

Portlander Swims 43 Miles Down Columbia R. Tuesday

PORTLAND (AP)—Bill McGill, 33-year-old Portland office worker, is the new Columbia river swimming champion.

He stroked 43 miles downstream from Bonneville Dam Monday, bettering the 41-mile record set earlier by Bert Thomas, the Port Angeles, Wash., long distance swimmer.

It took McGill 8 1/2 hours to swim to a point north of Portland. He came out of the water at NE 42nd Ave., about two miles short of his goal of reaching the bridge between Portland and Vancouver, Wash.

Whirlpools and treacherous currents stopped him there.

"Boy, what we ran into. I wanted to pull him out several times, but he wouldn't get out," said his coach, Mrs. Dorothy Pantenburg.

"It's the most vicious river I've ever seen. It's terrible. I've seen most of them, but never have I seen a river so full of whirlpools and rapids," she added.

McGill came down the Oregon side of the river except at points—such as at Canas, Wash.—where a bend in the river provided a short cut on the north shore.

"I almost stopped there," said

McGill. "Whirlpools were everywhere. We had to zigzag back and forth."

McGill said he was not planning to try to better his record.

"Some people like to climb mountains. I don't expect any prizes at the end of a successful swim. I just happen to like to swim rivers."

"Don't worry, though. I'm not about to do it again," he said.

"Well, I might have to if somebody breaks the record," McGill added.

Northwest Gets Another Searing, But Not So Hot

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The sun-broiled Pacific Northwest got another searing Wednesday although not as hot as Tuesday's scorcher when temperatures hit the century mark in several spots.

Except along coastal areas where night fog and low clouds provided a cooling blanket, readings down into the 50s, the heat showed little let-up from British Columbia to Southern Oregon and eastward to the Rockies.

Highest Tuesday readings were reported from Washington's Pasco and Dallesport, where the mercury hit 100, and The Dalles, Ore., with the same high.

Southern Puget Sound boiled under 90-and-up readings from Olympia which recorded a high of 93, to Seattle with 90. Bellingham was a cool 87, several degrees higher than its northern neighbors across the Canadian border.

The temperatures generally were high for the year so far, records for the day and in some cases exceeded highest readings of all last year.

Oregon points generally matched Washington readings, with Grants Pass hitting 98, Salem 96, Medford 94 and Portland 93.

Small consolation could be derived from the weatherman's forecast of cooler for Thursday, cooler meaning in the 80s or 90s except along coastal areas, where fogs should hold it down to a comfortable 70.

No fires were reported in Oregon and only five small ones in Washington, burning a half acre. The fire damage was considered high but not acute unless humidity readings drop below 30 percent. Tuesday's humidity point generally was above 40 in Western Washington's forested areas and about 20 in Northwest Oregon and along the Oregon coast.

Garcia Asks U.S. Understanding, Aid, Not Charity

WASHINGTON (AP)—Philippine President Carlos P. Garcia asked the U.S. Congress Wednesday for understanding, encouragement and assistance—not charity—in building Philippine stability.

In an address prepared for a joint session of the Congress, he said the island republic has "progressed half way toward our objective, we cannot turn back."

Speaking in fluent English the 61-year-old Asian leader said his 23 million countrymen are America's best friends in Asia.

He renewed pledges of Philippine-American solidarity on the basis of equality and common democratic ideals.

"Within the limits of our capabilities," he said, "the Filipino people will assume our just burden in the common defense of freedom and in the common pursuit of peace."

Garcia did not say how much economic assistance the Philippines is seeking but advanced indications were that he is hopeful of obtaining 300 million dollars or more in long term credits.

Garcia said that the Philippines is seeking from the United States the strength to make the country an effective force for democracy in Asia.

"The peace and freedom of Asia, where one half of humanity lives, is unavoidably the concern of the free world of which the United States is the acknowledged leader," he said.

In advance of his visit to the Capitol, Garcia had an hour-long date with President Eisenhower.

The Philippine leader arrived here Tuesday on a three-day state visit.

Californians In Jail On Drunkenness Counts

State police picked up two California men shortly after 10 p.m. Thursday on Highway 99 near Glendale and booked one for drunk driving and the other for intoxication on a public highway.

Driver of the vehicle, Michael Patrick O'Hara, 38, of Ontario, Calif., pleaded guilty to the drunk driving charge this morning when arraigned before District Judge Warren A. Woodruff. He was sentenced to 10 days in the county jail and fined $150 and costs.

George Travia, 32, a passenger in the car driven by O'Hara, also entered a guilty plea to the public intoxication citation and was fined $25 and costs. He gave his address as Santa Barbara, Calif.

Both men were jailed, O'Hara to serve the sentence and Travia because he could not pay the fine.

U. S. Deadlocked In Try To Free Nine Army Men

By SEYMOUR TOPPING

BERLIN (AP)—The United States ran into a deadlock with Communist East Germany Wednesday in negotiations to obtain the release of nine imprisoned U. S. Army men.

