Mrs. Edith Barker of Salem, at the First Assembly of God Church at 8 p.m. June 14. The impressive ceremony was performed by the Rev. C. O. Ross by candlelight in the presence of 150 guests. An old-fashioned flower garden with picket fence and arch formed the church decorations. Ivy covered candelabra holding tall white tapers flanked the archway. (Picture by Koop's Modern Photography).

Preceding the ceremony, Miss Georgina Ward played a group of the bride's favorite classical selections. She also played the traditional wedding music and accompanied William House who sang, "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life" and Mrs. William Harbage as she sang, "The Wedding Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, was lovely in a floor-length gown of slipper satin with fitted bodice and long sleeves ending in points at the wrists. The sweetheart neckline formed a lovely frame for the beautiful two-strand pearl necklace, a gift from the bridegroom. The full skirt ended in a long sweeping train. Her fingertip veil fell from a satin cap embroidered in seed pearls. She carried a white Bible which was topped by a white orchid with a yellow throat.

Miss Sharon Allen was maid of honor. She wore a ballerina-length dress of pastel yellow with matching headpiece trimmed in seed pearls and carried a nosegay of roses attractively arranged on a background of netting in the identical shade of the dress. Bridesmaids were Miss Mary Weber, Miss June Melish and Miss Jeri McLish. They were attired in ballerina-length dresses in pastel shades of green, pink, and blue. Their headpieces and nosegays were identical in style as those worn by the maid of honor. Each attendant wore a single strand of pearls, gifts of the bride.

Warren Barker, brother of the bridegroom, acted as best man. Ushering duties were performed by Marian Barker, brother of the bridegroom; Wally Park and Milton Boyer.

Bob Fister and Terry Sumner lighted the candles.

Pretty little Janet Jo Nichols was flower girl. Her ballerina-length dress was of orchid nylon. She carried a satin covered basket with orchid bouquet.

Master Michael House was ring bearer and carried a satin pillow. He and Janet walked arm in arm down the aisle preceded by the bride.

The bride's mother chose an attractive apricot colored suit for her daughter's wedding. She wore accessories of black and a white carnation corsage.

The bridegroom's mother was attired in a beautiful dress of pastel blue lace with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

A reception followed the ceremony. The serving table was covered in lace over green taffeta and was centered with a beautiful tiered wedding cake decorated in pink and white and topped by a miniature bride and bridegroom. The cake was flanked by tall white tapers. Beautiful bouquets of flowers were placed about the room. Mrs. Bart Salmon, aunt of the bride, cut and served the cake, assisted by Mrs. Raymond Youman, sister of the bridegroom. Miss Ruth Plummer and Miss Naomi Weber poured and served the coffee. Miss Nancy Walker presided at the punch bowl and Mrs. Ronald Herman, Mrs. Richard Cross and Mrs. Mary Allen, sisters of the bride, were in charge of the gift table.

For traveling, the bride chose a two-piece turquoise dress with white accessories, a white orchid gracing her shoulder.

Following a honeymoon which took them to Crater Lake and the Rogue River Valley, the young couple now reside in Mt. Hood where the bridegroom is employed as a surveyor for the U.S. government.

Out-of-town guests coming for the wedding included Mrs. Edith Barker and children; Mr. and Mrs. Warren Barker and daughter, Kathy; and the Rev. and Mrs. Glyn Hilgoss and their twin sons and daughter, Dorcas.

ENGAGED — Mrs. Bertha L. Blackett of Myrtle Creek announces the engagement of her daughter, Betty Gaye, to Don Harpe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hanson of Roseburg. The bride-elect, daughter of W. A. Blackett of Myrtle Creek, was graduated from Myrtle Creek High School. Her fiancé was graduated from Roseburg High School and attended Oregon State College. No date has been set for the wedding.
