Lighting-Set Fires Scourge Eastern Oregon

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Lightning - set fires burned across Eastern Oregon range land Sunday night as thunderstorms followed the state's holiday heat wave. One fire still burned out of control Monday.

About 12,000 acres of grassland burned Sunday night in the northern part of the Vale grazing district. John Hunt, state fire control officer for the Bureau of Land Management, said that six of the seven lightning blazes were under control.

Firefighters were still being recruited to combat the seventh fire, which had burned 600 acres in the Huntington area. Several wheat fields burned Sunday night, and Hunt said there was danger still more farms might be hit.

About 500 men, including Mexican nationals from the Nyssa Agricultural Camp, local ranchers and BLM crews, were on fire lines Monday morning. More Trouble Expected Hunt said the humidity is low and the fire crews were anticipating more trouble later Monday from new thunderstorms. Fire crews have been alerted in the Burns and Baker grazing districts, which escaped lightning strikes in Sunday's storm.

Some lightning strikes were reported in national forest areas, said U.S. Forest Service officials, but there were no major fires. Smokejumpers were flown into the Applegate area of the Rogue River Valley this morning to extinguish one blaze. Most of the Southern Oregon jumpers were flown to fires in the Mt. Baker area of Washington.

Prizes will be awarded for the oldest man and woman; oldest married couple; youngest married couple; youngest baby; largest family living together under one roof, and for the family coming the most distance to attend the picnic.

Games and races have been planned. Entertainment will be furnished.

Missing Ransom Money Slated For Inquiry
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Rackets Committee is turning its spotlight on a $300,000 mystery — that of the missing Greenleaf ransom money.

Committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy has confirmed a press report that a number of St. Louisans who figured in the sensational kidnap - murder case during its missing money phase have been subpoenaed to appear before the committee.

The $300,000 is part of $600,000 that six-year-old Bobby Greenleaf's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Greenleaf of Kansas City, paid kidnapers Carl Austin Hall and Bonnie Brown Heady in 1953. The other half was recovered. Hall and Mrs. Heady died together in Missouri's gas chamber Dec. 18, 1953.

Courses will be on furniture repair and refinishing, care of heating systems and temperature controls, and hardware maintenance. There will be no cost for taking the courses.

Oregon Timber Taxing System Now In Hearing

SALEM (AP) — The state Tax Commission opened its series of hearings Monday in the timber tax assessment controversy.

The commission heard Emil Larkin, chairman of the Benton County Board of Equalization, explain that his county reduced the state Tax Commission timber valuations by 33 per cent because the board felt that the Tax Commission valuations were unrealistic.

Larkin said that an analysis of timber sales in the Siuslaw National Forest indicated that the Tax Commission values were too high.

Industrial Heads Have High Praise For Goldfine

LEBANON, N.H. (AP) — Bernard Goldfine, millionaire industrialist, means more to this community that vicuna coats or oriental rugs.

His two local mills represent a million dollar annual payroll.

"Mr. Goldfine has been a big asset to Lebanon and to the area," is the way Joseph B. Perley puts it. "Uncle Joe" has been connected with Lebanon's civil government more than a quarter of a century.

Referring to the Washington inquiry into Goldfine's gifts to presidential assistant Sherman Adams and others, Perley commented: "This situation is no different than has happened to congressmen."

"It is better to have business and keep people working rather than to have heavy taxes. I think that people should be thanking God they have a man like him (Goldfine) instead of criticizing him."

Goldfine's Lebanon and Lebanon woolen mills employ more than 250 persons and have operated on a three-shift basis the past 12 years.

Thomas Williams, international representative of the Textile Workers Union of America, said the mills "are the backbone of Lebanon."

Gov. Lane Dwinell (R), whose home town is Lebanon, said in a press conference at Concord that Goldfine had "done more for New Hampshire than New Hampshire has done for him."

The governor said the industrialist "has made no requests for any kind of help, either personally or for his business."

