Pale yellow, green and white were the colors carried out in the very beautiful wedding Saturday, June 14, at Faith Lutheran Church, when Miss Clayre Louise Carter, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. E. W. Carter of Roseburg, became the bride of Stephen Louie Danchok, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Danchok, of Winston. Pastor Lester Olson performed the impressive double ring ceremony at 8 p.m. in the presence of 140 guests. The bride and bridegroom exchanged their vows from memory.

Tall baskets of majestic daisies and Madonna lilies and floor candelabra holding tall white tapers decorated the altar. The aisle pews were marked with white satin bows centered by Madonna lilies and the church windows were centered by white tapers with satin bows. The altar and window candles were lit by Miss Marilyn Springer and Dottie Quinn, who wore princess taffeta dresses in Danchok chose a blue lace and chiffon gown with white accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds.

A reception followed in the church parlors. The bride's table was covered by a yellow foundation with a white nylon net overskirt caught up with satin bows and yellow flowers. The tiered wedding cake was decorated with tiny yellow flowers and pale green leaves and topped by wedding bells. Yellow daisies encircled the cake.

Mrs. Harvey Kring served the wedding cake and Mrs. Richard Turley served the punch. Mrs. Kenneth Ford poured the coffee and Mrs. Donald Crume had charge of the guest book with Marilyn Springer and Dottie Quinn in charge of the gifts.

Coming from out-of-town for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Zomar, grandparents of the bridegroom, Abbotsford, Canada; Mr. and Mrs. Steve Danchok and family (uncle and aunt of the bridegroom), Rainier, Ore.; Dr. and Mrs. Earle P. Delaney, Salem; Miss Orrel Osterman, McMinnville; Miss Nancy Engle, Victor Smith, Mrs. William Baker and daughter, Nancy, Portland; Miss Marjorie Weatherly, Scottsburg; Miss Helen Simon, Hood River; Miss Dorothy Quinn, Madras and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Churchill, Corvallis.

For traveling the bride wore an aqua suit with white organza bow at the neck, white accessories and a white orchid corsage. Following a honeymoon to Victoria, B.C. the bride will spend five weeks attending Oregon State College summer school sessions. She will be graduated at the end of the term this summer and will teach in Tigard this fall. She attended both University of Oregon and Oregon State College. Mr. Danchok was graduated from University of Oregon and is now attending University of Oregon Dental School in Portland.

James Jenkins officiating at 4 p.m. in the presence of more than 200 guests. The bride, Carolyn Rae Burr, is the only daughter of Mrs. Frank G. Burr of Roseburg and the late Mr. Burr. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Neubaer of Vancouver, Wash. Both the bride and bridegroom are music teachers. (Picture by Jay of Photo Lab.)

In the presence of more than 200 guests, Miss Carolyn Rae Burr, only daughter of Mrs. Frank G. Burr of Roseburg and the late Mr. Burr, became the bride of Floyd Keith Neubaer, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Neubaer of Vancouver, Wash., Sunday, June 15, at the First Methodist Church. The Rev. H. James Jenkins performed the impressive double ring ceremony at 4 p.m.

Baskets of white gladioli flanked the floor candelabra, which formed an arch in front of the altar. Satin bows, centered by tiny rosebuds marked the aisle pews and graced the church windows.

Eugene Corey of West Linn, close friend of both the bride and bridegroom, played classical selections on the organ as the guests assembled. He played as the wedding procession, "Rhosymedra," based on three Welsh hymn-tunes by Ralph Vaughn-Williams and accompanied Miss Rosalie Reddekopp of Canby, Ore., who sang Grieg's "I Love Thee" and "The Lord's Prayer" by Adolphe Men-delssohn's recessional was played as the bridal party left the altar. Early in the ceremony Dr. Paul G. Trueblood, family friend of the bride, read the selection "On Love" from "The Prophet" by Khalil Gibran. The altar candles were lit by the ushers.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Kenneth G. LaViolette, of Berkeley, Calif., the bride was very beautiful in a white wedding gown of silk, fashioned with short sleeves, a chapel train and lace appliques on the neckline, train and skirt panels. Her antique aquamarine and diamond locket belonged to her grandmother. Her veil of illusion fell from a scalloped crown. She carried a shower bouquet of white stephanotis on a white ribbon.

