School Board Gets Request To Expand String Music Program Into Grade Schools

An appeal to expand, if possible, the string music program in the schools was made Wednesday night to the Roseburg School Board by the Roseburg Symphony Orchestra Society.

Brian Graves, member of the society board of directors, said the organization feels the string music program, which was discontinued in the elementary schools about three years ago, is important for a well-rounded education.

Matter Again Tabled

The matter was brought up at the last school board meeting and tabled, as it was Wednesday night, until the Roseburg School Evaluation Steering Committee makes its report later this summer.

Graves also made an appeal for financial assistance. The society has been renting the Central Junior High School auditorium for its concerts. He asked the school board to allow the society to use the auditorium under the present board policy of letting the auditorium be used rent free for youth activities associated with the schools.

Bill To Aid Unemployment Won't Do Oregon Any Good, Criticizes Governor Holmes

SALEM (AP)—A Senate-passed bill to aid the unemployed probably will put no money in the pockets of jobless Oregon workers, Gov. Robert Holmes said Thursday.

Holmes denounced the bill and accused Congress of sitting on the sidelines instead of creating needed anti-recession programs.

The bill, now awaiting the President's signature, would permit states to float federal bonds to extend unemployment compensation benefits.

Holmes said he doubted the state could participate because of an opinion earlier this month by Atty. Gen. Robert Thornton.

Even if legal obstacles could be cleared, Holmes said he would have serious doubts about borrowing the money.

Meanwhile, a state official said 21,000 Oregon residents have exhausted their unemployment compensation benefits.

Benefits Running Out
And the benefits are running out for about 1,000 additional persons each week, said Mrs. Cecilia Galey, chairman of the state Unemployment Compensation Commission.

Holmes said he will ask Thornton Thursday for an opinion on whether the state can borrow the money from the federal government.

Oregon earlier borrowed 14 million dollars to shore up its sagging compensation trust fund.

Thornton, however, ruled that such a loan could be made only with the permission of the Legislature.

As a result, tax rates increased greatly for most of the 12,000 employers who pay into the compensation trust fund.

In view of his ruling that we could not borrow the money, I certainly want my opinion on our authority under the new bill before I take any action," Holmes said.

Need Law First
Holmes said he felt Thornton probably would rule that the Legislature would have to first pass a law permitting the state to borrow the funds.

But, the governor said, even if he was given the go-ahead "I would want to look at the situation very carefully first."

Holmes said that he favored a version of the bill which called for the government to require all states to extend benefits for 16 weeks. That version was smothered under Senate opposition.

The version sent to the President "is not a federal move to combat the recession. It rolls back to the states any anti-recession movements," Holmes said.

"I don't think they want to do anything about the anti-recession measures," Holmes said.

Favors Grants To Loans
The governor said he favored a system of grants to the states, instead of loans which would have to be repaid.

In Washington, D. C., opponents of the bill said that about a third of the states, like Oregon, would have to have special legislation to borrow the money.

Holmes said that if Thornton would rule against borrowing the money, he might be tempted to call a special session of the Legislature to draft enabling laws.

But a special session still is considered unlikely.

Bus rides in Roseburg Saturday will be free.

In an effort to make shopping a simpler matter for the day, the Retail Merchants' Division of the Chamber of Commerce, with the cooperation of the Roseburg bus company, is sponsoring the free rides to and from town.

Spokesman Rod Neveu said no charge would be made for rides during the entire day.

Unemployment Bill Passed By Senate
WASHINGTON (AP)—Only President Eisenhower's signature was needed today to authorize federal advances to the states for a temporary extension of unemployment benefits.

A bill to permit that action was passed 80-0 by the Senate last night after all attempts to broaden and strengthen it were defeated. The House passed it May 1.

The passage vote was unanimous despite sharp criticism from some senators that the bill was largely useless—a position also taken by AFL-CIO spokesmen.

Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.) called it "the great runaround of 1955." Sen. Pat McNamara (D-Mich.) said he feared it would prove "a cruel hoax" on the millions of unemployed.

