Nazarene Church Plans Pre-Easter Week Services

Rev. C. B. Cox of Upland, Calif., will conduct pre-Easter evangelistic services at the First Church of the Nazarene starting March 26 at 7:30 p.m.

Services will continue nightly, except Monday, through Easter Sunday, April 6. The Rev. Mr. Hempel, minister of the church, expressed regret that a necessary change of dates for the meeting with Evangelist Cox has occasioned an overlapping of the meetings with the Holy Week Services sponsored by the Ministerial Assn.

He said the Monday night service was not planned so that members of the church would have an opportunity to attend the union service.

Rev. Hempel stated that prior to his entering the field of evangelism in 1955, the Rev. Mr. Cox had served the Church of the Nazarene as a pastor and district superintendent for a number of years. According to Rev. Hempel, evangelist Cox is in demand as a camp meeting speaker, having been one of the speakers at the Portland camp last summer.

This year being the golden anniversary year of the denomination, members of the church are assisting in the community distribution of a special golden anniversary issue of the "Herald of Holiness," the denomination's weekly religious journal.

Rev. Hempel stated that visiting friends from the Roseburg area are welcome at the meetings.

Haiti is asking for 2,000 pairs of good used wide walking shoes. It was voted to make this an all church project. Shoes are to be brought to the church and placed in the lower auditorium.

A letter was read from Earl Seawards in Rangoon, Burma, thanking the Roseburg church for the white cross gifts. It takes three months to receive mail from there.

President Cancels Trip To West Point Because Of Storms

Eisenhower canceled his scheduled flight to West Point Friday because of stormy weather.

James C. Hagerly, White House press secretary, announced the cancellation about an hour and 15 minutes before Eisenhower was scheduled to take off.

The president had planned to go to West Point to take part in Founders' Day ceremonies and to join in honoring an atomic scientist.

Hagerly said the trip was shelved because of generally bad weather both in Washington and in the West Point area, on the ground and in the air.

The press secretary added that air travel conditions were reported above Air Force minimum standards, but he added:

"No use taking any chances." Plans were made to telephone Eisenhower's scheduled brief talk to a luncheon meeting at the academy.

His schedule called for presentation of the first Sylvanus Thayer Award to atomic scientist Ernest O. Lawrence for outstanding service to the nation. The occasion was the 150th anniversary of the academy's founding.

At West Point it was said that Gen. Willis D. Crittenger USA, ret., president of the association of graduates, would make the presentation in place of the president.

Stranded People Reached By Police

MORGANTOWN, Pa. — State police broke through four feet of wet, solidly packed snow Friday to reach the more than 800 people marooned all night in a restaurant on the snow-bound Pennsylvania Turnpike.

The restaurant was cleared early and several state police cars reached the group of motorists, truckers, entertainers, babies and others stranded in the darkened, heatless restaurant.

State police said, however, it would be several hours before the road could be widened to bring out the trapped people.

The people had made their way to the Brandywine Restaurant since Wednesday night from cars, buses and trucks stranded on the turnpike by more than three feet of snow.

Some were ferried in by an Air Force helicopter, which also brought food and medical supplies for 10 persons reportedly suffering from shock and frostbite. One man, George L. Bliss, 61, Rocky River, Ohio, collapsed and died in the crowded restaurant.

Others, too frightened to leave their cars, were led in by truck drivers, who formed search parties.

Northern California Hit By Strong Wind

SAN FRANCISCO — Spring blizzards in northern California Thursday — officially and literally. Wind damage was widespread but minor. Accompanying rain squalls were heavy.

The weatherman said intermittent rain would continue through Saturday in central and northern California with snow in the mountains.

Gusts ranged up to 60 miles an hour in the Bay area. Bluffs Reef light ship off Cape Mendocino reported 75 m.p.h. winds early in the day.

Lightning and thunder accompanied heavy rains in the San Francisco Bay area Thursday night. High water in nearby Burlingame closed off a block of El Camino Real for half an hour.

The storm tore a $15,000 fishing boat loose from its mooring at Trinidad on the Humboldt county coast to the north and sunk it. One crewman was aboard, but he escaped unhurt.

Hard Work Seen To Stop Foreign Aid Bill Cuts

WASHINGTON — Sen. Aiken (R-Vt.) said that President Eisenhower "has a lot of work to do within Republican ranks" to avoid drastic cuts in his $3,900,000,000 foreign aid bill.

Aiken said this was indicated by a Senate vote in which only 15 Republicans voted against a proposal to restrict the President's authority to trade surplus agricultural commodities to Iron Curtain countries. Twenty-two Republicans voted for the proposal, which was rejected 52-24.

BODIES RECOVERED

IWAKUNI, Japan — The bodies of all 36 U.S. Marines killed in the collision of a Flying Boxcar and an attack bomber March 7 have been recovered.

Latest Penguin Death Due To Aspergillosis

PORTLAND — The latest fatality in Portland's penguin colony stemmed from aspergillosis, a fungus disease of the lungs.

Dr. Frank Queen, pathologist at the University of Oregon Medical School, made that report after performing an autopsy on the big Emperor which died Wednesday night.

The disease has killed more than half the flock of penguins brought here from the Antarctic last year. Fifteen survive.

New Launchings Of Satellites Well Advanced

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. — An intimate look at the missile launching towers of this test center discloses that:

1. Preparations for another Jupiter-C Explorer satellite launching are fairly well advanced. The Redstone first stage of the rocket is in its mobile launching stand, undergoing a careful check. The three high-speed stages — clusters of solid propellant rockets — have not yet been installed, nor has the satellite. The latter will be put in place the day of the launching.