Mrs. L. M. Baker, Salem, was matron of honor and wore a white taffeta Givency design gown of waist length fashioned with a back panel of red chiffon. The bridesmaids, Miss Joanne Freeman and Miss Susan Trueblood, both of Salem, wore matching gowns of Givency design in red taffeta with full-length panels at the back of white chiffon. They carried cascade arrangements of white gladioli with red accents of red rosebuds and topped by white wedding bells. Background music during the reception was played by B. Floyd Rife.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Burr chose a periwinkle blue lace dress with white accessories. Her corsage was of red and white carnations. The bridegroom's mother wore a blue lace dress with pink accessories and a corsage of pink blossoms.

Mrs. Paul G. Trueblood, Mrs. Chester Hercher and Mrs. Walter Hercher served the wedding cake. Mrs. Lawrence Hercher poured coffee and Mrs. A. B. Taylor and Mrs. R. Lloyd Rife served the punch. The guest book was in charge of Mrs. Bradley Wood of Portland and Mrs. W.E. (Terry) Hercher and Mrs. Robert Hercher assisted about the rooms. Glenda and Eileen Roberts, young daughters of the bride's cousin, served the bridegroom's cake.

Out-of-town guests coming for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Neubaer, and his aunt, Miss Lydia Neubaer; Henry Mazda of Vancouver, Wash.; Fred Tidland, Washougal, Wash.; Gerald Darby of Stayton, Ore.; Dr. and Mrs. Paul G. Trueblood and daughter, Susan; Mrs. L. M. Baker, Miss Joanne and Miss Eleanor Freeman, Mr. and Mrs. Tal Geller, Salem; Rosalie Reddekopp, Canby; Eugene Corey, West Linn; Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Wood, Portland; Mr. and Mrs. W. E. (Terry) Hercher, Medford, and Mrs. M. Hill, paternal aunt of the bride, and her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hill and Karen, all of Woodburn, Ore.

For traveling the bride chose a coral chemise with navy and white accessories and a corsage of stephanotis. Following a honeymoon to the coast, Mr. and Mrs. Neubaer will be at home to friends for the Sept. 7 is the date set for the wedding, which will take place at Tri City Presbyterian Church. Miss Palo was graduated in 1955 from Myrtle Creek High School and is now a senior at Oregon State College. She is a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority and will be graduated in December. She is majoring in business and technology. Her fiancé was graduated in June in business and technology.

THE FEATURE PAGE'S four couples appearing today chose Roseburg to retire in and residents here hope they will find this community everything they desire. Just being around these fine retired couples makes a person see the brighter side of life.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN N. HANLEY SR. have purchased a home at 845 W. Nebo, where they have been enjoying landscaping their garden. They are former residents of Butte, Mont., where Mr. Hanley worked more than 25 years for the Anaconda Copper Co. and since retiring he says he is really enjoying life with gardening his chief hobby. The Hanleys are proud parents of 12 children, 11 of whom are living. They have two sons, Leo and Jack, in Roseburg. They have 25 grandchildren and expect to become grandparents three more times this year. All 11 of their children are married. One could write a book, and a very good one too, on the John Hanley family.

MR. AND MRS. E. L. MILLER came from Cody, Wyo., where Mr. Miller was supervisor of the Shoshone National Forest for 34 years. They have purchased a new home at 158 W. Hazel Street and have started landscaping the grounds. They became so enthused over gardening, that they have since purchased the lot behind their home and have started planting there. They have met numerous people here and already claim to feel right at home. After Mr. Miller's retirement from the forest service in 1953, he spent several years with the Fish and Game Commission of Wyoming. They moved to Roseburg in January of this year.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN O. JERTSON came to Roseburg from Detroit, Mich., and prior to that were residents of Minneapolis, Minn. Mr. Jertson has been an insurance adjuster for the American Insurance Co. of New Jersey. He retired in January 1957. The Jertsons have two daughters, Mrs. O. R. Petersen, Roseburg, and Mrs. L. C. Varne of Des Moines, Iowa. They have four grandchildren, Orval and Richard Petersen, Roseburg, and Kay and Diane Varne, Des Moines. They have purchased a new home at 1656 Beaumont, in Hucrest. They both claim to like Oregon and are glad to have chosen Roseburg for retirement. Mr. Jertson has been called upon a number of times by his company for his services since retiring. While in Roseburg, he spends his spare time assisting his son-in-law, O. R. Petersen, at Park-N-Shop.

