

First Presbyterian Women's All Day Workshop Thursday

The Women's Assn. of the First Presbyterian Church has scheduled an all-day workshop for women of the church this Thursday.

Elizabeth Manual, from the board of Christian education, will be here to lead the meetings.

The workshop will follow this schedule and women are urged to come for all the meetings and especially the ones concerning their areas of work: 10-11 a.m., program department; 11-12 noon, world service department, finance committee; 12-1 p.m., conferences with working women on all questions; 1-2 p.m., circle chairmen, and 2-3 p.m., fellowship department.

Women are asked to bring their own sack lunch and coffee will be furnished. A nursery will be provided for children, but mothers are asked to bring each child's lunch.

Each woman is asked to bring the following materials to the classes: handbook, planning book, notebook and pencil. Also bring the written questions for Miss Manual to answer.

Miss Manual will be the featured speaker at the monthly Women's Assn. meeting to be held at the church Thursday evening at 7:30, and those women unable to meet with her during the day are especially urged to come to the evening meeting.

Newspapers last year received a third of the total $10 billion in advertising expenditures.

Many American Newspapers Caught In Economic Squeeze

NEW YORK — Many American newspapers are caught in an economic squeeze because rising costs are not being matched with additional income, William Dwight, president of the American Newspaper Publishers Assn., said today.

This crisis, he added, can be met only by increased productivity, which in turn depends on enlightened management and labor leadership.

Dwight, publisher of the Holyoke (Mass.) Transcript-Telegram, made the remarks in a prepared address of welcome at an ANPA session to publishers with newspapers having circulations of 10,000 to 50,000 a day.

Sessions of the ANPA are part of Newspaper Week, held in New York every spring.

Take Realistic Look

Dwight called upon the publishers to "discard temporary expediency thinking" and to take a positive and realistic look to the future.

Publishers will continue to press their crusade to protect the people's right to know, Dwight said, despite consideration by the government of interference with advertising and the thwarting of access to news.

At the same time, two other discussion groups, representing newspapers with circulations under 10,000 and over 50,000, were meeting.

Edward J. Hughes, of the Westchester (N.Y.) Newspapers, told the 10,000-to-50,000 group: "The lesson of history is that, if economic freedom be lost or destroyed, all other freedoms, including those of the mind and spirit, soon perish. Through greater efficiency, we are fully justified in seeking greater prosperity so that the press may be free to fight for all the freedoms of all Americans."

Costs Up, Revenue Down

ANPA Vice President D. Tennant Bryson, of the Richmond (Va.) Times-Dispatch & News Leader, said publishers are facing a situation in which costs are continuing to rise while revenues are static or going down.

This, he said, is having a dramatic impact on the net profit.

Bryson and Joyce A. Swan, of the Minneapolis (Minn.) Star & Tribune, addressed the group representing papers with circulations over 50,000.

Mark Ferree of the Scripps-treasurer, told the publishers of papers with circulations under 10,000 that small newspapers are close to their readers and know well the community's needs.

Close knowledge of community needs, he said, leads to better newspapers, devoted to the welfare of the greatest number of people.

Robert M. Speidel, of the Visalia, Calif. Times-Delta, said financial strength of newspapers results primarily from growth and re-evaluation. This strength he said, helps the publisher to withstand concerted pressure from advertiser and other groups.

CLAUDE KELLEY, grand chancellor of Knights of Pythias from Bend, will visit Roseburg Alpha Lodge 47 Tuesday evening for a dinner meeting. Dinner will begin at 7 p.m., followed by a meeting at 8 at the Knights of Pythias hall on North Rose St.

Christian Endeavor Convention Slated In Eugene Thurs.

Approximately 65 young people and sponsors will attend the 60th annual state Christian Endeavor convention in Eugene Thursday through the Douglas CE Union.

Representing the local unit in convention contests will be the winning girls trio from Roseburg and a scrap book of the Union's activities compiled by Joanne Person, publicity chairman. The trio consists of Sue Jones, Linda Strickling and Shannon Doyle.

Churches sending young people to the convention will be the Westside Christian Church, First Christian Church of Roseburg, and Christian churches of Winston, Sutherlin, and possibly Yoncalla.

University Christian Church in Eugene will be host for the four-day meeting. Cecil Jeffery, active CE worker from California and present extension secretary for the International Society of Christian Endeavor, will bring the message on the theme, "Not I But Christ."

State officers and superintendents, pastors and society advisors will act as conference leaders Friday and Saturday mornings. Devotional part of the convention will be under the direction of the Rev. A. C. Abrahamson, Aldis Webb and Lynton Elwell. Rev. Abrahamson, pastor of the St. Paul Memorial Congregational Church in Portland will direct the quiet hour for the "under 18" group. Aldis Webb, pastor of the Tillamook Christian Church will speak to the "over 18" group.

Pre-prayer services will be in charge of Mr. Elwell, pastor of the Westside Christian Church in Eugene.

Delegates attending the convention are asked to go to the University Street Church of Christ, 2880 University St., to get badge and program, then proceed to housing desk in the same building to get lodging during the convention. Visitors at the recent Westside Youth Hour were Dick Stricklin of Northwest Christian College, Herman Bagwell, elder of Westside, Bob Caudill, Douglas County CE president, and several other young people from the Sutherlin Christian Church and First Christian Church of Roseburg.

Several registrations were received for the convention. There will be about 20 local young people attending. They plan to leave Thursday evening and return Saturday night.

The group joined young people from the St. John's Episcopal Church for a sing-song, refreshments and to view colored slides of Europe.

Twins Celebrate 100th Birthday

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. — This was a double red letter day for two lively sisters who boast a possibly unique distinction — they're twin centenarians.

For Mrs. Inez Ruiz and Mrs. Inezita Barrera, it's both their 100th birthday and San Jacinto Day, the legal holiday marking the anniversary of the battle which won Texas independence.

The sprightly twins were born April 21, 1858, at San Diego, Tex., about 240 miles south of here.

Their formulas for a long and healthy life:

Mrs. Barrera recommends relaxation and a daily diet of fried chicken, a glass of milk and bacon and eggs.

"I like to gamble with cards," she adds with a twinkle.

Mrs. Ruiz prescribes a daily bottle of beer with meals of meat and corn tortillas.

Mrs. Barrera, who made her living as a laundress after her husband died 28 years ago, lives with a daughter, one of her four children.

Mrs. Ruiz, mother of 14 children, makes her home across town.

PORTLAND — Burglars entered the West Slope Branch of the U. S. National Bank early Monday and apparently got nothing.

Then they entered the nearby Whistlin' Pig restaurant and made off with an undetermined amount of cash.

Patrons Remain Calm During Theater Fire

SAN FRANCISCO — Most of the Guild Theater's 50 patrons remained seated early today after the manager announced a fire alarm had been sounded because candy girl Louise Adams, 18, smelled smoke.

Firemen laid hose through the lobby and chopped through the floor under rear seats. The patrons continued to watch the movie until firemen finally ordered them out while burning rubbish under the floor was extinguished.

"Valerie," starring Anita Ekberg, was playing.