The U.S. mission in Berlin announced that the third round of talks at the East Berlin Foreign Ministry was unsuccessful and no date has been set for a further meeting.

Responsible diplomatic sources said the United States refused to bow to East Germany's demands for full diplomatic negotiations and conclusions of a formal agreement on the helicopter incident.

The American prisoners—eight officers and a sergeant from the 3rd Armored Division in West Germany—were seized by Communist soldiers when their big helicopter strayed across the Iron Curtain June 7 in a storm.

In his third meeting with East Germany's Deputy Foreign Minister Otto Winzer, U. S. Army Col. Robert P. McQuail spent nearly an hour in hard bargaining.

McQuail, chief liaison officer to the Russian army in East Germany, came out grim-faced and brushed aside reporter's questions.

In his third meeting with East Germany's Deputy Foreign Minister Otto Winzer, U. S. Army Col. Robert P. McQuail spent nearly an hour in hard bargaining.

McQuail said that career officers would be fearful of giving Congress accurate replies to questions if the reorganization was put through in form asked by the administration.

This country would never have had an atomic submarine, Jackson added, if Congress had not insisted the Navy retain Adm. (then captain) Hyman G. Rickover over protests of top Navy leaders.

McElroy is trying to get the Senate committee to take out restrictions on proposed power for the President to transfer, reassign, abolish or consolidate armed forces functions established by law.

He told the senators Tuesday these restrictions would hurt rather than help Pentagon streamlining.

Zsa Zsa Wants To Find Wife For Trujillo Jr.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Rafael Trujillo Jr., the Dominican Republic playboy general, is back in town. And who wants to find him a new wife?

Zsa Zsa Gabor.

"What would be nicer than to have him marry a nice American girl?" Miss Gabor asked an interviewer. "Think what this would do for friendly relations between his country and the United States."

She didn't mention anyone in particular.

Trujillo has filed suit for a Mexican divorce from Octavia Ricard de Trujillo. Married 10 years, they have six children.

Miss Gabor was asked about actress Kim Novak, the general's steady date on his last Hollywood visit.

"He likes Kim," replied Zsa Zsa, "but this love business is so much nonsense. I wouldn't call her a passing fancy, but it was not a permanent affair."

"About the nice things he gave her, it's a man's privilege, even his duty, to make girls happy."

Miss Novak is in New York.

Showers Spatter West Texas Area

DALLAS (AP)—A few showers spattered from El Paso in far West Texas down the Rio Grande to Laredo Wednesday and some heavy clouds hung over the Southwestern Texas area ripped by flash floods Tuesday.

The streams in the hill country quickly fell back to their banks after raining madly for a time following cloudbursts of up to 20 inches of rain.

The floodwaters blocked highways and marooned hundreds of persons for a time. Floyd Miller, 47, of San Angelo, was drowned in Concho River Tuesday by a wall of water. Narrow escapes were legion.

A cloud fragment dangled in the center of the setting sun Tuesday and jittery Dallas residents reported two funnels skipping about near the city. But the Weather Bureau at the North Texas city said it was only a mirage.

More than 20 inches of rain with in 24 hours were reported in Bandera County. Water blocked state Highway 16 on both sides of the city, which sits on high ground.

The Sabinal River went back into its banks at Sabinal, where 100 persons were reported evacuated earlier.

Youth Hospitalized After Benzedrine Dose

City police early this morning hospitalized an 18-year-old Roseburg youth who went into convulsions after taking too many benzedrine or dexendrine pills.

He was identified as Orris Thomas Rise, a resident at 1413 SE Mill St. Lawmen, answering a complaint from a nearby landlady, found Rise violently beating his head on the floor in the hallway of his home.

Police called an ambulance, then had to sit on the youth to hold him down and prevent further injury to himself.

At the hospital he calmed down long enough to tell the attending physician, "I popped about four pills last night. He said he had picked them up in Mexico a few months ago while in the service."

He was given emergency treatment and a sedative. No charge was filed as a result of the incident.

Vancouver, B.C., Bridge Collapse Takes 16 Lives

lapse tilted crazily downward like a sagging W with their front part sagged and rear still on the supports.

An eyewitness, Edwin Leitch, said the "frightening roar of the collapse sounded like a continuous peal of thunder lasting about 15 seconds."

A huge crane which had been hoisting steel girders to the top of the bridge toppled and plummeted into the mass of tangled wreckage in the water below.

Some workmen were caught and killed in the tortured, twisted beams. Others were crushed beneath tons of steel and concrete after they dropped into the 40-foot-deep inlet.

Provincial Highways Minister P. A. Gagliardi said the disaster would not cost the province "a nickel more."

The contractors, Dominion Bridge, are fully responsible until the bridge is completed and handed over to the government, he said.