MR. AND MRS. H. L. DAUGHERTY lived 23 years in Lincoln, Neb., and the last 24 years in Corvallis, where for 21 years, Mr. Daugherty was in charge of the equipment for the athletic department of Oregon State College. Only because of his health, did he leave Corvallis and his much loved Oregon State College. However, both he and Mrs. Daugherty report they like their new home at 659 Union Avenue, and are enjoying meeting new friends. They have one daughter, Mrs. H. L. Bailey of Roseburg, three grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

THE ROBINSON-HUMPHREYS wedding party is pictured above following the marriage Sunday, June 15, of Sandra Lee Humphreys, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Humphreys of Roseburg, Pale blue and white gladioli and carnations formed the floor baskets decorating the altar of the First Christian Church Sunday, June 15, when Sandra Lee Humphreys, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Humphreys of Roseburg, became the bride of John William Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Robinson and the late Mr. Robinson of San Francisco. Candelabra holding tall white candles flanked the baskets of flowers at the altar. Rev. Newell Morgan, pastor of the church, performed the impressive double ring ceremony at 4 p.m. in the presence of 100 guests. The aisle pews were marked by satin bows centered by Madonna lilies. The altar candles were lit by Nancy Baker and Nancy Coleman, both wearing pale yellow gowns.

Mrs. Frank Poole, organist, played the traditional wedding marches and accompanied Gene Horn, who sang, "Bless This House," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was beautiful in a wall-length gown of embroidered polished cotton fashioned princess style. Her pearl necklace and earrings were gifts from the bridegroom. Her veil of illusion fell from a crown of silk trimmed with elusters of lily of the valley at each side. The veil had previously been worn by her sister, Mrs. Donald Josh, at her wedding. She carried a bouquet of white rosebuds.

Mrs. Donald Josh of Roseburg was matron of honor for her sister and Miss Estelle MacGregor, Miss Nancy Hibbard of Portland, and Miss Nancy Engle of Salem, were bridesmaids and wore princess gowns of waist-length in pale blue polished cotton. Their headbands were of matching blue and they carried pale yellow Esther Reed nosegays. Miss Kathy Bacon of Roseburg was flower girl and was dressed in a pale blue gown and carried a white basket filled with pale blue carnations.

Fred Meikle of Vancouver, Wash. was best man and Richard Wheatley, James Holbrook and Walt Hardy, all of Portland, were ushers.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Humphreys wore a dusky blue lace dress with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations and pink rosebuds. The bridegroom's mother chose a pink linen dress with white accessories and a white carnation and pink rosebud corsage.

A reception followed in the church parlors. Bouquets of Esther and John William Robinson of Portland, son of Mr. Percy Robinson and the late Mr. Robinson of San Francisco. The Rev. Newell Morgan performed the impressive double ring ceremony at 4 p.m. in the presence of 100 guests. Mr. and Mrs. Robinson will reside in Eugene. (Picture by Chris of Photo Lab.)

Mrs. Marie Robinson, San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. William Humphreys and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Graves and Christine and Francis, of Dunsmuir, Calif.

The bride is a member of pioneer Oregon families on both her mother's and father's side. She was graduated from Roseburg High School and is a senior at University of Oregon, where she is majoring in elementary education. The bridegroom was graduated from Jefferson High School in Portland and from Oregon College of Education. For the coming school year, he will be dean of boys at Parkrose Junior High School. He will receive his master's degree in education in August. Mr. and Mrs. Robinson will make their home in Eugene.