2. The launching stand for the Vanguard currently is empty, but the Navy has two Vanguard three-stage rockets and their spherical satellites in a hangar near by. Altogether the Navy has seven more Vanguard vehicles in its satellite program.

Announcements by Army Secretary Brucker indicate that a Jupiter-C launching try may come within less than a week. Another Vanguard attempt is likely within a month.

Atomic Explosive Hurlled At Moon Plan For Future

WASHINGTON — Some U.S. scientists, seeking more knowledge of outer space, suggest that atomic explosives hurled to the moon might furnish a means of studying the moon's crust.

This idea, one of many dealing with space study, is contained in a report urging the United States to undertake a long-range program of exploration looking toward manned space flight.

The report was made by the earth satellite panel of the U.S. National Committee for the International Geophysical Year.

The scientists said an idea behind the proposal was that "manned space flight will occur in the course of the program."

In the report, the scientists indicated real confidence the objective of manned space flight to the moon and the nearer planets—Mars and Venus—ultimately will be achieved.

"Although it is impossible to predict how quickly man himself will follow his exploring instruments into outer space," said the report, "the inevitable culmination of his efforts will be manned space flight to the moon and the nearer planets."

J. W. Forrester Named 'Education Citizen of Year'

PORTLAND — J. W. Forrester Jr., editor of the Pendleton East Oregonian, Thursday was named "Education Citizen of the Year" at a banquet meeting of the Oregon Education Assn. convention.

Forrester, a member of the state Board of Higher Education, has been active in school affairs in recent years. He was a member of the Oregon Committee on Education for Western States in 1955, co-ordinator of a pre-school workshop for Pendleton schools, representative at a meeting of the National Assn. of Governing Boards of College and Universities in 1957; member of the Governor's Committee on Education Beyond the High School in 1957; member of the Governor's Basic School Committee and the Pendleton School Advisory Committee.

In addition, he was cited for reports on school activities in the Pendleton newspaper.

Top Educator Speaks

Speaker at Thursday afternoon's convention session was T. M. Stinnett, of Washington, D.C., head of the Commission on Teacher Education and Professional Standards for the National Education Assn.

He said there was danger of over-emphasizing science in the schools and that he was fed up "with what I consider to be a shabby propaganda campaign aimed at control by certain vested interests of the curriculum of American schools—a campaign largely led by government-subsidized science agencies, and all in the sacred name of national defense and security. I wonder how much of it is really in the name of plus-19 per cent industries."

He also said the Eisenhower administration should urge support of school building construction as a step toward alleviating unemployment.

Fleet Of Winged Missiles Cruising Above Earth Seen For Future By Scientists

LOS ANGELES — A fleet of winged missiles could cruise over the earth for months on any target at a moment's notice, the Space Age Conference was told Friday.

General Manager William F. Ballhaus of Northrop Aircraft, Inc., said:

"Considerable research is now in progress on atomic engines. Such engines will make it possible for winged missiles to cruise for months over the face of the earth."

"Should present negotiations with the Russians for an open discussion agreement materialize, I can visualize a fleet of winged missiles with atomic engines and automatic reconnaissance equipment maintaining constant aerial inspection which is part of the open skies plan."

Missile expert Dr. Werner Von Braun told the conference that the United States is hog-tied in the satellite race because it is trying to produce an elaborate space vehicle too soon.

This country's leading missile expert last night criticized the "solitary weapons system concept"—the idea of integrating the vehicle, its armament, navigational aids and supporting ground equipment before it is launched.

"Did the Wright brothers operate under the weapons system concept?" Von Braun asked in addressing the Western Space Age Conference.

"Let's get a good, big rocket engine adequate to power a manned orbital rocket, even if the latter does not qualify as an integrated weapons system, but a glorified test bed," he said.

Glendale District Budget Election Set For Wednesday

Residents of the Glendale School district will go to the polls Wednesday to vote on $11,968.67 outside the six per cent limitation.

Rolls will be open from 2 to 8 p.m. at Glendale High School. The total 1958-59 budget is only slightly lower than last year, but the total mileage will come lower than would be indicated by the actual comparison figures, according to Supt. Marlen Yoder.

The total offset on the tax bill will amount to about ten mills. Approximately half of this mileage drop will come as a result of the county equalization law and the other half from the new basic school support law, Mrs. Gerald Fox, News-Review correspondent, reports.

School board members gave no additional salary increases to teachers in the salary schedule. An expected increase in high school enrollment necessitates the hiring of one teacher and an increase in the budget, the superintendent reports.

Other increases are called for in election and public utility home construction and repair and maintenance. All of these increases about balance out the amount budgeted in the present budget for repairs to the elementary school floor and foundation, making the total levy required for the new budget close to the present one, according to Supt. Yoder.

He is survived by his wife, Ethel; two daughters, Mrs. Pete (Evelyn) Hamel, and Mrs. Robert (Sylvia) Brown, both of Whittier, Calif.; one son, Roy, of Seattle, Wash.; one step daughter, Mrs. Vivian Stankovich of Aloha, Ore.; two brothers, John and Joe, both of Brookings, Ind.; two sisters, Mrs. Carrie Galloway of Frenchlin, Ind., and Mrs. Mary Jensen of Harlan, Iowa.

Higher Military Pay Measure Due

WASHINGTON — A top enlisted man in the U.S. armed services could make more than $10,000 a year if Congress passes the military pay bill the House will consider Monday.

An officer could make more than $31,000.

These would be rare cases, but compensation of practically all career men in the armed services would be stepped up considerably, and the raises would be heftiest in the top brackets of both enlisted and officer ranks. This is deliberate policy, to encourage men to make their careers in uniform.
