PORTLAND (AP) — Red China should be admitted to the U.N. the Oregon Methodist Conference says.

But the conference says it with a minority dissent attached, in approving a resolution calling for the admission, the conference Thursday added that "safety and well-being of refugees from the Chinese Communist dictatorship, especially in Formosa" should be safeguarded.

A Salem attorney, Ervin Potter, said if it is necessary to have a protective phrase in the resolution asking for recognition, Red China is not ready for membership.

Max McMillen, Grants Pass, opposing admission, said the purpose of keeping China out of the U.N. was to demonstrate opposition to enslavement of people of the world.

But the Rev. Horace H. Mounts, Beaverton, countered it was time to stop burying heads in the sand. "Other nations are going to move ahead and face this issue," he said, adding it will lead to healthy exchange of ideas.

The Rev. Norman Thomas, Portland, said other anti-Christian nations are in the U.N.

The conference, which closes Friday with ministerial assignments, got a minority report on the U.N. question which said more study and prayer should precede Red China's admission.

Support of Sunday business closure and support of the activities of Protestants and Other Americans United for Separation of Church and State were voted.

Father Wasn't Mistreated, Says Daniel Cole

STAYTON, Ore. (AP) — Daniel Cole, free on bail today, said he didn't think he had been mistreating his father.

"Naturally I feel embarrassed," said the 30-year-old one-time preacher on being released late yesterday from jail. He was arrested Wednesday night and accused of penning up his 88-year-old father, Eugene, inside an electric fence.

"It was a damn hot wire," said Police Chief Everett Norflett of the charged wire that kept the elderly man within a 100 by 100 foot enclosure. A battered old trailer house and an outdoor privy were within the enclosure which Cole said he put up to keep his father from wandering away.

The son posted $2,500 bail. He will be arraigned Monday on a charge of assault and battery.

Police said when they arrested the younger man he had been kicking his father, then reviving him by pouring water on him.

The father was taken to a hospital where he was reported to be in fairly good condition after food and rest.

The son was a Seabee in World War II and, Mayor Marcel Van Driessche said, was a chaplain in the organization of the American Methodist church here a few times some 20 years ago and was police chief for a brief time, the mayor added. More recently he has been a movie projectionist.

Czechoslovakia Holding American

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (AP) — Czechoslovak authorities notified the U.S. Embassy here Friday they are holding in custody an American soldier missing since June 10.

The soldier, M. Sgt. James E. Cole, 34, Connellsville, Pa., disappeared while fishing with a relative of his, an Austrian woman, in a river which forms part of the Austrian-Czechoslovak border.

The Czechs' acknowledgement that they are holding Cole confirmed suspicions of Austrian police that he had been seized by communist border guards.

The Czechs did inform the embassy what charges they have against Cole, but it was believed they would place espionage charges, which is customary in such cases.

Diplomats said the Czechs did not say where they are holding Cole, but said the sergeant is in good health.

His release "may take some time," U.S. officials said, adding: "The next step in gaining his release will be taken by the State Department from Washington."

Cole was stationed with American forces in Munich, West Germany.

Eisenhower Visits Base At Quantico

QUANTICO, Va. (AP) — President Eisenhower came to this Marine base Friday for a review of America's global defense strategy.

The President arrived in the rain after a 45-minute drive over the 35 miles from Washington. He had intended to make the trip by helicopter but heavy rain washed out that plan.

Old soldier Eisenhower is here for a Defense Department annual conference which brings together all the top brass — military and civilian — in the nation's defense establishment.

He went directly to a briefing on the Pacific situation by Adm. Felix B. Stump, commander in chief of all United States Pacific forces.

Stump's review presumably dealt with: Formosa defenses by the U. S. 7th Fleet and air units.

The picture regarding the big U. S. base at Okinawa.

The demilitarization program in Japan.

The routine but always present problem of antisubmarine patrol and aerial patrol of the seaward extension of the dewline radar warning system.

Beaver Boys State Moves To Salem

CORVALLIS (AP) — The Beaver Boys State moved out of Corvallis Friday for Salem to inaugurate Doug Leonetti of Portland as governor.

Leonetti was elected Thursday by the 450 boys attending the annual training-in-government session. The election gives him one of the two positions as Oregon delegate to Boy's Nation in Washington, D.C. later this summer.

The second delegate will be the boy chosen as outstanding citizen in a Saturday vote.

Leonetti survived election competition from three other candidates. He was nominated by the Nationalist Party and Marvin Terry, Grants Pass, was the candidate of the Federalist Party. Two independents filed: Merle Wallis, and Joe McCray, both Portland.

Doug Sanders, Sutherlin, was elected a Supreme Court justice, and Steven John, Roseburg, and Cliff Worley, Glendale, were elected to the House of Representatives.

Two Fast Days Of Rodeo Action Set At Fairgrounds

one of the top rodeo stock firms in business.

Newest special event to be added to the program is a challenge race involving Queen Judy Defferding and the Emerald Empire Roundup Court. The Douglas County queen, a petite Camas Valley High School student, will ride a horse in competition against a car "mounted" by the Lane County girls.

Distance of the race, matching the over-all speed of the automobile against the quick-starting equine, has yet to be determined.