"They've got to meet the contract price," Gagliardi said.

Later, after inspecting the twisted wreckage, he said the loss in time of construction would be six months and the financial loss between three and four million dollars.

Ridenour earlier had been selected as an alternate to the academy. A 1957 graduate of Roseburg High School, he has been attending college.

Explorer III's Radio Transmitter Goes Silent

WASHINGTON (AP)—The second radio transmitter of Explorer III has gone dead and no signals have been picked up from the tiny satellite since Monday.

The other transmitter died out June 5. The Army's other satellite, Explorer I, stopped sending signals May 24. However, Explorer I still is functioning.

The Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory estimated early this month that Explorer III, which has been steadily losing altitude, would plunge to earth before the end of June. The satellite was launched March 2.

McElroy Peppared With Questions On Defense Setup

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sens. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine) and Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.) expressed concern Wednesday that planned reorganization of the Defense Department would cut off vital and necessary information from Congress.

Both peppared Secretary of Defense Neil McElroy with questions on that point at a session of the Senate Armed Services Committee.

The only woman senator asked assurance the broad powers proposed for the secretary will "not be used to withhold any facts" members of Congress now can get quickly from the individual armed services.

"Why of course we couldn't," McElroy told her. He said there is no desire or effort by the administration to keep facts from Congress.

Sen. Jackson broke in to say that the Defense Department on "fictitious silly grounds" already is preventing the Air Force from answering questions he asked about certain missiles.

Jackson said that career officers would be fearful of giving Congress accurate replies to questions if the reorganization was put through in form asked by the administration.

This country would never have had an atomic submarine, Jackson added, if Congress had not insisted the Navy retain Adm. (then captain) Hyman G. Rickover over protests of top Navy leaders.

Student Of Ghana Is Working With Forest Service

By MRS. ARTHUR SELBY

The Glade Forest Service Ranger Station has an interesting member among its summer crews made up of college students majoring in forestry from many of the 48 states.

Samuel Britioum from Kumasi, Ghana (formerly Gold Coast, Africa), arrived Monday to work with the engineering crew through the summer. He was graduated from high school at Accra, the capital of Ghana, and attended Oregon State College the last three years.

The young forestry student was awarded a four-year scholarship in an American college by the Ghana Government. He began his study of the English language in the fourth grade of school. The native language, Twi, is also taught in the grade schools.

Britioum, 25, said that his country has rich forests of mahogany and other hardwoods. The large lumber mills are owned by English companies and have their logging crews and equipment similar to Oregon mill and logging operations. Smaller mills are owned and operated by Ghana residents.

Britioum will return to his country after graduation and will receive a position in the government Forestry Department.

Holmes Would Up Federal Grants To Aged By $10

WASHINGTON (AP)—Oregon's Gov. Robert D. Holmes told the House Ways and Means Committee Wednesday that the federal government should make a $10 per case monthly increase in grants to states for old age assistance, aid to the blind and disabled, and aid to dependent children.

He also told the committee that Oregon's industrial development is being hampered by inequitable freight rates, reduced emphasis on power development, loss of foreign markets and delayed revision of fiscal policies.

"Oregon is making very gratifying progress," he said, "but much yet needs to be done."

"Federal standards in the area of social legislation would give us tremendous support in maintaining an adequate unemployment compensation program by elimination of much pressure due to competition in the area of comparable state costs."

"The unemployment compensation program, to fulfill the purpose for which it was established, should provide sufficient security to a worker and his family so that he is assured of adequate purchasing power during periods of unemployment, caused by economic conditions over which he has no control, and enabling him to maintain personal dignity and meet non-deferrable expenses."

He said that adoption of federal standards would help the state resist pressure to remove many seasonal workers from the program.

Hugh D'Autremont Has Final Charges Cleared By Court

PORTLAND (AP)—Hugh d'Autremont Wednesday was back in his prison cell—the final charge disposed of for his part in a 1923 attempted train robbery.

The 54-year-old d'Autremont Tuesday was placed on five years probation in U.S. District Court here for the last, and only federal, charge against him—assaulting a mail clerk.

Hugh and his brothers, Roy and Ray, were convicted in state court of first degree murder after the attempted holdup of a Southern Pacific train at a Siskiyou Mountain tunnel in Southern Oregon.

They got no money, but four trainmen were killed.

Roy and Ray also are serving life terms.

Hugh had pleaded guilty to the federal charge May 1. Earlier his guilty pleas disposed of pending state charges.

One of his attorneys, Noreen Kelly of Medford, said that d'Autremont will press now for a parole.

Judge Gus Solomon, who said he was not taking sides in the parole issue, said penitentiary officials at Salem had told him d'Autremont had been a model prisoner.

In the decades he has been in the Salem prison, d'Autremont has become a printer and lithographer.

Solomon noted that the crime "is still vividly remembered," and said he had received more letters about the case than any other he has handled in his many years on the bench.
