knight's action, to resign from the Senate after next June's primary.
Knight to be appointed for the rest of Knowland's Senate term running through 1958.
Knight then to run as an incumbent in the November general election.
Knight came back quickly with a statement that he would not consider any proposal by which Knowland would resign and he would be appointed in the senator's place.
"It is my firm desire and intention to serve for the remainder of my term as governor," Knight said.
Brown did not spell out just what part he contended Nixon had in the arrangement. The vice president issued a statement Tuesday on the heels of Knight's shift in goals, warmly endorsing the governor for the Senate, and Knowland for the governorship.
The Knight announcement came on the heels of a visit by the governor to Nixon, following a talk by Knight with President Eisenhower at the White House.
Knowland, for his part, has been

Army Announces Manpower Cuts At Little Rock

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army announced Wednesday another heavy cut in the number of troops and federalized National Guardsmen on school integration duty at Little Rock, Ark.
Secretary Wilber M. Brucker said the decision to reduce the troop contingent there was based on "the steady improvement in community stability noted currently in Little Rock."
The Army said this second round of troops reductions will be carried out "forthwith" and that thereafter 225 troopers of the First Battle Group of the 101st Airborne Division will remain. There are now about 500 regular Army soldiers in the Little Rock area.
The reduction also will apply to federalized National Guard units.
