

57 Building Permits Exceed Million

C. N. Currier, Roseburg city building inspector, said Monday that building permits issued in Roseburg last year had a total valuation of $1,066,131, the lowest total since 1951.

The figure was less than half the peak 1956 total of $2,430,851. Total valuation for commercial permits was placed at $380,500, for residential permits $144,520 and miscellaneous $324,069. The latter category includes minor construction, renovation and repair work. Valuation of building permits for residences was by far the lowest in a nine-year tabulation going back through 1949. In fact, the sum was less than half the previous low of some $320,000 in 1950.

The total for commercial permits was second lowest during the nine years, topping only the 1952 figure of $178,511. The miscellaneous sum, however, was third highest in the period. The high of $390,015 came in 1956.

Accounting for more than two-fifths of the total 1957 figure was the valuation placed on the new sewage disposal plant, $417,500. The permit, issued last July, brought the figure for that month to $610,331, third highest for any single month since 1949.

However, receipts for February were close to the nine-year low. They totaled $15,574, higher only than the December 1949 figure of $10,443.