Dwinell said he has accepted Christmas gifts and a $500 political contribution from Goldfine.

Khrushchev Gets Chilly Welcome In E. Germany

BERLIN (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev arrived on a visit to East Berlin Tuesday and called for a harder fight against plans of West Germany to equip its army with nuclear and rocket weapons.

With a grim, brooding look, the Soviet premier stood bareheaded before the East German railroad station at a welcoming ceremony. He declared Communist East Germany must take the lead "in the battle against equipping of the Bundeswehr with atom and rocket weapons."

East Germany, he said, was steadily gaining in international prestige. Khrushchev heads a six-man delegation from Moscow to the East German Communist Party congress, it opens Thursday and continues to July 16.

Chilly Welcome Given
He received a cool welcome. East German officials, and organized delegations were on hand to cheer. But there was only scattered handclapping from others in the crowd.

During his stay here he is expected to give the East German party bosses the latest Kremlin line.

Khrushchev probably also will unleash a new attack on Yugoslav President Tito for refusing to accept Moscow's dictation.

The East German regime in turn was reported looking to Khrushchev for advice on facing the international flurry whipped up by the prolonged imprisonment of nine U. S. Army men who strayed behind the iron curtain in a helicopter June 7.

Five Juveniles Make Shambles Of Garage

NEW YORK (AP) — Five boys, the oldest 15, were accused today of causing $25,000 worth of damage in a three - day rampage of vandalism at a garage on Manhattan's West Side.

Police said the teen-agers broke into the Clark Equipment Co. garage on Independence Day and, using powerful fork lifts as battering rams, spread devastation among five panel trucks, two automobiles and 31 of the cargo loaders.

Again and again, they rammed the loaders into each other, their two - pronged forks ripping apart every obstacle.

They had so much fun, police said, they returned to the garage the next two days.

All five were picked up and juvenile delinquency charges and released in their parents' custody for children's court appearances.

Railroad Labor Not Favorable To Merger Plan

NEW YORK (AP) — Railroad labor indicated little enthusiasm Monday for Teamster Union President James R. Hoffa's proposal to weld all transportation unions into a solid front, the New York Times said Tuesday.

The Times gave his picture of reaction to the proposal: Guy L. Brown, grand chief engineer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, prepared a personal message to the 70,000 members of his union disapproving the project.

Brown, who was in Cleveland, said in the message: "I would fear for a combination of that kind. I firmly believe that if this plan for organizing all the transport unions into one large group is adopted, the organization might become so powerful that it could result in the destruction of the nation."

Other rail union chiefs deferred formal comment pending an official invitation to join the Conference on Transportation Unit, proposed by Hoffa.

How officials of several major groups said they saw no beneficial purpose for the proposed new alliance. They expressed fear that it might become a rival to the AFL-CIO or to the Railroad Labor Executives Assn.

Steamboat Fishy Plan Opposition Being Heard

ry Wright, Bradley Flat, Edward and Gordon Kenney, Roseburg; Mrs. Mabel McMillan, Idley; and his brother, James, a Roseburg city councilman.

Chamber Makes Request
After the hearing on the fish ladder was held locally, the Roseburg Chamber of Commerce sent a letter to the commission asking that the structure "harmonize with the landscape" and that the commission use "every possible precaution to protect the scenery during construction" and to allow no construction activity on the wooded southerly bank of the stream.

A letter from P. W. Scheider, commission director, stated that to harmonize as much as possible with the surrounding land and vegetative cover.

Knudtson issued this statement about his committee's aims:

Appeals To Governor
The members of the Save Steamboat Falls Committee, ask that the construction of a fish ladder or swimway which will destroy Steamboat Falls, be halted until a true and adequate expression of public opinion on the matter can be secured through public hearings with individuals and organizations interested in this project — particularly those other than fish conservationists.

To this end we enlist and request support of our appeal to Gov. Holmes that he intercede in our behalf in this regard with the Oregon Game Commission.
