

College Football Adopts Scoring Change Rule; Liberalizes Subbing

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—Football coaches have a new strategy problem to cope with today: Is it better to try for a one-point conversion after a touchdown, or gamble for a two-pointer?

That option—one point if kicked, two points if by a run or a pass—was written into football law yesterday, along with a more liberal substitution rule and several other changes.

The new scoring rule, first change in football's point system in more than 40 years, and other revisions were adopted at the closing session of the Football Rules Committee of the National Collegiate Athletic Assn.

The scoring change—designed to reduce the number of ties and boost fan appeal—came as a surprise. Proposed by Committee Chairman H. O. (Fritz) Crisler, athletic director at Michigan, the rule originally was scheduled for a year's study by a subcommittee.

"Sure it'll kick up a controversy," said Crisler.

Opinion Divided

Opinion of coaches was divided. Several agreed with Crisler the change would make football more exciting and "open up the game."

Other reaction includes such remarks as "very interesting... it like 'Progressive'... a good idea"... "fewer teams will kick"... "teams will still go for the kicked extra point"...

On the other side: "Ridiculous"... "They're de-emphasizing kicking"... "can't see any great merit to this thing..."

Len Casanova, of the University of Oregon, said he was among those voicing approval. Terry Brennan of Notre Dame called it ridiculous.

The change in the substitution rule was designed to help small colleges with limited squads. Crisler said. Effective immediately, both starters and substitutes will be able to make two appearances in each quarter. For the past three seasons, only the players who started a quarter could leave and be eligible to return during the same quarter.

The new college football rule giving two points after touchdown for a pass or run conversion drew approving comment Monday from a number of Oregon college coaches.

"It sounds pretty good to me," said Len Casanova, of the University of Oregon.

"It will make the game more exciting," said Oregon State's Tommy Prothro.

"It's a good thing," said Linfield's Paul Durham.

"Fake kicks and passes are going to become more prominent," said Portland State's Les Leggett.

PORTLAND (AP)—Oregon high schools probably will not go along with colleges in allowing two points for a pass or run conversion after a touchdown next season, an Oregon School Activities Assn. official says.

Oden Hawes, assistant secretary-treasurer of the association, said Oregon high schools could not follow the college lead until after another national rules committee meeting late in the year.

"We just had a rules committee meeting in Lexington, Ky., and there were no important changes made. As you know, the national high school and college rules groups are completely divorced," he said.

"It's a shame that the high schools and colleges can't have the same code," he said.

Southern California's sophomore-studded quartet rambled to its fourth Pacific Coast Conference basketball victory Saturday night against one defeat but still trailed idle Oregon State.

The Beavers have been off court since Jan. 4 but their 2-0 record is the only unblemished one in the conference.

As the Trojans were mauling Oregon 73-52, UCLA chalked up a 64-56 win over Idaho, California handed Washington State its third setback 47-32 and Washington did nothing to help the Stanford effort in dropping the Indians 60-54.

There is no PCC action until Friday when Stanford meets Cal at Berkeley, Idaho is at Washington State and USC and UCLA meet in Los Angeles. On Saturday Oregon State is at Cal, Washington goes to Oregon, Idaho and Washington State switch gyms and USC and UCLA finish at two-night stand.

Ducks Out Of It

The hot-shooting Trojans hit for a blazing 52 per cent from the floor in the first half and almost as well in the second. The Ducks just couldn't find the range and try as they might, they were never in it after the first three minutes.

The Vandals from Idaho tried desperately to make a comeback.

Powerful Willamette and surprising Lewis and Clark Monday were tied for first place in the Northwest Conference—with Linfield coming up just behind.

Willamette ran its conference record to 3-0 Saturday night by blasting Whitman 75-59.

Lewis and Clark, which had a spotty pre-league record, now is 2-0 in the conference after a breathless 72-69 overtime triumph over Pacific Saturday night.

Pacific, a defending co-champion, now is tied for last place with an 0-2 mark.

The other defending co-champ, Linfield, is faring better and appears to be the only one giving Whitman and L-C a race in the conference's early counting games.

Linfield ran its record to 2-1 Saturday night with a 57-52 triumph over College of Idaho.

Rising Golfer Bill Casper Wins Bing Crosby Tourney

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Affable Bill Casper, who continues to gain golfing stature while he watches his waistline, banked a fat $5,500 today as his winning share of the Bing Crosby Tournament.

With the $2,200 he picked up as third-place winner at Los Angeles the previous week, Casper's cash register has clicked at an average of about $352 per day for 1958.

Eleven-Under

The 26-year-old ex-sailor, a 215-pound Californian from Apple Valley, captured the $4,000 top prize in Crosby's 72-hole $50,000 event yesterday with an 11-under par score of 277 for a four-stroke bulge.

His final 18 was a 1-under-par 71 over the picturesque but tricky Pebble Beach course bordering the Pacific.

