Junior High Basketball 'Y' Managers Needed

Wayne Schulz, Roseburg YMCA director, has issued a call for a number of interested in managing teams in the YMCA junior high school level recreation basketball league, scheduled to get underway Saturday.

Schulz said about five responsible adults are needed to serve as managers. He said sponsors for the 10 teams slated to engage in league play are lined up, as have full rosters for the teams.

Managers will serve somewhat in the capacity of coaches, and must be present at all of their teams' games. All games in the junior high league will be played on Saturday mornings.

Schulz can be contacted at the YMCA office, Room 201 of the Douglas County State Bank building, or at ORchard 3-3556.

Cincinnati's stellar keystone combination, shortstop Roy McMillan and second baseman Johnny Temple, was discovered in a Cincinnati tryout camp.

CANINE CADDY — Fritz, 2-year-old Doberman pinscher, solves the caddy worries for his master, Clyde F. Deaton, Claremore, Okla., as the dog totes the golf clubs around the course at Mohawk Park in the cart, specially rigged up. The dog may not be much help in selecting the right club for Deaton. Fritz won the best-of-breed at the Mid-Continent Kennel Club show recently.

Axemen, Grant Keep Up Wins

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

South Eugene won its eighth straight game Tuesday night, as two Portland schools also continued prep basketball winning streaks.

South Eugene picked up its victory by a big margin by downing Albany 67-51.

In the Portland league, powerful Grant ran its season record to 6-0 with a 72-58 victory over Madison.

Undefeated Roosevelt got its sixth triumph by a smaller margin, 45-40 over Franklin.

Open PHL

The Portland League became a four-way tie for the lead with Grant, Roosevelt, Cleveland and Wilson each with a 2-0 record.

Jefferson tripped Benson 54-47. Cleveland edged Washington 56-52 and Wilson topped Lincoln 56-41.

The Tualatin-Yamhill Valley League also moved into conference play Tuesday night.

Three of the games were won by large margins, as McMinnville trimmed Forest Grove 53-37, Tigard romped by Oswego 73-51 and Tillamook downed Newberg 44-20.

Rest Uncertain

The rest of them you can stir into a salad bowl and take your pick. Most are relying on sophomore talent and the coach who develops his rookies soonest could grab that third spot—or better.

We'll take 'em this way after Oregon State and UCLA:

Defending champion California, Southern Cal, Washington, Idaho, Stanford, Oregon, and Washington State.

Death Of PCC Round-Robin Mourned; OSC Cagers Liked

By JACK HEWINS

Associated Press Sports Writer

SEATTLE (AP) — People who laugh at funerals may enjoy this; others please weep quietly.

The basketball coaches of the Pacific Coast Conference labored for years to obtain a round-robin schedule. Now that they have it the PCC is crumbling under their feet and one of the things that put the blast on the conference was objection to a round-robin football schedule.

So this may be the first and last winter you'll have a chance to see 'em. The two best big time teams on the Coast may be the San Francisco Dons and Seattle Chiefs.

Almost everybody's favorite to wield the baton in the PCC basketball swan song is UCLA, which tied last year with Washington for second place.

Johnny Wooden, a Bruins man, is potent enough to deserve the rating but we believe Slat's Gill will have his Oregon State Beavers at the top of the heap when the season closes. It should be a tight two-team race.

In a game between Prescott High and St. Patrick's the ball balanced on the rim of the hoop and refused to come down just as the final buzzer sounded. The Pats were leading 54-43 and the officials decided to call it a still up there . . .

Ladies Golf

For years and years the feminine golf pros have been looking for a suitable nickname and usually call themselves "proettes." A male duffer we know suggests they rename their organization the "Ladies' Assn. of Professional Golfers." For short: LAP's . . .

Coach Fordy Anderson of Michigan State brags that his 6-5 center, Johnny Green, can jump from a flatfoot stance and touch a spot 6 inches below the top of the backboard. "Man," says Fordy, "what coaching!" . . . Pittsburgh infielder-pitcher Johnny O'Brien is spending his winter baseball lay-off as an employee at the morgue. While he was an All America basketball player at Seattle U, Johnny was much better known for his shooting than for his defense.

Says Johnny O. about his new job: "I've finally found somebody I can check." . . .

Next time you're in a philanthropic mood, start a fund to build gymnasiums for the high schools at Molson and Easton. Both have "orphan" basketball teams which have to play their games away from home.

Molson, biggest of the pair, is a community in the foothills of North Central Washington near the Canadian border. The school has 33 students and 19 are on the basketball squad. They play their "home" games at nearby Orville.

Easton is tied with Almira as the smallest basketball-playing school in the state, each with 19 students. You may have stopped at Easton to put on or take off chains while crossing Snoqualmie Pass. The first chore of the Easton team before game is to put on chains and get out of town . . .

UNCONVINCED—Charley Guest is doing his darndest to convince Postliot that there's nothing much to clearing a barrier at Plumpton, England. They started together in the Olympe Seiling Harrison Steeplechase, but when the mount stopped at the hedge, Guest took off on his own, landing with a flourish of his white shirt bill behind the reins.

Sharon McAllister and Lee Wright with scores of 277 tied for first in class B prone shooting for the night, followed by Darrell McAllister with 273 and Roger Walling and Jerry Evans with 270.

Lewis McAllister, with a score of 288, led the class A shooters of the Roseburg Junior Rifle Club Tuesday. McAllister, shooting from prone, sitting and offhand positions, was followed by L. O. Dudley with 275 and Larry McAllister with 270.

Los Angeles Dodgers Seeking Oregon Site

BAKER — Mayor William Jackson Tuesday received this telegram from Los Angeles Mayor Norris Poulson:

"Please let me know if you have any vacant cow pastures or acreage suitable for a ball diamond (major league). Signed Desperate Norris."

Poulson is a owner of a ranch at nearby Muddy Creek, where he was born.

Al Brightman Applies For Cougar Cage Job

SEATTLE (AP) — Former Seattle University basketball coach Al Brightman applied Tuesday for the head coaching job at Washington State College, the post now held by Jack Friel who has announced his retirement the end of this season, an associate here said.

Brightman, now attending college in Long Beach, Calif., left the Seattle school two years ago after coaching the Chiefs for eight seasons.

Oregon Tech Loses

KLAMATH FALLS (AP) — Oregon Tech dropped its second straight game on its home court Tuesday night, again bowing to the San Francisco Presidio team. The score was 51-28.

Presidio, which has a 26-1 record, won the previous night, 78-62. Oregon Tech, which trailed 25-18 at the half Tuesday night, now has an 8-2 record.

Pickets Patrol Outside Wards' Store Portland

PORTLAND (AP) — Pickets patrolled outside the Montgomery Ward store here Tuesday, but there was no walkout of retail clerks.

A union official called it informational picketing, intended to make the public aware of the dispute between the firm and the Retail Clerks Union. The pickets' signs urged the public not to shop at Wards. The pickets also distributed handbills containing a similar message.
