THE GAY BLUE BIRDS and their parents gathered at the home of the leader, Mrs. Clifford Bryden, at 1058 SE Kane Street, to mark two events for the group. It was the fly-up ceremony for the Blue Birds into Camp Fire and the second event, a display of community projects, represented a great amount of work as well as pride for the girls accomplished the sharing of their work with their

Each girl lighted a candle and gave one of the Blue Bird wishes. Carol Todd, Sue Johnson, Carol McKee and Ramon Todd, Camp Fire girls from Mrs. D. E. DeBarnardi's group, gave the call of the Campfire and instructed the girls in the handsign and gave the Camp Fire desire.

Mrs. Bryden presented a Camp Fire pin to each girl. She has been their leader for three years and plans to continue as their Camp Fire guardian. Mrs. Gladys Amundson, executive director of Camp Fire in Douglas County, welcomed the girls into Camp Fire and discussed the program outlined for the year. She also presented the opportunity for the girls to pass an honor and receive a head. A beautiful gift was presented by the group to Mrs. Bryden.

The girls displayed stuffed monkeys made of stockings and presented them to Mrs. Harry Sanislo, representative of Umpqua Lion's Auxiliary, and Mrs. Spahr Sullivan, director of nurses, Douglas Community Hospital. The material for the monkeys was furnished by the auxiliary and the completed project will be presented to the Community Hospital.

Refreshments were served later. Mrs. Ralph Ohman presided at the punch bowl.
