D-W Methodist Church Slates Speaker Sat.

John Ingersoll, pacifist traveling on a coast-to-coast speaking tour for the War Resister's League, will speak at the Dillard - Winston Methodist Church Saturday evening at 7:30.

He will speak on the subject of pacifism, or non-resistance as an alternative to war.

Ingersoll, 23, is a Yale University graduate. In 1956 he resigned his naval commission when he became a confirmed pacifist. He has worked with American Friends Service Committee peace caravans and work camps. With a group of people he toured the south recently to make a study of non-violence.

He was arrested last summer in connection with the Nevada protest against nuclear tests. During November he was director of the House at the Washington Prayer and Conscience Vigil held in Washington, D. C. During the recent racial strife in Levittown, Pa., he was one of the non-violent volunteers who stood guard at the home of the Myer's who were under arrest.

All people of the community are invited to hear this man. He has made a special invitation to the young people, according to Rev. William O. Walker, pastor of the church.
