Jackson Objects To Army Spending On Missile Job

SPOKANE (AP) — Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.) said Wednesday he strongly objects to a reported Army plan to spend 6 billion dollars or more on antimissile missile projects.

"I believe in first things first," he told a reporter. "Our main deterent to Russian aggression is not defensive but offensive weapons. The United States should concentrate on its missile program rather than on missile killers.

"Gen. Maxwell Taylor's proposal for an antimissile program to the Joint Chiefs of Staff and the secretary of defense is premature."

Gen. Taylor, Army chief of staff, is reportedly urging the Administration to make an all-out effort to produce an operational antimissile by 1961 at a cost of from 6 to 7 billion dollars.

Jackson said that antimissile missiles would have to be 100 per cent perfect to be of any value and claimed no one has prefected a 100 per cent effective defense against missiles.

"We must first build up our offensive power, including our missile program," he said. "We can't afford to dissipate resources on defense."

Seed Growers League Hopes To Expand Market

PORTLAND (AP) — The Oregon Seed Growers League Wednesday said it hopes to expand its overseas markets.

The league said it is seeking to find how it may be helped by a federal law designed to move surplus commodities overseas.

Market expansion, the league said, will be the main item discussed as its annual meeting here Dec. 5-7.

League Secretary Rex Warren said that expansion of forage grass and legume seed markets in South America, Korea and Japan is "highly promising."

The discussion on government assistance will be led by Wallace Rice of Grants Pass, the manager of a Josephine County growers co-op.