The other specialties will be contested for cash prizes. All the special events including the horse-car race, will be held between regular events.

A chariot race, bareback relay race and baton race will feature some of the same cowboy contestants who will compete for the big prize money in the regular events. The other specialty will be a 220-yard saddle horse race open only to Douglas County riders and horses.

Prize Money Put Up

Prize money for the chariot race will be $30 plus entry fees. Other specialties will carry prizes of $3 and $10 plus entry fees.

Running of the special events will mark the first time such contests have been featured at the local rodeo. The contests are designed to entertain spectators in the usual "dead spots" between regular events.

Admission prices to either the Saturday or Sunday competition are $3 for box seats, $2.50 for reserved seats, $2 for general admission and $1 for children between the ages of six and 15. Children under six will be admitted free.

Tickets will be on sale in front of the Umpqua Hotel all day Saturday. Duets also may be purchased at the gate after 2:30 p.m. Saturday and 11:30 a.m. Sunday.

The rodeo will begin at 9 p.m. in the Fairgrounds Community Building. Music will be furnished by Roger Crandall and his "Calgary Stampede."

Accused Woman Holds Off Lawmen, Then Surrenders

WATERVILLE, Wash. (AP) — Cornered after a wild chase, an Oregon woman accused of robbery held off lawmen for nearly three hours Thursday before laying down her pistol and surrendering meekly.

The woman, Lee Mae Webb, 41, of Arlington, Ore., was taken to the Douglas County jail and held in connection with the $400 robbery of an East Wenatchee supermarket earlier Thursday.

A deputy sheriff and state patrolmen chased Mrs. Webb for 28 miles as she drove her 1958 pickup truck over winding mountain roads and across north central Washington wheat flatlands.

About seven miles south of here, she abandoned the truck. She fired an aimless shot from her .38 caliber pistol and then fled to a wooded railroad trestle.

Officers surrounded the spot and during the three-hour siege Mrs. Webb fired three more shots, all apparently in the air. When she surrendered, the woman turned over her gun and about $400.

State Patrolman Emmett Smith said Mrs. Webb told him she came to the Wenatchee area earlier this week to find work. This failing, she said she became deeply despondent and needed money perately.

Salem Firm Buys Umpqua National Forest Timber

A Salem firm which owns a sawmill at Chemult Thursday purchased two tracts of Umpqua National Forest timber in the Diamond Lake Ranger District.

The firm, Coddington and Fournier, paid $89,897.50 for the timber, which was appraised at $54,369.50.

Douglas fir appraised at $5.45 a thousand went for $11.45 in the larger of the tracts, one of 6,250,000 board feet located about 74 miles east of Roseburg.

The low appraisal was made necessary by a great amount of road building to be done. The company paid $56,437.50 for the timber, which was appraised at $29,437.50.

Douglas fir in the area of 121 acres totals 4,500,000 feet. The purchaser paid the appraised prices of $8.25 a thousand for 250,000 feet of pine; $1.90 a thousand for 500,000 feet of Shasta red and noble fir; and $1.90 a thousand for a million feet of other species. Other timber were H. A. Briggs and Sons Logging Co., Roseburg; Loren L. Palmerton, Klamath Falls, and Paul B. Hult Lumber Co., Dillard.

The second tract, located about 65 miles east of Roseburg on 39 acres, contains 1,720,000 board feet appraised at $24,332. The company paid $33,460, bidding $29.30 for Douglas fir and pine appraised at $15.10 and the appraised price of $2.10 for white fir and other species. Briggs, Palmerton, Hult and J. R. Standley and Sons Logging Co., Roseburg, were other bidders.

Light Vote Forecast On Marketing Controls

WASHINGTON (AP) — Farm official forecast a very light but favorable vote in Friday's farmer referendum on production and marketing controls for the 1959 wheat crop.

Agriculture Department officials said that between 900,000 and a million growers were eligible to vote. But they expected fewer than a fourth to vote.

The marketing quotas have been in effect on five consecutive crops. They are designed to limit production and sales when surpluses exist.

Results of the voting were expected to be known by midnight.

Thunderstorms were widespread in the upper plateau area of the West, the Plains, and the Southeast.

The season's record contained few days of generally placid weather.

Commission Lets Several Highway Project Contracts

PORTLAND (AP) — Delegates called on the Oregon Highway Commission Friday seeking varied improvements. The commission had just settled back after a first-hand look at highways in much of the state and after awarding 13 million dollars in contracts.

The awards, made Thursday afternoon, were on bids opened at Salem on May 29 and on Tuesday of this week. They went, in all cases, to the low bidders as announced at the time of opening.

The biggest of the awards set a record. It was a 2½ million dollar contract to Morrison-Knudsen Co., Boise, for grading 3.21 miles of the Oregon Coast Highway in Curry County. It is a mountainous region and requires excavation of 4½ million cubic yards of earth.

Never before has the commission paid so much for a grading job.

The commission chairman, Milo McIver, said the next meeting will be in Salem July 31-Aug. 1 and this may inaugurate a policy of meetings in the capital. If contractors and others do not object, Portland meetings may be discontinued, he said.

The commission, prior to its Thursday meeting, had made an inspection tour of Western, Central and Southern Oregon.
