Let's start this piece off by congratulating a lot of teams, so many of them we won't enumerate them individually. On perhaps we should say, we congratulate entire leagues.

The occasion is the stepped-up tempo of bowling in just one short week, and for only two nights of the week, Thursday and Friday nights. We fully expect to find the same things when the other two men's aggregations of Monday and Wednesday have at it this week. We also may reasonably expect that the women's leagues will show the same results.

WE HONESTLY believe the reason for this extra hustle is the system Arlo is using, in co-operation with this column, showing who are the fast, and who are the slow teams. Arlo has a very pretty chart drawn up, and in the course of a few weeks we think it will be possible to pinpoint the teams which are holding back entire squads by not keeping the balls rolling.

Now for a rundown of early and late finishers for last week. On the early shift last Monday, Sun Studs, Barcus Dodge, J.C. Sporting and Hamer Corp. finished first, in comparatively slow two hours and 20 minutes. The slowest teams were Elks No. 5 and 6, at 2:37.

Wednesday night, in the Industrial, it was Jovin Brakes and PAL Motors, and in the Sportsmen's it was Bill Stock Motors and Spot Tavern who were last to finish on the early squad, all in 2:29, and the late squads wound it up in from 2:11 to 2:26.

THURSDAY NIGHT leagues were having their second go at this business, and results were outstanding. On the early shift, Patterson's Bakery and Moose Lodge in one league at 2:31, and Roseburg Glass and Trowbridge Electric in the other at 2:29. But the average time was a great improvement over the first week of the experiment.

Same is even more noticeable in the Friday night wheels, where Wallace & Hurd and Montgomery Ward finished in 1:47, with U.S. Plywood and Pierce Auto last with only 1:55 in the Umpqua league. In the Classic Jr. it was Curtis Furniture and U.S. Plywood first in 1:49, and West Coast Bldg. and Rural Firemen slow at only 1:56. In the other Classics on late shift, Ken Bailey Ins. and Fairhaven Cleaners finished first in 1:35, while Man's Shop and Thompson Ins. were last at 1:52.

LOTS OF NICE news this week. (Thanks to the Secs.) Four 500 and better sets in the Women's

West Pro Stars Beat East, 26-7

LOS ANGELES — Honors were abundant for all Monday after the West's sparkling 26-7 triumph over the East in the annual pro bowl football classic which gave the victors a 5-3 lead in the All-Star series.

Collectively, however, laurels must go to the huge defensive troops of Coach George Wilson's Western Conference, including a secondary of Bobby Dillon of Green Bay and Wilson's Lions, Yale Lary and Joe Schmidt, who stole four passes from the East.

Fullback Alan (The Horse) Ameche of the Baltimore Colts set the stage for the key scoring play of a fierce first half when he rambled 66 yards to the East four.

The East was ahead, 7-6, on a pass from Earl Morrall of Pittsburgh to Ray Renfro of Cleveland, and it was anybody's ball game.

But Ameche's great run led to a 9-yard field goal by Bert Rechichar of the Colts that sent the West in front, 9-7, a lead it never surrendered.

Hugh McElheny of the San Francisco 49ers was voted the "player of the game" by the sports editors of the four Los Angeles papers which sponsor the game.

Senior Bowl Football Game Is Won By North

MOBILE, Ala. — The North won Saturday's Senior Bowl football game in the line. The 15-13 Yankee victory was largely a triumph for the heavier North forward line, plus a better balanced offense.

The actual margin of victory was provided by end Rod Hanson of Illinois, named outstanding North lineman. The 198-pound defensive star blocked a punt by fullback Billy Atkins of Auburn for a second-quarter safety and an 8-0 Yankee lead.

State Fishing Tentative Rules Are Announced

PORTLAND — Final 1958 fishing regulations for the state will be announced after another public hearing here Jan. 24 by the Oregon Game Commission.

Tentative regulations disclosed here Saturday call for a one-month later opening of the trout season in coastal streams, on May 24, as recommended by staff members.

Purpose of this, the agency said, would be to make it possible for more steelhead and salmon to reach the Pacific.

Wilson River would become a test stream, open all year around for salmon and steelhead below Kansas Creek Bridge, in a program aimed at concentrating all interest there in the sea-run fish.

Other tentative regulations include: An April 26-Oct. 1 trout season in other streams of the state. A May 24-Oct. 5 season in the high lakes of the Cascade Mountains.

A provision for a 22-inch minimum on salmon caught in the ocean from Tillamook Head northward from July 1 to Oct. 31. This would be to protect the feeding area around the mouth of the Columbia for immature chinook and silver salmon.
