

Canyonville Primary Grades' Festival To Honor Mothers

By VIRGINIA PROCTOR
The primary grades of Canyonville school will present a Spring Folk Festival honoring mothers at the primary building Friday, at 12:30 p.m. with Mrs. George Brinkworth, primary principal, directing. Following the program, mothers will be honored in individual classrooms.

Fire Restrictions
Fire restrictions will be in effect all clubs whose members might be interested in attending the Canyonville Lions Auxiliary Spring Silver Tea and card party to be held at the Norman Chappell residence, East of Canyonville.

The Chappell home lends itself conveniently to the plan to divide the groups sharply into those who wish to attend the Silver Tea, given in the living room, and those who prefer to play cards, in the basement recreation room. Proceeds will augment the auxiliary's funds which are earmarked to furnish glasses for children financially unable to purchase them.

New Club Planned
A Mothers' Club for all mothers of Rainbow girls of the newly instituted South Douglas assembly will be organized May 14 at 7:30 p.m. at the Masonic temple in Canyonville. Mrs. Norman Chappell is chairman in charge of organizing the new club which will meet regularly in the temple on the same evening as the assembly.

The South Douglas Business and Professional Women of Canyonville recently voted to disband. Not enough active members to continue the work of the organization was the reason given for the move to disband. During the two years the group has been organized, they helped to bring two safety conferences to the area and presented Christmas gifts each year to the girls at the Hillcrest School in Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cedarstrom of Coos Bay, former Roseburg residents, were guests of the Ed Hamlin and the John Hamlin Friday. Mr. Cedarstrom is well-known in the county as a former boxer and wrestler.

Coast Guard Helps Rescue Wild Horse

EUREKA, Calif. — A horse named Stranger got out of his pasture here Monday and led police and the Coast Guard on a wild two-hour chase before he was finally captured.

That's right — the Coast Guard. Stranger outmaneuvered a squad car through downtown traffic in this northern California seacoast city and galloped right into Humboldt Bay.

The police called on the Coast Guard "to rescue a drowning horse." A Coast Guard boat put out but reported engine trouble and abandoned the chase.

Stranger wasn't drowning. He was having a big time swimming around in the bay, resting now and then on mudflats.

Police patrolled the shore for two hours before the horse finally put in and let his owner, garage employee Andy Anderson, lead him home.