The bill authorizes the federal government to advance funds to the states to extend by as much as one half the number of weeks in which workers eligible for unemployment insurance may draw benefits.

Hero Greeted With Mixed Emotions
President Coty Says General Only Man Who Can Prevent Civil War
By GEORGE MCARTHUR
PARIS (AP)—Gen. Charles de Gaulle arrived in Paris Thursday night less than three hours after President Rene Coty announced he was being summoned, as the only man who can save France from civil war, to be premier.

The general disappeared from public view shortly after reaching the capital from his village home 150 miles away but was expected to appear at the President's palace shortly, presumably to arrange formally the process of attempting to form a government.

The 76-year-old Coty, in announcing that De Gaulle was being called, told the French Parliament he would resign if the National Assembly refused to accept De Gaulle as premier.

Coty's unprecedented message was received in the National Assembly with shouts of derision from the Communists and cheers from De Gaulle's supporters.

On Brink of War
"We find ourselves on the brink of civil war," Coty said.

"In the peril of the motherland and the Republic, I turn myself toward the most illustrious Frenchman."

The Assembly recessed and parties began feverish caucuses. First reports said the Socialists, who hold the balance of power, were holding firm in their opposition to De Gaulle.

Outgoing Premier Pierre Pflimlin told the caucus of his Popular Republican Party that members must support De Gaulle. Persons who attended the session quoted him as saying:

"I am convinced that in the present circumstances—whose aspects I know very well—civil peace can only be preserved by the legal formation of a government."

Most Local Stores To Keep Doors Open Day After Holiday
All Roseburg stores are slated to remain open Saturday except for appliance and furniture dealers, who met recently and decided to close in order to give employees a three-day weekend in observance of Memorial Day.

A survey this morning disclosed that all appliance and furniture dealers, with the exception of some stores which carry other merchandise as well as appliances and furniture, apparently will close Saturday. Department, clothing, jewelry and other types of stores will remain open.

Celebration of Memorial Day Friday in Roseburg will be highlighted by services at the Veterans Hospital and ceremonies at the bridge on the hospital grounds.

Keynote Speaker
Circuit Court Judge Charles S. Woodrich will be keynote speaker at the services, scheduled to begin at 9:30 a.m. The Rev. George Knox of Westside Christian Church will deliver the invocation and Mayor Arlo Jackson will deliver the welcome address. Music will be furnished by Thomas Heinz, Roseburg High School singer.

A march to the bridge will follow the hospital services. Ceremonies will be conducted by the Daughters of the Union and the Navy Mothers. Another ceremony will be held at the tomb of the unknown soldier in the hospital cemetery following the bridge rites.

Other services are slated for Mt. Nebo, where the Roseburg Elks will sponsor a flag-raising ceremony, and Roseburg Memorial Gardens. Roseburg's National Guard company will participate in both ceremonies.

Meanwhile, Roseburg Postmaster Clyde W. Carstens announced that all U.S. flags at postal installations will be flown at half-mast. The procedure, in observance of the return and final interment of two unknown soldiers killed in World War II, went into effect Wednesday and will continue through Saturday.

Plans Being Made For Elks Conclave
Plans are being formulated for the annual state Elks convention which will be held in Roseburg Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week.

Many plans are tentative and various committees are holding meetings to work out final details. Between 2,500 and 3,000 Elks and their wives are expected to attend the convention, Roseburg Exalted Ruler Glen Miller said.

Activities are scheduled to get underway at 9 a.m. Thursday with registration. Roseburg lodge members may register Monday. National Grand Exalted Ruler H. L. Blackridge of Kearney, Neb., will attend a noon luncheon at the Umpqua Hotel Thursday.

A dinner meeting is scheduled for the hotel at 6 p.m. Attending this event will be exalted rulers, leading knights, secretaries and managers. The no host banquet will honor Elks Rufe Lewis of Whittier, Calif., and Horace Wisley of Salinas, Calif., candidate for the next grand exalted ruler.