He collected another $1,500 as he and his amateur partner, former Stanford football star Bob Reynolds, finished second with a best-ball total of 261. That was a stroke off the $2,000 winning pace of pro Jay Hebert and former California amateur champ Roger Kelly from North Hollywood, who carded a 290.

Both Central and Joseph Lane Junior High Schools walked off with victories over the weekend as Central downed Yoncalla in two games Friday and Sutherlin in a pair on Saturday. Joseph Lane triumphed over Sutherlin on Friday and Saturday to make it a perfect slate for the Roseburg teams. The other Saturday action saw the Roseburg freshmen Braves team edge Sutherlin 35-26.

In seventh grade action Friday, Central downed Yoncalla 43-11 at Central. On Saturday, the seventh grade club downed the Sutherlin seventh 28-9 with Al Joelson leading the scoring with nine points.

The eighth grade team trimmed the Yoncalla eighth 25-14 on Friday. Saturday Central took a 23-13 victory over Sutherlin.

In the eighth grade game against Glide, Marvin French dropped 22 counters through the hoops, as Joseph Lane rushed out to a 31-6 halftime bulge.

In the lone freshman game of the weekend, Gilbert led the Roseburg assault with 17 points as the Braves moved out from a 16-11 halftime lead for the close win. Allison was high for Sutherlin with 10 points.

Umpqua Valley League Hoopmen Open Loop Play In Big Prep Week

Another full schedule is ahead of the 16 Douglas County high schools this week as league play starts in earnest for all of the schools except Roseburg. A total of 17 basketball games are on tap for the week, along with five wrestling matches. Of the 17 basketball games, 14 of them are league affairs.

The Umpqua Valley League rolls into high gear this Tuesday as all six teams will get their first taste of league play. The top game of the week will be the Tuesday night clash between the Douglas Trojans and the Myrtle Creek Vikings on the Douglas floor.

Myrtle Creek has the most wins of the year for A-2 schools in the county with 7-4, but the Trojans, who sport a 5-5 mark, have five losses, losing three times to Roseburg and once to Cottage Grove.

Irish Open League

Other Umpqua Valley games Tuesday will find the Oakland Oaks, winners of only one out of seven games, going against the Riddle Irish, who have a 5-2 mark on the season, the best in the county. This will be the first year of A-2 ball for the Irish. The only other A-2 game Tuesday will find the Glide Wildcats, with a 1-3 record going against the Sutherlin bulldogs, with a 3-7 mark, on the Sutherlin floor.

In the Douglas County B League, first place Yoncalla will be on the road against Canyonville. The Eagles have won two straight in league play to date, while Canyonville has split in their two games. Days Creek and Camas Valley will be out for their first league wins of the season in the only other league game Tuesday at Camas Valley. Days Creek has an outside shot of being the year's only undefeated team, while the Hornets are winless after two games.

Drain At Home

In District 5-A-2 action the Drain Warriors will be out for their first league win of the season after dropping the first two starts. They will be at home against Junction City, which has a 1-1 record in league play.

The Glendale Pirates will be out for their second straight win in the southern half of District 6-A-2 play Tuesday night when they travel to meet Eagle Point, who also won its first start in league play.

In the only non-league game Tuesday, the Roseburg Indians will be on the road against the tough Reedsport Braves. Reedsport has a 6-4 mark on the season, but has lost three close ones to A-1 schools.

On Friday all seven of the basketball games will be league counters, while two others on Saturday night will be non-league affairs.

Sutherlin will be at Myrtle Creek, Douglas will travel to Oakland and Riddle will be on the OWNER AND COACH of the Washington Generals is 5-7 Louis (Red) Klotz, former college and professional basketball star. Klotz was a star with the Philadelphia and Baltimore professional basketball teams before turning his attention to the touring team that he now has. The Generals will meet the Harlem Globetrotters Tuesday in the Roseburg High School gym starting at 8:15 p.m.

Washington Generals Are Globetrotter Foe In Game

Chosen to provide the opposition to the Harlem Globetrotters Tuesday night in the Roseburg High School gym will be the Washington Generals, owned and coached by Louis (Red) Klotz.

Klotz, despite his 5-6 stature, achieved fame both in college and professional ranks, before his traveling quintet started on their successful career.

The Generals have the best college and professional players available and are on their own against the Trotters, trying to beat them at every chance they get. Several times during the tour this year the Trotters have been forced to the limit of their abilities to eke out victories over the Klotz Kids.

Along with Klotz in the General lineup is 6-10 Jim Coll, who will be the tallest man on the floor, and 6-4 Ray Kieval. Tom and Bill Holt, both 6-2 provide most of the scoring for the Generals, with Pat Dunn at 6-2 and Howie Goldman at 6-0 setting up the plays and toning down the opponents offense. Gen Hudgins at 6-1 is the other member of the eight man squad.
