

Tips On Christmas Tree Care . . .

Mount your tree in a stand that holds water. This will keep it from drying out, and reduce fire hazards.

Place a cloth beneath the tree before you start to decorate it. Your clean-up problem will be the simple matter of picking up the cloth!

Place your tree, whenever possible, close to a wall outlet to eliminate the need for an extension cord.

Before stringing the tree lights, check them for frayed wires and faulty bulbs. The best way to string lights is to run them along the middle of the tree, and tying it to the trunk. Place lights from the top downward and outward.

When you hang your Christmas decorations, place the small ones at the top of the tree, and the large ones at the bottom. This gives your tree a balanced appearance.

Place tinsel on the tree the very last; otherwise it will get tangled up in the other ornaments.

To remove your Christmas tree the easy way, wrap it in an old sheet.

Christmas Dolls Are Fashionable

This year's Christmas dolls will delight the heart of every little girl — and give her an exciting peek into the wonderful grownup world she looks forward to so eagerly.

Dolls are "more elegant than people," this Yuletide, and come in a variety of styles and sizes, all outfitted right down to the last detail.

Baby dolls are fashioned of vinyl that simulates an infant's soft skin. They wet, drink, cry, cry, open and shut their eyes.

Complete with hospital i.d. tag, booties, cap and wrapper, or dressed in rompers and paired with a collapsible play pen, they're the next best thing to real babies!

The biggest news is the fashion doll of '57, smartly clothed in the latest styles whether dressed for bed or an evening affair.

These dolls are accessorized with complete wardrobes that can be purchased separately or added to at any time.

Costumes include evening outfits, swishy cocktail dresses, pajama and robe ensembles, fur-trimmed winter coat outfits and "fancy pants" lounging affairs. All have perfectly matched accessories in handbags, jewelry, high heeled slippers, even dainty underclothes.

Individually beautiful, these dolls are the answer to every little girl's dream of a thrilling Christmas.

Homemaker Will Welcome Handy, Small Appliances

Small appliances make a big hit as a Christmas gift for Mrs. Homemaker—or for the bachelor-ette and bachelor who lives alone (and likes it!).

Cooking right at the table is a modern innovation and one that makes a meal more fun for all—especially the cook!

Today's toaster, one of the first appliances to appear "on the table," bears little resemblance to old ones. They are now fully automatic, and some toast as many as three slices at once!

Fill with water, add coffee, plug in and forget it! Automatic coffee pots make delicious coffee, keep it constantly hot and fresh for hours.

A waffle and a grill, separately or as a combination, present a terrific Christmas gift. With this "combo" appliance, the grill plates fit over the waffle form for frying bacon, eggs, pancakes or browning sandwiches.

Two more at-the-table appliance gifts that are sure to please the whole family are a deepfryer and an electric skillet. They make foods taste so good! Cooking is easier, too.

A little larger (money-wise) among the small appliances are the so-useful mixerblenders, and the fun-to-use rotisserie-broiler.

Most everyone has an iron, but not all own a combination steam and dry one. They're wonderful to use and often eliminates the need for troublesome sprinkling.

Toys Copy World Today In Miniature

Designed to bridge the gap between the wonder-world of childhood and the practical, adult world are a new and fascinating selection of toys spilling out of Santa's billion dollar pack.

According to Melvin Freud, president of the Toy Guidance Council . . . an organization specializing in making it easier to buy toys for children of all ages, and all interests . . . toys should stimulate creative thought and activity and make learning fun.

New Look in Toys

Even tried and true favorites wear a new look; ABC blocks come in push-pull versions of jet planes; blackboards are attached to push and pull trains.

Play kits are slanted to discover aptitudes that may point to careers and hobbies. Girder and panel building sets are based on the latest assembly principals of the construction industry; tile setting kits and jewelry design outfits pay extra dividends in decorative gifts.

Electronics, Too

Electronic toys include teletype sets that really send messages, and miniature guided missile installations. All the latest national defense installations have their toyland prototypes.

Electric trains are fitted with Nike rocket equipment; train accessories now include realistic versions of every possible railroading operation.

Many toys are designed for limited space and apartment dwellers. A spinning top with rubber suction cup spins merrily in one spot. New playroom tables and chairs, game boards, doll carriages, doll beds fold away for compact storage.

For The Tots

"Steps To Learning," a scientifically gauged series for the 2 to 8 age groups has been pre-tested by educators. They help children adjust to school, acquire basic skills, learn arithmetic and master clock and calendar lore.

New water color crayons change from finger paints to water color paints to regulation crayons for triple-play appeal. "Magi-Paint," the powdered finger paint eliminates the usual sticky mess.

There's a greater variety than ever of musical toys including miniature organs and harps that really play.

Girls Delight

Little girls will delight in the replicas of ranch houses and split level buildings created for 8 to 10 inch dolls and furnished with modern sectional pieces and new kitchen equipment.

Mechanical toys encompass exact reproductions of sports cars complete with steering wheel, gear shift, and windshield wiper.

How To Make Gay Christmas Candle

Make your own inexpensive, easy-to-do, "Holiday House" candle! You can buy everything you need in one stop at the five-and-dime store.

An easily-assembled aluminum cake form mold, costing less than a dollar.

11 Bars of Household paraffin 3 inch Candle Stub
 3 Crayons, Blue, Yellow, Red-Orange
 Some Red Sequins
 A few Artificial Holly Leaf Clusters
 2 1/2 inch High Christmas Trees

Now, follow these easy steps to make this house:

First, melt nine bars of paraffin in double boiler — NOT OVER DIRECT HEAT. Pour small amount of wax into another container.

While it cools slightly, place mold, open side up, in cardboard box of about same size! Grease inside of mold with vegetable shortening. Wedge crumpled newspaper at bottom and around inside of box.

Pour some of cooled wax into mold; roll it around until this coat covers indentations and corners. Repeat process four times for even surface and to prevent leakage. Pour in remaining wax to fill mold.

Place mold, in supporting box, in refrigerator overnight or until completely hard.

Remove candle. With paring knife, dig out quarter inch layer for windows and doors on both sides.

Dissolve blue crayon in quarter cake of paraffin, then spoon into windows. Do same with yellow crayon for doors. Be sure wax is thoroughly dry before working on other side. (Spills can be trimmed away with paring knife.)

For chimney, cut two sections, each 1 1/2 inches wide, from end of wax bar. Use point of knife to make groove from top to bottom in center of one section. Trim excess wax from candle stub, place wick in groove. "Glue" two sections together with melted wax.

Dissolve red-orange crayon in half cake of wax. Use tip and harden process four times for chimney.

After all has hardened, cut notch in bottom of chimney to fit snugly to the sloping roof of house. Attach it with melted wax.

Use household glue (not paste) to add holly, sequins and trees.
