Paul W. Petheram, 69, former resident of Seaside, died at the Veterans Hospital in Roseburg Wednesday.

Ex-Roseburg Resident Dies In Springfield

Mrs. Blanche M. Daniels, a Douglas County native and former Roseburg resident, died last Monday in Springfield, relatives here reported.

Mrs. Daniels was born Sept. 11, 1887 in Oakland. She had lived in Springfield for several years after residing in Roseburg.

Sen. Morse's Amendment On Labor Bill Adopted

WASHINGTON (AP)—An amendment by Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore) was approved 86-0 Thursday as the Senate considered the labor bill.

The Oregon senator's proposal was a substitute for an amendment offered by Sens. Javits (R-NY) and Case (R-NJ). They called for barring from office any union official who failed to file reports required under the bill.

Morse said this amendment would violate due process by attaching penalties without the opportunity to test the union officer's right to refuse to comply.

Morse's amendment provides for a hearing and court appeal in the event of such a refusal.

Bulganan Undergoes Serious Surgery, Khrushchev States

MOSCOW (AP)—Former Nikoli Bulganan has undergone a serious operation but is expected to return to work within a week or so, Premier Nikita Khrushchev said Thursday night.

Khrushchev denied reports that Bulganan, former Premier Georgi M. Malenkov or communist theorist Mikhail A. Suslov, have been politically downgraded or worse.

He told correspondents at a British Embassy reception Suslov is vacationing on the Black Sea and Malenkov is alive and well.

"If you want to see Bulganan buy a bouquet of flowers and go visit him at the hospital," he said. He did not name the hospital.

Told that according to one Western report Malenkov was seriously injured in a hunting accident, Khrushchev commented: "Malenkov is not a hunter. Furthermore, this is not hunting season. But don't worry, he is alive."

Malenkov was named director of a power station in eastern Kazakhstan after he was removed from a top Kremlin post last June. He served as premier from 1953 to 1955.

The conversation with western correspondents was Khrushchev's first in several weeks.

Gdn. Of Tomorrow Contract Awarded

PORTLAND (AP)—The Oregon Centennial Commission Thursday approved a contract with Garden of Tomorrow, Inc., to build a huge garden display for the 1959 centennial exposition and trade fair.

Morrice L. Sharp, a member of the commission, is head of the non-profit corporation which will plant the garden.

In other action the commission: Decided it may have to change the exposition motto—"Frontier For the Future"—because it already is being used by the Minnesota Centennial, now in progress.

Authorized a Portland clothing firm to sell jackets with the exposition emblem. Five percent of the wholesale price of the jackets will be paid to the commission.

Authorized distribution of 50,000 bumper strips—which promote the centennial—by the Oregon Oil Information Committee.

Heard a report from Commissioner Thomas Vaughn that two historical relics will be available for the centennial. Vaughn, who is director of the Oregon Historical Society, said he can obtain the first lumber mill used in the area by Dr. John McLoughlin at Fort Vancouver and the first printing press used in the Oregon territory.

All Is Now Quiet In Fayetteville: Ladies Talked Out

FAYETTEVILLE, N. C. (AP)—Somewhere the sun is shining, and somewhere children shout.

But all is quiet in Fayetteville for the ladies are all talked out. Once there were seven of them. That was June 2, when a home appliance store promoted a contest to crown the talkiest woman.

The prizes were $1,500 in appliances. One at a time, they've all had their say. Originally the record was 28 1/2 hours of nonstop talking.

Each contestant topped it. Mrs. Frank Williams, the last regular contestant, won $1,000 worth of first prizes with a monologue of 38 hours, 41 minutes and 50 seconds.

This brought on Fayetteville TV personality Ernie Eye, mother of four who is hostess for a teenagers' show. She beat the record and kept going—for as long as she could, she said, or as long as donations kept coming toward a donation for her TV fans.

