WINTER COMING ON—WHO CARES?—Cold weather doesn't bother Cordelia Wysard as she frolics in the Pacific Ocean on a Hawaiian beach. Cordelia backs up Bank of Hawaii's report that tourists will become the Islands' largest industry in the next 10 years. Airlines have cut the time-distance to 7½ hours and within two years, or sooner, jets will bring the Islands within 4½ hours of the West Coast. Most Hawaii visitors come from the West Coast and by 1960, tourist spending in Hawaii is expected to reach an annual $100 million.

Girard Case Outcome Shows Desire For Reconciliation

The following story was written for the Associated Press by Robert T. Hartmann, Washington bureau chief of The Los Angeles Times, who covered the judgment of both the U.S. Supreme Court and the Maebashi District Court of Japan in the William S. Girard case.

By ROBERT T. HARTMANN
MAEBASHI, Japan—The climax of the Girard case was conducted with as much decorum and judicial dignity as the U.S. Supreme Court's ruling last June acknowledging Japan's jurisdiction. East is East and West is West and there is a world of contrast, both real and superficial between this small but tidy courtroom with its oak paneling, and the magnificent marble temple in Washington where the first act of this international drama was played. Covered Both Ends

By a happenstance of passing through Tokyo en route home from the Philippines election, this reporter is probably the only one to have covered both ends of the Girard litigation on opposite sides of the globe. My impression—and this is all that is really valid without detailed background of the trial proceedings here—is that the Japanese judge who suspended the American GI's three-year sentence today was as conscious of the international aspects of the case as were the eight justices of our highest court. There was nothing in Judge Kawachi's meticulously reasoned verdict to cater to or to excite nationalistic passions on either side of the Pacific or to lend con-

fort to the Communists. In fact he seemed to go out of his way to make clear that he was dealing with a wrong committed by one human being against another rather than by an American soldier against a Japanese civilian. Spirit of Reconciliation

Girard himself seemed to fall into the spirit of reconciliation at the news conference. Cynics may have scoffed when he proclaimed his affection for the Japanese people and married his Japanese sweetheart to prove it when he was in trouble. Now out of jeopardy the 22-year-old Girard reiterated his sentiments with a real ring of sincerity.

There is anti-Americanism everywhere in Asia and it would be extremely surprising if there were none here. But the patient and understanding handling of this incident by both Americans and Japanese authorities, after a bad start, seems to have kept it in proportion in both countries.

Highway Patrolmen Bob For Apples After Wreck

SAPULPA, Okla.—Highway patrolmen were bobbing for apples Wednesday, and it wasn't even Halloween.

A truck carrying 1½ tons of apples hit an underpass support on the Turner turnpike west of here and the cargo was spilled and smashed over the superhighway.

Patrolmen spent more than an hour clearing the apples off the road.

L. H. Sayers, 40, Grant, N.M., the truck driver, suffered a broken leg and abrasions.

Ike's Talk Spurs Activities Of U. S. Air Force Units

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON—We're getting talking and performing—to show how strong we are ever since Russia fired the Sputniks. But we didn't have the right muscles at the right time. The Russians won a propaganda victory.

Allies and neutrals were left with visions of Russian missiles and hydrogen warheads dropping in their flowerpots. Something had to be done to reassure friends, warn foes. A whole batch of statements and performances followed, none as spectacular as Sputnik.

Last Wednesday Gen. Curtis LeMay, vice chief of staff of the Air Force, captained a jet-tanker nonstop from Massachusetts to Argentina without refueling, a record of over 6,000 miles. After a rest, he flew it back to Washington, also nonstop.

That same day three jet-bombers flew 8,000 miles from California to the Philippines, nonstop but with refueling. Over the weekend six B52 bombers flew nonstop from Florida to Argentina and—without landing but with refueling—flew back to upstate New York. Meanwhile, the Defense Department announced the Navy was being equipped with atomic depth bombs, said it had shot off various kinds of missiles, and told of breaking an altitude record with a rocket.

Ike's Talk Illustrated
All this illustrated President Eisenhower's talk to the nation two weeks ago, a talk in which he said he would give the "rough" with the "smooth." There was more of the smooth than the rough.

He said, with examples, this country had developed a family of missiles, with some 38 different types either in operation or under development.

In some instances he's been accused of overstating his case. While Russia is claiming development of a missile that can span an ocean and a continent, this

"I think Hysteria already left for work, Mr. Wump... but I'll look under the bubble-bath to make sure."

Agricultural Co-ops Advised To View Mergers

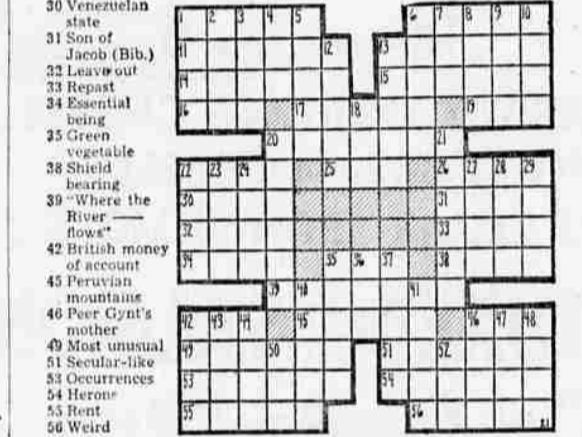

PORTLAND—J. K. Stern, president of the American Institute of Co-operation, thinks agricultural co-operatives sometimes miss chances for healthy expansion if they refuse merger opportunities.

He told representatives of 118 Northwest groups attending the Pacific Co-operative's annual meeting here Tuesday: "The average farmer has only about 2 per cent of his investment off the farm."

Stern said most farmers won't progress unless this trend is changed, and observed: "The magic word of big business today is merger, but many co-ops are reluctant to follow this progressive pattern."