Ernie, an attractive blonde, croaked to a halt last night after 53 hours, one minute and 40 seconds. "I'm pooped," she observed.

Second Festival Parade Is Today

PORTLAND (AP)—The second big parade of Portland's Golden Anniversary Rose Festival was scheduled Friday afternoon.

It is the children's parade on Portland's east side.

The festival's first parade, the Merrykhana, was held Tuesday night. The grand floral parade will be held Saturday morning.

Among Thursday's events was the opening of the stadium show, "Fifty Years of Fun and Music."

A crowd of 7,082 saw the show which included songs by 1951 Rose Festival Queen Gloria Krieger, the Purdue Glee Club, and the 500-voice Indiana Women's Chorus.

Comedian Jerry Colonna and the Victoria B. C. girls' drill team also performed.

Ruth Parrett, who was crowned queen of the festival Wednesday night, opened the stadium show, rounding out a full day of official appearances.

Another highlight of Thursday night's events was a jazz festival in the play yard of a downtown public school. Musicians Red Nichols, Charlie Barnett and Buddy de Franco played before a crowd announced as 3,000 paid.

Governor Knight Snubs Overture Of Knowland

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Gov. Goodwin Knight, rejecting an indirect trustee offer by Sen. William F. Knowland, said he is going it alone in California's November election campaign.

Knowland, who displaced Knight as the Republican candidate for governor, made his gesture at a news conference in Washington yesterday. He said it's important for Republicans to close ranks, and that he intends to give "wholehearted and loyal support" to the entire Republican ticket.

Knight, citing their difference on the controversial right-to-work issue, replied "I propose to conduct my own separate campaign for the U.S. Senate. He said nothing about supporting Knowland.

Jury Decides Against Man In Shooting Fray

EUGENE (AP)—A circuit court jury Thursday night decided against Charles Graves in his $100,000 damage suit against Lane County Sheriff Ed Elder and deputy E. J. Robertson.

The verdict was 10-2 after about 6 1/2 hours of deliberation.

Graves asked damages contending that Elder and Robertson had him remain in one side of a duplex while law officers shot it out with a man in the other side. The shooting affray occurred the night of Feb. 22, 1957.

Albert Lewis Wachsmuth, the man who lived in the other side of the duplex, shot and killed state policeman Charles Sanders in the battle. Later Wachsmuth was sentenced to life in prison.

Vancouver Couple, Daughter Found Bludgeoned, Shot

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP)—A devoted Vancouver couple and their young daughter were found slain Wednesday night in their modest home, bludgeoned and shot without apparent motive.

The slayer had crushed the skulls of David Pauls, 53, a department store janitor, his wife, Helen, about 45, and their daughter, Dorothy, 12, a sixth grade pupil at a nearby school.

Pauls and his wife also had been shot twice through the head with small caliber bullets.

The triple murder was discovered when police were asked to investigate Mrs. Pauls' failure to report for work at the sausage factory where she was employed. The three had been dead about 14 hours.

The quiet Mennonite family, described as deeply religious, lived in a middle-class residential district where their freshly painted home was the neatest in the block. Their 12-foot-wide flower garden extended from front to rear of their property, was the pride of the neighborhood. Mrs. Pauls had worked in the garden each day.

Pauls' wallet and his wife's purse were missing, but neither contained much money and robbery was discounted as the primary motive. The girl's panties had been removed and her clothing was disarranged, but police said she had not been raped.

Pauls and his wife both worked nights, and it had been his practice since another slaying April 4 to pick her up when she was through work.

The attack apparently occurred on their return home Tuesday night.

Searchers Find Wreckage Of Crashed B47 Stratofort

ENOSBURG, Vt. (AP)—Searchers found the charred wreckage of a B47 stratofort Thursday. Its four crewmen were dead.

The plane disappeared Wednesday night on a flight from Savannah, Ga., to Plattsburgh, N.Y.

It crashed on a hill about 19 miles from the Canadian border. The six jet bomber, weighing 100 tons, exploded on impact, scattering live ammunition.

The name of the fourth crewman killed was announced late Thursday. He was 2nd Lt. William G. Gubertson, 22, Union City, Ind. The names of the others had been announced earlier.

Boy, 13, Shoots Father Following Harsh Beating

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A suburban Bethel Borough man was shot to death early today by his 13-year-old son who told the police the father had beat him and lighted matches under his fingers.

John Kohle Sr., 49, a crane operator in a Pittsburgh plant, was killed by four bullets fired into his back from a .32 caliber revolver.

Bethel Police Chief John Misakunas quoted John Kohle Jr., as saying he shot his father following an argument over some missing shotgun shells when the boy returned home late from his paper route.

Man Swims From Lake After Auto Accident

EUGENE (AP)—Alvin Richard Erickson, 22, was brought to a hospital here in critical condition after his car collided head-on with another late Wednesday.

The crash caused his automobile to roll into Dexter Lake. But despite his serious injuries, he freed himself and swam about 20 feet to shore.

In less serious condition was the driver of the second vehicle, Mrs. Lucille Grahman, 50, Bend.

The collision happened about 20 miles southeast of here and a mile west of Lowell Junction on Highway 58, which skirts the lake.

U. S. Air Force Mechanic Steals Bomber, Crashes

HUNTINGDON, England (AP)—A U.S. Air Force mechanic stole a bomber plane early this morning and zoomed off alone on a mystery flight. He crashed to his death a few miles away in the kind of mishap that gives the British the jitters.

Left-wing leaders here insist that the presence of American bombers armed with nuclear weapons adds to the island's dangers—that someone might go berserk or accidentally drop one of the atomic bombs on Britain.

The plane that crashed this morning carried no bomb of any sort. A hurried announcement from the headquarters of the 3rd U.S. Air Force assured Britons that the plane was not combat-ready.

YOUTH PLEADS GUILTY

NEW YORK (AP)—A 17-year-old boy pleaded guilty Thursday to second degree murder in the shooting of his mother.

By entering the plea, John E. Jessup of Brooklyn, escaped the possibility of the electric chair.

Hide, Seek Bride, Bridegroom Still Reported Missing

YAKIMA (AP)—Radio disc jockey Jack C. Simpson, the bride-and-see bridegroom, was still missing Thursday. So was his runaway child bride, Judith.

Police here and in Seattle want them—Simpson for second degree assault and for questioning, his bride as a runaway from her home in Walla Walla.

Despite an all-points alert throughout the Pacific Northwest nothing has been seen of the two since Tuesday in Seattle.

The search here focused on the apartment the Simpsons occupied before they left for Seattle last weekend on their honeymoon. The tearful bride told police at Seattle her husband vanished while they were playing hide-and-see in a vacant lot before dawn Tuesday.

She checked out of her hotel Tuesday afternoon, presumably to return here.

Their rented apartment contains many of their personal belongings. The landlady, Mrs. Lawrence M. Record, described Simpson as "very, very nice" during the six weeks he lived there before his marriage. Young Mrs. Simpson moved in after their wedding here May 31 before Justice of the Peace James S. Hogan. Mrs. Record said she was "sweet and pretty" and appeared to be "quite practical, too."

Simpson gave his age as 27 or 32, depending on who wanted to know. His bride listed her age on her marriage license application with Seattle police as 20, but her father, Casper Carter, said in Walla Walla she is only 15 and ran off to get married.

A superior court judge waived the three-day waiting period so they could wed here the same day the license was issued.

Simpson was charged with second-degree assault for allegedly pistol-whipping a young man on his wedding night. He also is sought by Seattle police for questioning on other matters.

Before the couple left here, Simpson gave up his job as disc jockey and salesman for a Yakima radio station. He had worked previously for stations in Walla Walla, his hometown, and in Anchorage, Alaska.
